ABSTRACT. We present an algorithm for computing the cardinality of the Jacobian of a random Picard curve over a finite field. If the underlying field is a prime field $\mathbb{F}_p$, the algorithm has complexity $O(\sqrt{p})$.