Waterloo’s spirit of innovation continues to cultivate knowledge and ideas that have an impact on local, national, and international communities. Scholarships and awards provide a significant way to recognize students’ achievements, reward talented students for their accomplishments, and provide financial support to help them with their educational expenses.

The annual cost of books, tuition, and living expenses ranges from $18,300 - $31,800 for the average undergraduate, and is substantially greater for graduate and international students. As government subsidies decrease and the cost of living increases, the need to offer student aid is greater than ever.

Student scholarships and awards funded through donor-directed trusts and endowments help attract and keep the brightest students

ESTABLISHING A NAMED SCHOLARSHIP OR AWARD

The University of Waterloo is proud to recognize our donors’ generous support through named scholarships and awards, which a donor can name in honour or in memory of a special person, or in his/her own name.

One hundred per cent of a gift and the matching funds go directly to the donor’s named trust, named endowment, or progressive endowment.

NAMED TRUST

- Supports a named award for a specific time period
- Requires a minimum gift of $10,000 to set up an undergraduate award (i.e., $2,000 per year for five years to establish an entrance scholarship or $2,500 per year for four years to establish an upper-year scholarship)
- Requires a minimum gift of $20,000 to set up graduate award

NAMED ENDOWMENT

- Gifts are invested in perpetuity to create a continuous revenue stream to support chosen program
- Requires a minimum gift of $40,000 for an undergraduate award and $50,000 for a graduate award

PROGRESSIVE ENDOWMENT

- Requires a multi-year gift with two components:
  - a trust to allow for immediate award support, and
  - an endowment for sustainable funding source at the conclusion of the pledge.
