Winter 2017

Course Code: Psychology 257R Course Title: Psychopathology

Instructor: Dr. Rick Coupland, PhD, CPsych

Email: via LEARN

Class Times/Location: Tuesday, 6:30 - 9:30pm in REN 2107.

Office Hours: by appointment

Course Description: Students will learn about various psychological disorders, including mood and anxiety disorders, disorders of childhood and adolescence, neurocognitive disorders, psychotic disorders, sexual and gender identity disorders, and more. Theoretical, research, and conceptual issues will be examined. Students will be introduced to issues relating to diagnosis and treatment. Lectures will be supplemented by videos, exposure to various mental health professionals, and case examples.

Prerequisite: Psych 120 & 121R or Psych 101 Antirequisite: Psych 323R If you have a similar transfer credit from another university, please check to make sure that both credits will be allowed.

Text: Dozois, D. (2015). Abnormal Psychology: Perspectives, DSM-5 Update edition (5th edition). Toronto: Pearson.

This text is available in hardcover and softcover formats. Please purchase whichever format you prefer.

***Please ensure you only purchase the DSM-5 Update edition of the  $5^{th}$  ed. published in 2014/15 and not the 2012 version of the  $5^{th}$  ed.***

Course Objectives: To develop knowledge about psychopathology in general, as well as the assessment, treatment, and etiology of major psychological disorders.

Learning Outcomes:

- 1. Develop an understanding of the features, etiology, and treatment of a wide range of mental disorders.
- 2. Develop an awareness of ethical and professional issues related to the assessment and treatment of people with psychological disorders.
- 3. Develop an awareness of gender and cultural issues in psychopathology.

- 4. Be exposed to material that will assist in determining if one is interested in pursuing a profession that involves working with people with psychological disorders.
- 5. Identify and challenge stereotypes of people with psychological disorders.

Class format: There are two sources of material for the course: the textbook and the lectures. The lectures will focus on specific topics and are not meant to provide coverage of all material in the text. Lectures will elaborate and build upon the text material. It is recommended that you attend the lectures and complete the readings beforehand. Lectures often include video clips that illustrate key features of psychological disorders. Guest speakers and lecturers from various mental health disciplines will also be attend specific lectures (see schedule for details).

Evaluation: Tests (midterm and final) are comprised predominantly of multiple choice questions with a few short answer questions. Note: the tests will cover lecture material (including videos shown during class and material covered by guest speakers), as well as assigned textbook readings.

Final Exam will be scheduled by the Registrar during the April exam period. The Final Exam is non-cumulative and will cover only chapters 6, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 19

Grade distribution:

Midterm: 50% Final Exam: 50%

Bonus SONA Marks: (up to 4%)

Final Examination Policy

For Winter 2017, the established examination period is April 7-25, 2017. The schedule will be available in late February. Students should be aware that student travel plans are not acceptable grounds for granting an alternative final examination time (see: https://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/final-examinations)

Accommodation for Illness or Unforeseen Circumstances:

The instructor follows the practices of the University of Waterloo in accommodating students who have documented reasons for missing quizzes or exams. See http://www.registrar.uwaterloo.ca/students/accom illness.html

Academic Integrity:

In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo community are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage (https://uwaterloo.ca/academic-integrity/) and the https://uwaterloo.ca/arts/current-undergraduates/student-support/ethical-behaviour) for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for their own actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about "rules" for group work/collaboration, should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or Administrative Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties are imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offences and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties (https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/guidelines/guidelines-assessment-penalties).

Students should also be aware that copyright laws in Canada prohibit reproducing more than 10% of any work without permission from its author, publisher, or other copyright holder. Waterloo's policy on Fair Dealing is available here: https://uwaterloo.ca/copyright-guidelines/fair-dealing-advisory Violation of Canada's Copyright Act is a punishable academic offence under Policy 71 – Student Discipline.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4 (https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-70). When in doubt please be certain to contact the department's administrative assistant, who will provide further assistance.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70, Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71, Student Discipline may be appealed if there are grounds. Students who believe they have grounds for an appeal should refer to Policy 72, Student Appeals (https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-72).

Accommodation for Students with Disabilities:

Note for Students with Disabilities: The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (NH 1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities, without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AAS office at the beginning of each academic term.

Intellectual Property. Students should be aware that this course contains the intellectual property of the instructor, which can include:

• lecture handouts and presentations (e.g., PowerPoint slides)

- lecture content, both spoken and written (and any audio or video recording thereof)
- questions from various types of assessments (e.g., assignments, quizzes, tests, final exams)
- work protected by copyright (i.e., any work authored by the instructor)

Making available the intellectual property of instructors without their express written consent (e.g., uploading lecture notes or assignments to an online repository) is considered theft of intellectual property and subject to disciplinary sanctions as described in Policy 71 – Student Discipline. Students who become aware of the availability of what may be their instructor's intellectual property in online repositories are encouraged to alert the instructor.

A respectful living and learning environment for all

- 1. It is expected that everyone living, learning or working on the premises of Renison University College will contribute to an environment of tolerance and respect by treating others with sensitivity and civility.
- 2. Harassment is unwanted attention in the form of jokes, insults, gestures, gossip, or other behaviours that are meant to intimidate. Some instances of harassment are against the law in addition to Renison University College policy.
- 3. Discrimination is treating people differently because of their race, disability, sex, sexual orientation, ancestry, colour, age, creed, marital status, or other personal characteristics. The Ontario Human Rights Code considers actions and behaviours rather than intentions.
- 4. If you experience or witness either harassment or discrimination, you may contact the Renison University College Interim Harassment and Discrimination Officer at megan.collings-moore@uwaterloo.ca (519-884-4404, ext. 28604).

Cross-listed course:

Please note that a cross-listed course will count in all respective averages no matter under which rubric it has been taken. For example, a PHIL/PSCI cross-list will count in a Philosophy major average, even if the course was taken under the Political Science rubric.
