This video from the Office of Academic Integrity will show you how to access the Graduate Academic Integrity Module, or Graduate AIM, through the Waterloo LEARN system.
To begin, open up a web browser and type http://uwaterloo.ca/learn into your address bar.
This will take you to a sign-in page. Enter your WatIAM user name and password, and click LOGIN.
This is your LEARN homepage. If you are not familiar with the Waterloo LEARN system, take some time to explore its features.
When you are ready to access the Graduate AIM, scroll down to “Courses and Communities” and click on Graduate Academic Integrity Module.

The title of the course will differ slightly depending on what graduate degree you are pursuing.
This is the Graduate AIM homepage. To make sure that your computer and browser are compatible with LEARN, click “Check Your System.”
For an introduction to the Waterloo LEARN system, click “Intro to LEARN.”
To view the course syllabus, including Table of Contents and Grade Breakdown, click “Syllabus.”
To contact the course instructor about the Graduate AIM, or to contact the Centre for Extended Learning for technical support, click “Contact Us.”
Now that you are familiar with these features, you are ready to view the course content. Click on “Course Materials” in the toolbar, and select “Content” from the dropdown menu. Alternatively, click “Syllabus.”
This is the Graduate AIM tutorial. There are seven sections (syllabus, pre-training, introduction, credit, collaboration, honesty, and policies and resources). Each section has one or more topics attached to it. There are 13 topics in total. You must read through all 13 topics.
When you are finished a topic, a grey checkmark will appear next to it. Unfinished topics have a grey dot next to them.

When you finish a section, a green checkmark appears. There is also a progress bar to show you how many topics you have completed.
All topics have tools to help you make note of important information.

Each topic can be bookmarked, opened in a new window, printed out, and downloaded.

You can also use the Previous and Next buttons to navigate between topics and sections, or retrace your steps.
The Graduate AIM quiz will focus on the Credit, Collaboration, Honesty, and Policies and Resources sections. Let’s look at what one of these sections contains.
Each of those four sections starts by outlining learning outcomes and posing questions that the tutorial content will then answer.
Videos are the biggest pieces in the Graduate AIM. You can play them in LEARN or on YouTube.

If you cannot or do not want to play the videos, click the Slides and Transcript versions instead.
This section has three tabs. Make sure you read all three. Click on the blue links to view more information. When you are finished with a section, use the Previous and Next buttons to navigate to a new section, or retrace your steps.
When you have completed all of the sections and fully understood all of the material, you are ready to take the quiz.

To access the quiz, click Assessments in the toolbar and select “Quizzes.” For more information on the quiz, return to the Grade Breakdown topic or visit the Office of Academic Integrity’s website.
Thank you for watching this video on how to access the Graduate Academic Integrity Module.

Integrity lives at Waterloo.