

Centre for Career Action - Animation

Transcript

There are a lot of rumors out there about just what the mysterious Centre for Career Action does and doesn't do. Let's clear some things up. Do we work with undergraduate students? Of course we do. Do we work with graduate students? Yes. Do we work with raging hippopotami? Uh, no. - we don't do that.

Do we work with co-op students? Oh yeah! Do we work with regular students? Absolutely - and we work with Waterloo staff and alumni, too. Do we entertain you with various acrobatics and feats of strength while you wait for your interview? No.

Do we work with students who want more career direction? Of course we do. Do we work with students who want to go on to graduate or professional school? Yes. Do we help you navigate the hidden job market? No, are you kidding me? Help people to navigate the job market? We hate doing that! What's next? Do you want us to wash your car... Only kidding. Of course we help with that. Do we have trained monkeys who will personally groom you before each interview? No, but you can ask to borrow a tie or get a pair of hose from a real human being at our centre's front desk.

Take your next step. Book an advising appointment. Register for a workshop or event. Browse our online or print resources. Borrow a tie. Centre for Career Action: we work with you on job search tactics, grad school prep, career strategy.
