Introduction

UW’s Academic Leadership Program has been in existence for over fifteen years. The Program provides education, support, and mentorship for faculty members in positions of academic leadership at the University of Waterloo. Until 2015, the Program was designed to meet the needs of Academic Chairs and Directors; as of the 2015/16 academic year, the Program was expanded to include Associate Chairs/Directors and Associate Deans.

Formal aspects of the Program include Orientation sessions for individuals new to these positions, half-day workshops on various topics of interest, and lunches featuring guest speakers (workshops and lunches are intended for all faculty in positions of academic leadership, not just those who are new to the role). For most of these sessions, emphasis is placed on open debate and discussion, peer learning, networking, building of faculty and staff relationships across campus, and practical examples drawing on the experiences of participants. Informally, the Program offers one-on-one support to individuals with particular concerns through confidential consultations or meetings with the Program Director.

The Program runs under the auspices of the Associate Vice-President Academic’s office; assistance is provided by Organizational and Human Development. The Program Director is a tenured UW faculty member. An Academic Leadership Program Advisory Committee, made up of faculty representatives from each of the six UW Faculties, provides support and advice to the Director.
The UW Work Environment

The Basic Principles

1. Focus on the situation, issue, or behaviour, not on the person.

2. Maintain the self-confidence and self-esteem of others.

3. Maintain constructive relationships.

4. Take initiative to make things better.

5. Lead by example.

6. Think beyond the moment.

Principles of Inclusivity

1. Acknowledge individuals have unique and particular needs in the learning and work environment.

2. Respect each individual’s right to express and present themselves relative to their religion, culture, ethnic background, sexual orientation, gender-identity, physical and mental ability.

3. Promote inclusivity by reasonably adjusting procedures, activities and physical environments.

4. Focus on the capability of the individual without assumptions or labels.

5. Be inclusive in all forms of communication.

6. Serve all with sensitivity, respect, and fairness.
Resources for Chairs

Academic Leadership Program Home Page

This is the online UW resource dedicated specifically to the interests of people in positions of academic leadership such as Chairs/Directors, Associate Chairs, and Associate Deans. It contains information about the Academic Leadership Program and provides links to various documents and websites of interest.

Materials from the current ALP Orientation sessions, Forum Lunches, and Workshops are mounted on the Home Page. In general, the site does not archive older presentations or materials unless there is a specific reason to keep an earlier version (e.g., a particular topic has not been offered since, and the material included is still accurate and relevant). Other than ALP materials, links included on the Home Page include the following: institutional information, such as academic org charts and Faculty-specific information; various documents, such as the Memorandum of Agreement and the University Strategic Plan; legislation and policies; and resources relevant to academic leadership, such as a bibliography of publications on the subject.

The Chairs’ Handbook

The ALP Home Page also has a link to the most up-to-date e-version of the UW Handbook for Academic Chairs and Directors. Chairs and Directors may wish to check on a regular basis for updates, though normally any significant updates will be signalled to the Chairs/Directors community via an e-mail.

People to ask

The best resource for most of us is other people: individuals who have experienced the jobs we are trying to do and those whose mandate is the oversight and implementation of policies, legislation, and procedures in various areas where Chairs also have some accountability. Appendix 1 has a list of contact names and information for the offices and units across campus. In addition to these individuals, Chairs and Directors are encouraged regularly to ask their Deans; their Associate Deans; other Chairs/Directors; their Faculty Executive Officers; their administrative assistants; Human Resources; the Secretariat; the Faculty Association; the representatives of non-academic support units (subject matter experts, or ‘SME’s’); and myself.

See also the Bibliography included in this document.
University Governance

Board of Governors

From the University of Waterloo Act (1972):

The government of the University and the control of its property and revenues, the conduct of its business and affairs, save with respect to such matters as are assigned by this Act to the Senate, shall be vested in the Board of Governors and the Board of Governors shall have all powers necessary or convenient to perform its duties and to achieve the objects of the University, and without intending to restrict the generality of the foregoing, this shall include the power,

- to appoint, promote and remove the President and all other officers of the University, heads and associate heads of the faculties, or of any other academic unit, the members of faculty, or staff of the University, and all other agents and servants of the University;
- to grant tenure to members of faculty, and to terminate tenure;
- to plan and implement the physical and operational development of the University and to exercise all the powers to control and achieve a planned rate and scope of such development;
- to borrow money for the purpose of the University and to give security therefor on such terms and in such amounts as the said Board of Governors may consider advisable, or as from time to time may be required;
- to regulate the conduct of the students, faculty and staff, and of all other persons coming upon and using the lands and premises of the University;
- to establish and collect fees and charges for academic tuition and for services of any kind which may be offered by the University and to collect such fees and charges, approved by the Board of Governors, on behalf of any entity, organization, or element of the University;
- to levy and enforce penalties and fines, suspend or expel from student membership or from employment with the University or deny access to the lands and premises of the University;
- to establish and enforce rules and regulations with regard to the use and occupancy of its buildings and grounds or other operations;
- to enter into agreements for the federation or affiliation of the University with any university or college of higher learning;
- to provide for the appointment and discharge of committees and for the delegation to and the conferring upon any such committees, authority to act for the Board of Governors with respect to any matter; and
- to enact by-laws and regulations for the conduct of its affairs.
From the University of Waterloo Act (1972):

The Senate has the power to establish the educational policies of the University and to make recommendations to the Board of Governors with respect to any matter relative to the operation of the University and without restricting the generality of the foregoing, this includes the power,

- to make recommendations to the Board of Governors relative to the creation, establishment, maintenance, modification, or removal of organizational structures such as faculties, schools, institutes, departments or chairs within the University;
- subject to the approval of the Board of Governors, in so far as the expenditure of funds is concerned, to establish, maintain, modify or remove, curricula of all courses of instruction including extension courses;
- to determine policies concerning the qualifications of faculty members within the University with respect to appointments or promotions in rank, or to the granting of tenure, in connection with research or teaching or academic administration;
- to determine standards of admission of students to the University;
- to consider and determine the conduct and results of examinations in all faculties or academic units;
- to hear and determine appeals from the decisions of the faculty councils on applications and examinations by students;
- to confer degrees, diplomas and certificates or other awards in any and all branches of learning and in any subject taught in the University or its federated or affiliated colleges;
- to confer honorary degrees in Divinity, without fees, upon the recommendation of any theological college federated or affiliated with the University;
- to confer honorary degrees in any department of learning;
- to undertake, consider and co-ordinate long-range academic planning;
- to consider and to recommend to the Board of Governors policies concerning the internal allocation or use of University resources;
- to consider and to recommend to the Board of Governors the federation or affiliation of the University with any college for teaching any branch of learning;
- to create councils and committees to exercise its powers;
- to provide, if considered necessary, for an executive committee which shall act in the name and on behalf of the Senate between regular meetings of the Senate; and
- to enact by-laws and regulations for the conduct of its affairs.
The Role of the University Secretariat

The Secretariat is responsible for providing professional support and guidance to University of Waterloo governing bodies, their committees and councils, and to senior University officers on all governance, policy and operational issues which might affect the institution. The Secretariat also plays a significant role in the development, promulgation and interpretation of University of Waterloo policies and procedures, and supports the activities of senior search committees, as well as relations and grievance/appeal committees. The Secretariat is headed by the University Secretary, who maintains a close working relationship with the Chancellor and the Chair of the Board of Governors, as well as the President, Provost and other senior University officers, providing advice, guidance and support with respect to the execution of their responsibilities.

Any member of the University community is welcome to engage the Secretariat on matters within its mandate. The Secretariat offers advice and guidance on: University governance; the interpretation and application of University policies, procedures and guidelines; risk management; access and privacy; records management; and grievance/appeal procedures to ensure that they are congruent with the principles of natural justice. This advice is informed by the expertise of Secretariat staff, and by the office’s stewardship of the University’s corporate memory in the above areas, including past interpretations and decisions on the application of policies, procedures and guidelines, student and employee disciplinary matters, grievances and appeals, and access and privacy issues. The Secretariat offers assistance where it can, which sometimes includes redirecting inquiries to other University offices better placed to provide guidance, or which can provide additional guidance complementing the Secretariat’s advice. Such offices include: AccessAbility Services, Faculty Association, Finance, Police Services, Safety Office, Associate Provost (Students), Human Resources, etc.

Associate University Secretary Alice Raynard (araynard@uwaterloo.ca; x31894), who works closely with the Academic Leadership Program, is the Chairs’ ‘point person’ in the Secretariat: if you do not know whom you should speak with on legal or other matters that fall under the jurisdiction of the Secretariat, please get in touch with Alice for assistance.
The Role of FAUW

The Faculty Association of the University of Waterloo (FAUW) is the official representative of all regular faculty members who hold definite term, probationary, tenured, or continuing appointments. FAUW employs three staff members and is governed by a 13-member Board of Directors, which is elected by members of the Association. Founded in 1957 to represent the interests of faculty members in a wide range of areas that affect them at the University, FAUW has negotiated a Memorandum of Agreement with the University that provides a framework governing all aspects of the relationship between the University and faculty members (negotiating salaries and benefits, negotiating changes in policy and terms of employment, advising and protecting faculty members, etc.).

Academic Chairs and Directors should keep in mind that the Faculty Association is a valuable resource for them. Chairs are also members of FAUW (Deans and up are not; 2.1.2), and thus have the right to be supported, represented, and advised by the Association. This applies to any situation in which a faculty member might find himself or herself in need of FAUW advice and support, including a conflictual situation in which a grievance might be launched against the Chair: under these circumstances, the Chair has the same right to FAUW support as does the grievor.

Message from FAUW: The Faculty Association has a tradition of collegiality and is characterized by its attempts to reach negotiated agreements with the administration. We hope that you will join with us in our attempts to make this a better place by improving our conditions of employment.
Chair Accountabilities

Some of the responsibilities listed below may seem quite obvious, such as those in the area of tenure and promotion. Some other accountabilities, however, are buried in policies that Chairs and Directors may be less familiar with. This chart is meant simply to provide some assistance with understanding the Chair’s role as it is laid out in various University policies, and to group these responsibilities together in an easy-to-find way (well, it is to be hoped that they are easy to find). It does not replace the policies, which should always be consulted (see further below), and in case of any inadvertent conflict between the material in this Handbook and University policies, the latter are to be considered authoritative.

For UW policies, see the section on ‘Policies’ below (or go directly to the Secretariat website). Much important guidance for Chairs is also to be found in memoranda periodically disseminated from the Provost’s Office: see the Memos and Reports website.

The following chart pulls together specific Chair accountabilities, but does not speak to more general, ‘non-legislated’ aspects of Chair leadership, such as mentoring, career advice, guidance in preparing tenure and promotion briefs, etc.

Note that tenured and continuing appointments are reviewed biennially (as of 2016/17); definite and probationary-term appointments are still reviewed annually.

Memorandum of Agreement §13.5: ‘Member Evaluation’.

Note: Each Faculty and each Department has (or should have) Faculty- and Department-specific addenda to the MoA setting out guidelines for APR assessments (MoA §13.5.1).

Policy 77: Promotion and Tenure of Faculty Members §2: ‘It is the responsibility of department Chairs to assess the performance of each regular faculty member annually, to provide a written performance review and to be available to discuss it upon request. Performance reviews are especially important in helping new faculty members gauge their progress towards meeting the standards for reappointment and tenure. Annual performance reviews form part of the evidence in tenure and promotion considerations, together with reports from external referees and more extensive career reviews carried out by the Department Tenure and Promotion Committee (DTPC).’

Note: Although this is not required, each Department should have a set of discipline-specific guidelines for tenure and promotion. It is the responsibility of the Chair to maintain these guidelines and review them with Department colleagues at regular intervals.

Faculty members:
Service.

Policy 77: Promotion and Tenure of Faculty Members: ‘In addition to their primary duties of teaching and scholarship, regular faculty members have a responsibility to participate in the effective functioning of the University through service on committees, student advising, coordination of activities and in administrative positions. It is important that all faculty members be willing to assist with administrative duties when their help is needed. Many faculty members also provide valuable service to groups outside the University, such as disciplinary or professional organizations, conferences, journals and granting councils. Community service related to a faculty member’s scholarly activities is normally considered as service to the University.’

Forms: See Provost’s Office: Forms and Templates.

Faculty Administrative Appointments (DOC).

Faculty members:
Sabbaticals and extra-University activity.

Policy 3: Sabbatical and Other Leaves for Faculty Members:

- The Chair reviews and signs off on sabbatical applications prior to forwarding them to the Dean. Note that by signing off on a sabbatical request, the Chair is guaranteeing that the Department’s mission will not be negatively impacted by the absence of the faculty member for the period of the sabbatical. The question of sessional teaching replacement should be discussed with the Dean.
- The Chair reviews faculty members’ reports on work done on the sabbatical upon their return. Assuming that faculty members actually submit such reports.

Note: Probationary term faculty members are allowed to apply for special early sabbaticals, normally taken in the first year of the second probationary term.

Policy 49: Extra-University Activity (Faculty Members): ‘Regular appointments to the University must be construed as constituting a full-time occupation. Given this understanding, any extra-University occupation that requires more than one work day a week should be examined and judged very carefully. It is the responsibility of the individual faculty member to inform the department Chair and Dean concerning any activities where expenditure of time is substantial.’

Cf. Policy 69: Conflict of Interest §3 under ‘Conflict of Commitment’: ‘Undertaking external consulting, professional or other activities which, by virtue of their time commitment, prevent the faculty or staff member from fulfilling her/his obligations to the University.’

The conduct of all or part of such investigations may be delegated to appropriate persons, including the Member’s Department Chair. Such authority shall be taken to include permanent, temporary or delegated supervision of any faculty or staff member or student. Those who receive complaints or who perceive what they believe to be violations of this policy shall act promptly to notify an appropriate administrative officer, normally one’s immediate supervisor, the department Head, Chair or Director, to provide or initiate the appropriate remedial or disciplinary measures.’

Persons with supervisory authority should consult with the SVRC when they are assisting someone who Discloses or Reports an incident of Sexual Violence.’

Note: as with any form of faculty discipline, allegations of sexual misconduct by a faculty member are dealt with by the Dean, not the Chair.

Course Assignments and Scheduling

General Principles

I have found it useful to share with faculty members the rationale that I follow in assigning courses, so that the process does not seem so mysterious and potentially arbitrary. I therefore share with them the following statement, which may of course be modified to suit any program.

While Policy 40 states that course assignments are the purview of the Chair, the Chair may gather advice from various parties in determining the final shape of the schedule; the Chair may also delegate some or all of these tasks to the Associate Chair. In general, the Chair follows a set of principles in determining course assignments for any given year; these principles include, but are not limited to the following:

- The needs of the program(s). Core courses (the ‘spine’) will always need to be scheduled, and in principle, most or all faculty members should participate in covering these courses.
- The needs of the students. In addition to ensuring that the spine is scheduled every year, some attention should be paid to a natural progression from one year to the next for each successive cohort and to a balanced blend of courses in any given year.
- Rotation of electives. Elective courses should be scheduled at least once every three years; courses that have not been offered in more than three years should be considered candidates for inactivation.
- Historical enrollment patterns. Enrollment patterns shift over time and it is the obligation of the Chair to consider these shifts in deciding whether or not to schedule certain courses (and how many sections and what the enrollment limits should be).
- Instructor capabilities: all of us have particular strengths in particular types of courses or subject areas, though in an undergraduate program especially, faculty members should be capable of teaching a large swathe of the curriculum.
- Consideration of sabbatical leaves and available instructor expertise.
- Rotation of instructors through different kinds of courses (considerations: core, electives, course size, course format, etc.). In general, no one faculty member should have a lock-down on small senior courses or grad courses, and no one faculty member should have to repeatedly teach large service courses. In some programs, there may also be a rotation of instructors through the three terms.
- The individual interests of the instructors, whether that means teaching in the area of one’s research or teaching a course of which one is particularly fond. Alas that this consideration has to be last on the list!

1 Note that these principles apply chiefly to regular tenured faculty members; instructors hired to teach a specific course or set of courses may not be covered by these principles.
Chairs’ Calendar

New Chairs will find very quickly that, between faculty and staff performance evaluations and budget planning, Winter tends to be the heaviest term (though October and November can be crowded if there are tenure and promotion cases). Chairs would be well-advised to concentrate their teaching in the other terms and keep the Winter term free of teaching if possible.

Numerous other obligations fall on the Chair on a regular basis, but the following are not necessarily tied to an annual calendric cycle. Where relevant these activities are understood to take place in conjunction with Faculty-level processes:

- Hiring (faculty staff, sessional and definite term appointments). Advertising for faculty positions may happen at any time, though late summer/fall advertising may be advisable (all other things being equal).
- Probationary contract renewals.
- Regular program reviews, both graduate and undergraduate.²

² Normally program reviews are held on a seven-year cycle; professional programs requiring accreditation review may be on a five-year cycle.
- Department/School advancement (development and alumni).
- Space allocations and reviews.
- Grant approvals, renewals, reviews.
- Regular meetings of Faculty advisory groups and Faculty councils.
- Annual review of service appointments (keeping in mind that some University-level appointments are not on a July-June schedule).
Legislation Affecting University Members

A number of our policies flow from important provincial or federal legislation that places a legal responsibility on all members of the University. Given their managerial role, Chairs and Directors may have an important role to play in terms of educating their units about such legislation and in dealing with possible breaches.

Following is a partial list of some of the most significant legislation that Chairs should be aware of:

Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA)

- Provincial Statute.
- Ontario Human Rights Code: Disability.
- Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.
- Accessibility at Waterloo.
- UW AccessAbility Services.
- Relevant policies/guidelines: Policy 33 (Ethical Behaviour); Policy 65 (Equality in Employment).
- UW AODA Specialist: Joyce Barlow.
- Director, UW Conflict Management and Human Rights Office: Matt Erickson.
- Director, UW Equity Office: Gina Hickman.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA)

- Provincial Statute.
- UW Information and Privacy website.
- Relevant policies/guidelines: Policy 46 (Information Management); Policy 75 (Official Employment Files of Regular Faculty Members); Guidelines on Human Resources Records; Managing Student Information for Faculties, Departments and Schools; Returning Assignments and Posting Grades.
- University Secretary: Karen Jack.
- UW Privacy Officer: Kathy Winter.
- UW Records Manager: Chris Halonen.

Human Rights Legislation

- Ontario Human Rights Code.
- Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.
- UW Equity Office.
- UW Conflict Management and Human Rights Office.
Relevant policies/guidelines: Policy 33 (Ethical Behaviour); Policy 34 (Health, Safety and Environment); Policy 61 (Religious Accommodation); Policy 65 (Equality in Employment); Guidelines on Harassment and Discrimination.

Associate Vice-President, Equity, Human Rights, and Inclusion: Diana Parry.

Director, UW Conflict Management and Human Rights Office: Matt Erickson.

Director, UW Equity Office: Gina Hickman.

Sexual Violence and Harassment Action Plan Act (Bill 132)

- Bill 132.
- UW Equity Office: Sexual Violence.
- Relevant policies/guidelines: Policy 33 (Ethical Behaviour); Policy 34 (Health, Safety and Environment); Policy 42 (Prevention and Response to Sexual Violence); Policy 60 (University of Waterloo Emergency Response); Guidelines on Harassment and Discrimination.
- UW Workplace Violence and Harassment Resources.
- Director, UW Conflict Management and Human Rights Office: Matt Erickson.
- Director, UW Equity Office: Gina Hickman.
- Director, UW Police Services: Sergeant Alan Binns.
- Director, UW Safety Office: Kate Windsor.
- Sexual Violence Response Coordinator: Amanda Cook.

Workplace Violence and Harassment (Bill 168)

- UW Safety Office: Workplace Violence and Harassment.
- Relevant policies/guidelines: Policy 33 (Ethical Behaviour); Policy 34 (Health, Safety and Environment); Policy 42 (Prevention and Response to Sexual Violence); Policy 60 (University of Waterloo Emergency Response); Guidelines on Harassment and Discrimination.

Memorandum of Agreement

Of particular interest to Chairs:

- Section 7: Non-Discrimination.
- Section 8: Discipline.
- Section 9: Grievance and Arbitration.
- Section 13: Faculty Salaries, Annual Selective Increases and Member Evaluation Procedures.
- Section 14: Integrity in Scholarly Research.

Academic Chairs and Directors should keep in mind that the Faculty Association is a valuable resource for them. Chairs are also members of FAUW (Deans and up are not; 2.1.2), and thus have the right to be supported, represented, and advised by the Association. This applies to any situation in which a faculty member might find himself or herself in need of FAUW advice and support, including a conflictual situation in which a grievance might be launched against the Chair: under these circumstances, the Chair has the same right to FAUW support as does the grievor.
Deans’ Council, VPAP Memoranda, Etc.

Some University governance and procedures flow from decisions made/endorsed at Deans’ Council, in memoranda from the Vice-President Academic and Provost, and in guidelines and procedures determined by other units (e.g., the Office of Research). Not all of this material is archived on the University website, though some of it has made its way into Faculty-level guidelines. Where possible, this Handbook will collect Deans’ Council decisions and links to VP Memos and Reports that have particular impact on the activities of Chairs.

VPAP Memos and Reports (a short selection)

- Signing Authorities Designated in the New Financial System’s Electronic Workflow (13 March 2017)
- Business Class Travel (10 February 2017)
- Revised Broader Public Sector Expenses Directive – Per Diems (1 February 2017)
- Conflict of Interest in Hiring Committees (31 January 2017)
- Business at Waterloo Programs: Current State and Future Opportunities (25 January 2017)
- Striking the Right Balance: Pathways to Happier and More Productive Faculty Members (31 October 2012)
- Annual Performance Review Process (22 November 2010)
- Joint Appointments (12 November 2010)
Handling DTPC and FTPC Memos

- Committee chair provides a copy to members. To acknowledge that s/he has received a copy, each member signs one master copy or emails the committee chair within two working days of distribution of the memo.
- Any committee member who does not agree with the majority recommendation may submit a signed statement setting out the reasons s/he disagrees to the committee chair within five working days of distribution of the memo. The committee chair will append any statement received to the memo.
- Any committee member who wishes to do so may submit a signed clarifying statement to the committee chair within five working days of distribution of the memo. The committee chair will append any statement received to the memo.
- Statement on the memo/in the email: “I acknowledge that I received a copy of the memo setting out the discussion and recommendation of the committee. I am aware that, in the event I disagree with the majority recommendation, I have the opportunity to submit a signed statement with reasons for my disagreement. I am also aware that should I see the need, I have the opportunity to submit a signed clarification. Disagreements and clarifications must be submitted to the chair within 5 working days of distribution of the memo.”
UW Guidelines Regarding Tenure and Promotion Dossiers and Procedures

- Candidate statements normally should not exceed 3 pages.
- Copies of annual performance reviews are to be included in the material (chair to provide if not part of the candidate’s submission).
- Regarding probationary-term reappointments, Policy 76 provides “The Dean and/or Chair shall write to candidates who are to be reappointed to summarize any concerns that may have been identified, and to provide advice on preparing for future tenure consideration.” All such documents are to be provided to the DTPC by the chair.
- DTPC and FTPC memos are to identify committee members and include the outcome and the vote count.
- DTPC memos are to include a table of the annual performance ratings [teaching, research, service, overall; 0-2 scale] for the last 5 years.
- Every effort should be made to obtain substantive assessments from at least 5 external referees, with at least 3 from the list proposed by the DTPC; the external referee information sheet (to be completed by the DTPC chair) should make clear who suggested a particular referee and why by commenting briefly on a proposed referee’s relationship to the candidate and, to illustrate stature, on the significance of the referee’s major accomplishments (‘works in the same area’ is NOT helpful, nor is providing a list of the referee’s publications).
- Student course evaluations results for the last 5 years should be summarized and accompanied by meaningful interpretive information (e.g. department results for similar courses set out separately, such as required courses and upper year electives).
- Student letters on teaching should not be included unless absolutely clear they are arm’s-length and spontaneous; such material should be summarized if more than 2 pages.
- D/FTPC voting may be by show of hands or secret ballot as decided by the committee; when D/FTPC votes reported are less than the number of voting members, an explanation should be provided because all members, including D/FTPC chairs, are expected to vote. The only time a member does not vote is when a conflict of interest has been declared/determined – in that case the member with a conflict must not attend the portion of a meeting when the file is discussed and will not vote; if the D/FTPC chair is in conflict a chair pro tem is to be elected by the committee.
- When the D/FTPC has completed its deliberations, the chair shall inform the candidate in writing of the outcome (including the basis for it, if negative) but shall not include any indication of the vote count (including whether the recommendation was unanimous).
From time to time, members (including Chair or Director) of a department or school advisory committee on appointments (e.g. DACA or SACA) may find themselves in a conflict of interest and/or a non-arm’s length relationship related to a particular applicant. Where a search committee member is:

- providing a reference for an applicant in the competition,
- a former graduate supervisor of an applicant, or
- a collaborator of an applicant (normally as defined by Tri-Councils), the member shall immediately disclose the nature of the conflict to the committee and must withdraw from the committee for all stages of its work in which the applicant remains under consideration.

Where a search committee member has some other relationship with an applicant that might lead to a personal bias or the appearance of one, the member shall immediately disclose the nature of the relationship to the committee. It shall be in the discretion of the committee, acting reasonably and on a simple majority secret ballot vote in which the disclosing member shall not participate, to determine if the member must withdraw from the committee at any stage of its work.

Replacing a Committee Member
If a member withdraws for one of the above reasons, the search committee will decide whether or not the member should be replaced, taking into account factors relevant to the search such as disciplinary expertise, gender balance, and the stage of the committee’s deliberations.

If a search committee member is not replaced and the applicant with whom the committee member has disclosed a conflict of interest and/or a non-arm’s length relationship is not shortlisted and is formally removed from consideration in the search, the member will be asked to rejoin the committee.

Chair/Director Searches

For external searches, conflict of interest in a search for a department chair or school director shall, in addition, be handled in accordance with Policy 40 – The Chair.

1.1 Public Accountability

- Review full recruitment and renewal processes on the CRC Public Accountability website. Contact the Office of Research CRC manager (crc@uwaterloo.ca) with questions.
- Academic unit heads are responsible for ensuring that the advertising of Chair positions and nomination of candidates are open, transparent and consistent with the principles of equity, diversity and inclusivity.
- Contact the Equity Office (equity@uwaterloo.ca) to discuss the steps that must be taken to ensure recruitment and renewal nomination processes are consistent with the principles of equity, diversity, and inclusivity.

1.2 Advertising Requirements for New CRCs

- Selection committees are encouraged to advertise all new CRC positions both externally and internally.
- UW’s equity targets and gaps must be taken into account when deciding which field to support with a Chair and whether to limit the pool to internal candidates.
- Advertisements must provide a minimum of 30 days for applications to be submitted.
- Send a copy of the advertisement to the Office of Research (crc@uwaterloo.ca) for approval prior to posting, to meet CRC requirements.
- The Chairs Program imposes no restrictions on nominees with regard to nationality or country of residence. Further information is available on the CRC website.

1.3 Eligibility for Renewal

- As of November 2017, both Tier 1 and Tier 2 Chairholders are able to hold their Chair for a maximum of two terms, at any institution in Canada.
- Academic unit heads and eligible first-term nominees are asked to work together to establish clear renewal criteria. Submit renewal criteria along with the Internal Nomination form to the Office of Research CRC manager for review by the Internal Review Committee.
- The final renewal criteria will be used during regular performance reviews throughout the first term of the CRC to monitor progress and assess if a CRC will be nominated for renewal.
- The Office of Research will use the following process to initiate a renewal:
  - Following each application cycle (April and October), the OR will notify the Dean and Associate Dean of Research of all Tier 1 and Tier 2 Chairs who are eligible to apply for renewal within the next two application cycles.
The Dean/ADR has four weeks to notify the OR if they do not want a particular CRC to be renewed, after which, the OR will assume that the renewal can move forward and will contact the Chairholder directly.

1.4 Fold-in Plan
- CRC chairholders are hired as regular tenured or tenure-track faculty members, and it is the responsibility of the chairholder’s academic unit or Faculty to have a plan to cover salary and benefits costs for when the CRC award ends. During the tenure of the CRC award, salary, salary increases and benefits are to be covered by CRC funds, to the extent of grant available. Any salary and benefits expense not covered by the award are the responsibility of the chairholder’s home academic unit or Faculty. Upon termination of the CRC award, all salary, salary increases and benefits expenses are to be covered by the chairholder’s home academic unit or Faculty as per all other regular tenured or tenure-track faculty members. At the time of award it is expected that the CRC chairholder will hold a complement position, be identified against a future complement vacancy, or reflect a new additional complement position as per standard faculty hiring practices.

1.5 Chairholder Duties
- Chairholders are expected to participate in the full range of activities for regular faculty members – teaching, research and service – but with a stronger emphasis on research (e.g., 20-60-20 (teaching-research-admin) weights rather than the standard 40-40-20 weights).
- Teaching release/buy-outs are NOT cumulative. Chairholders are expected to teach no less than half the normal course load for their academic unit during their CRC term. This includes both undergraduate and graduate courses and contributing significantly to student supervision.
- Subject to negotiation with their academic unit head, Chairholders have the option to defer a portion of their reduced teaching assignment for 2-3 years after the end of their CRC term to facilitate a phase-in to normal teaching loads.

1.6 Leaves
- The University must give the Secretariat prior notice of any leaves, including sabbaticals, taken by CRCs. CRCs must follow CRC Program requirements, as well as Policy 3, Sabbatical and Other Leaves for Faculty Members.

2. CRC Financial Details

When preparing a CRC application, the nominee and Faculty/academic unit should complete an internal funding commitment form (available from the Office of Research, crc@uwaterloo.ca) taking the following into consideration:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Budget Item</th>
<th>Amount</th>
<th>Additional Information</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Central University Charge</td>
<td>Tier 2 = $5,000/year Tier 1 = $10,000/year</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chairholder’s Salary and Benefits</td>
<td>Regular annual salary (salary increases will occur as per the standard annual merit-based procedures)</td>
<td>Salaries should be kept comparable with those of outstanding UW faculty who do not have CRCs. Benefits include the Faculty Professional Expense Reimbursements.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fixed Stipend</td>
<td>Tier 2 = $10,000/year Tier 1 = $15,000/year</td>
<td>The stipend ($a) is conditional on holding the CRC (ends once the CRC ends). The stipend is not part of base salary for purposes of pension, benefits, or annual salary increases. Stipends are cumulative. If a Chairholder receives a different stipend ($b) for other reasons, the Chairholder will receive $a + $b.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CRC Research Fund</td>
<td>Tier 2 = set by academic unit Tier 1 = set by academic unit</td>
<td>Each Faculty sets a level of support for an academic unit, which is re-evaluated annually and kept on file in the Office of Research. Chairholders have flexibility to use these funds in accordance with CRC Program guidelines. The CRC Research Fund ($x) is specific to the CRC position (and it ends when the CRC ends). If the Chairholder receives additional funds ($y) for other reasons (e.g. a startup grant or other internal funding), they would receive $x + $y.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3 Budget items are listed in order of priority for CRC Funds. Once CRC Funds are depleted, the academic unit/Faculty will underwrite any outstanding commitments.
