In Camel Up, players bet on racing camels as they gallop, stack and sometimes run backwards around the track. On your turn, you'll either roll dice to move a camel, place a spectator tile to cause the camels to go forward or backward a space, or, if you're ready, place a bet on who you think will win or lose the leg or the whole race. But watch out – camels can stack and carry each other forward, while the mischievous black and white Crazy Camels run the opposite direction way and can take the others with them if stacked, potentially throwing off your plans and bets! Earn Egyptian Pounds by making smart bets and manipulating the race to your advantage. The player with the most Egyptian Pounds at the end of the race wins! For an extra challenge, try the partnership mode with 6 or more players to add cooperative strategy into the mix.
