

References

Project Title: Evaluation of the impact of a peer review process on teaching practice and perception at the School of Pharmacy

Project Team: Cynthia Richard, Elaine Lillie, Thomas McFarlane, and Mary Power

Blackmore, J.A., (2005). A critical evaluation of peer review via teaching observation within higher education. International. J. Educational Management. 19(1), 61-70.

Chism, N.V.N., (2007). Peer Review of Teaching: A Sourcebook. 2nd Ed. Anker Publishing. San Francisco. CA.

Hubball, H. & Clarke, A., (2011). Scholarly Approaches to Peer-Review of Teaching: Emergent Frameworks and Outcomes in a Research Intensive University. Transformative Dialogues: Teaching & Learning Journal. 4 (3), 1-32.

Samson, S. & McCrea, D.E., (2008). Using peer review to foster good teaching. Reference Services Review. 36 (1), 61-70.

Shortland, S., (2004). Peer Observation: a tool for staff development of compliance? J. Further and Higher Education. 28 (2), 219-228.