

The School of Accounting and Finance in the Faculty of Arts at the University of Waterloo invites applications for a position in accounting for an appointment beginning July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be hired either as an Associate Professor with tenure or as a Full Professor with tenure.

Candidates should have established reputations for excellence in behavioral research and the ability to make significant contributions to teaching and supervising PhD students. Candidates will also have demonstrated teaching excellence in any area of accounting (management accounting, financial reporting, taxation, assurance, accounting information systems).

The School is widely recognized for its research and programs. We offer a collegial and stimulating environment that promotes collaboration, intellectual curiosity and growth.

The School also has a highly-respected Accounting PhD program and has graduated forty doctoral students since the inception of the program in the early 1990s.

Our award-winning faculty includes active researchers using empirical, experimental, and analytical techniques to study a broad spectrum of accounting and finance issues. Our faculty members serve on the editorial boards of leading scholarly journals. The School's collaborative environment encourages faculty members to help each other reach their maximum potential. Our highly regarded undergraduate and graduate programs attract top students. For details about our faculty and programs please visit: <http://saf.uwaterloo.ca>. The University of Waterloo consistently ranks as a leading comprehensive university in Canada and an innovator in education and research. It is located in Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, a one-hour drive from Toronto, Canada's financial and cultural capital.

Interested candidates are required to complete an on-line application at <https://arts-ofas.uwaterloo.ca/saf/>.

Based on qualifications, salary ranges of $215,000 to $250,000 for an Associate Professor or $265,000 to $300,000 for a Full Professor will be considered. Application deadline: January 21, 2019.
