

CREATIVE WRITING AT AUP SUMMER SCHOOL

Every summer, AUP welcomes writers from all over the world to study a selection of creative writing courses:

- The Poetic Experience: A Writing Workshop
- Creative Nonfiction: Crafting Personal Narratives
- Fiction Writing Workshop

Visiting students enrolled in the Summer Creative Writing Institute select a single writing workshop to enroll in. The three creative writing workshops are designed to help students to read their own work objectively, develop a critical vocabulary, and work deeply on issues of craft. Workshops meet three and a half hours per day, four days a week, allowing three-day weekends for writing, travel, and tourism. One evening per week, students will attend readings and question-and-answer sessions with inspiring authors. The event evenings also unite the full group of creative writing students to enjoy informal discussion and refreshments.

This year we are pleased to offer three competitive travel stipends of up to €500 each to outstanding Creative Writing Institute students. All students who wish to be considered for the travel stipends must submit their applications by March 31, 2023. Winners will be announced in early May!
