Question: You are entering an essay competition in the local newspaper. The newspaper wants you to recommend one of three locations as the best place for university and college-age students to celebrate a birthday. You’ve done the research and compiled it in the following table. Remember that the essay will be published, and the newspaper wants a well-written and interesting piece. If your essay is chosen, you could win a party for you and ten friends at the location you recommend.
