In the cooperative version of this game, players work together to stack all the animals on the meadow and the waterhole, before Carl the crab crosses to the other side of the sun path! Players roll the dice to see if they get to stack an animal on the meadow or the waterhole, or if Carl will crawl one tile further on the path towards the end. But be careful! If any of the animals fall while stacking, they will need to be stacked again!

Note: Other ways to play the game are described in the manufacturer's instructions.
