Collect food and score points at the market! In Downtown Farmers Market, you will take turns picking food tiles to place in your 4x4 grid. Each row and column has a specific challenge, such as collecting certain types of food or avoiding others, to earn points. Try to place your tiles in a way that gets you the most points for both rows and columns. The game ends when your grid is full, and the player with the most points wins! This game can be simplified for different ages and skill levels by adjusting the grid size, using easier challenge tiles, or removing the challenge tiles altogether.
