Message from the Chancellor

As Chancellor of the University of Waterloo, it is my honour to preside over today's ceremony. Today, we welcome representatives from our community including faculty, staff and alumni to share in and celebrate the achievements of our graduates.

The University of Waterloo was established in extraordinary times, and as a result it continues to be a place that nourishes the values and character that make up extraordinary leaders. This is particularly relevant as today, we are living in extraordinary times – in the midst of a climate and energy transition, significant geopolitical change, and profound technological change – this is Waterloo's time.

I believe that the University of Waterloo is a special institution encompassing a community of faculty, students and graduates who are more prepared for change and a shifting future than many others in the world.

Convocation is a significant milestone in life. It also marks our graduates' transition to becoming our newest alumni members, extending the University of Waterloo community's reach globally. Since the institution's inception in 1957, we have conferred more than 244,000 degrees and certificates. Our alumni community extends to over 150 countries and are a committed and supportive network.

When I look across our campuses and beyond, I see impactful innovations coming to fruition. Examples include using quantum to improve MRI capabilities in health care, finding new methods to combat the spread of misinformation, and integrating AI more seamlessly into a variety of critical applications such as resource usage, manufacturing, research development and knowledge development.

We are a community of innovative leaders who seek out ways to solve the big problems of our time. From best-selling poets to NASA researchers and venture capitalists, Olympians to CEOs of multi-national corporations and leading environmentalists, we are providing the world with more Waterloo, and it is making the world a better place.

I believe that the world needs Waterloo graduates to harness all their experiences to lead and shape the future. The exceptional knowledge and creativity they have honed at the University of Waterloo has prepared them to be the leaders the world needs.

As our graduates cross the stage, they will bear the privilege and responsibility of bringing the spirit and values of this distinguished institution with them, wherever their lives may lead. They now also have an opportunity to shape a better, more equitable world through their careers and community involvement.

Congratulations to all of our graduates and thank you for continuing the Waterloo tradition of excellence.

DOMINIC BARTON
Chancellor

“FROM BEST-SELLING POETS TO NASA RESEARCHERS AND VENTURE CAPITALISTS, OLYMPIANS TO CEOs OF MULTI-NATIONAL CORPORATIONS AND LEADING ENVIRONMENTALISTS, WE ARE PROVIDING THE WORLD WITH MORE WATERLOO, AND IT IS MAKING THE WORLD A BETTER PLACE.”

Message from the President and Vice-Chancellor

On behalf of the staff and faculty at the University of Waterloo, I am thrilled to welcome our graduates and their family, friends and supporters to convocation.

To our graduates, my heartfelt congratulations. Today's ceremony recognizes your hard work and perseverance during your time at the University of Waterloo. You cross the stage today having gained more than the lessons learned in the classroom, library or lab. You have built relationships and forged networks with peers and instructors. Those connections are the basis of a vibrant and expansive community at the heart of our institution's rich history and its success to date. As you transition from student to alumni, I hope you each will continue to stay connected to the Waterloo community.

To the family, friends and supporters of our graduates, thank you. Thank you for supporting our students and encouraging them along their academic journey. And thank you for being here today – this ceremony is more meaningful as a result of everyone's participation.

In the 1950s, the founders of the University of Waterloo sought to establish a university that was different. An institution that embraced community and an unconventional way of identifying and solving big, complex challenges facing the world. That same spirit exists across our campuses today. It also continues through the work of our global network of alumni. The graduates leaving our campuses today have the opportunity to lead and be change-makers who can help address the challenges of tomorrow and build a better future for humanity and our planet.

Waterloo graduates are known for integrating knowledge and problem-solving across disciplines. They are known for their courage and resiliency. Above all, they are known for approaching challenges in unique ways and uncovering innovative solutions. I look forward to hearing about the innovations and impact today's graduates will have on their communities in the future.

Convocation is a wonderful reminder that we all have an opportunity, and a responsibility, to positively impact those around us. Let's all work together to help shape the world for the better.

On behalf of the University of Waterloo, I wish our graduates the best of luck in the journey ahead.

Message from the Alumni Council Chair

On behalf of the University of Waterloo's Alumni Council and your fellow alumni, congratulations on the successful completion of your degree. You demonstrated hard work, dedication and resilience. We are proud of you and delighted to welcome you as the newest members of our community.

Graduation is a significant milestone for you both personally and professionally. I encourage you to celebrate your achievement and take time to appreciate the people in your life that helped you along the way – your family, friends, classmates and teachers.

As you look ahead to the next phase of your life, I'm confident that your time at Waterloo has prepared you well. You have the expertise, creativity and resourcefulness to tackle whatever problem you choose. Although this is an especially uncertain time to graduate, it is also a very exciting one. Longstanding practices are changing and there is opportunity for new ideas to break through.

Welcome to a network of more than 244,000 alumni, connected by their experiences at Waterloo.

Throughout your career, I encourage you to stay connected to your alumni community. There are more than 244,000 of us and we are here to support you as you work towards your goals. You can contact Waterloo alumni from anywhere in the world – through our Global Ambassadors, Alumni Chapters and online groups.

I also hope you will join me in sharing your time, knowledge and passion with the University. It is rewarding to volunteer with other talented alumni and your unique perspective can benefit future graduates more than you know.

Congratulations once again on your graduation. You have much to be proud of and a very bright future ahead of you!

I wish you all the best.

Our tradition of convocation

The ritual of convocation is a tradition that honours the roots of the University, and is, at the same time, a beginning for students who now enter a new stage in their lives.

We welcome guests on this celebratory occasion and thank you for being present to share in it.

Both the symbols and the ceremony of convocation look back far beyond the beginning of the University of Waterloo, back to the centuries of university life in Western civilization which Waterloo joined six decades ago. The founders of this University were eager from the beginning to make it part of that long tradition, although they proudly asserted that they were building a new and innovative university, with close ties to industry and an emphasis on practical knowledge for building the future.

On this day, as ancient customs mix with the use of up-to-date technology and exuberance of a new generation, convocation connects a forward-looking university with the traditions that universities have observed as long as they have existed.

The University of Waterloo grew out of an older institution, Waterloo College. A still older one, the University of St. Jerome's College, soon became federated with it, and the college of Optometry of Ontario joined the family in 1967. Although all these institutions were newcomers compared with Oxford and Harvard and the Jagiellonian, the connection to the traditional role and style of a university remains clear.

Tradition underlies the proceedings of today's convocation, the continuity of this University with centuries of academic experience. Passion brings the proceedings to life, along with the enthusiasm with which the University recognizes new achievements and new ideas.

CONVOCATION
AT WATERLOO

A CALLING TOGETHER

Students graduate at the end of a program of study, leading to a degree with a traditional name: Bachelor, Master, or Doctor. On this day, their families and friends celebrate their success and their transition from one status in life to another. Convocation has been, for the past nine hundred years, a meeting of the whole university community at which symbols are displayed, participants wear special attire to emphasize their official roles, and speakers share their wisdom and the values that the university seeks to teach. Convocation (the name comes from Latin, which was once the chief language of higher education) is a calling together of new graduates to receive the symbols of their accomplishments, and a calling together of the older members of the university to witness and join in the celebration.

CONNECTING WITH TRADITION

At Waterloo's first convocation in June 1960, the guest speaker was James J. Talman of the University of Western Ontario, who told the audience a little about the history of Waterloo County and its industry.

"The greatest resource we still have is the minds of the people" Talman said, "And this resource still remains to be developed to its full potential. The people of the Grand Valley clearly appreciate this fact. As we see the success with which they developed the physical resources in the past we can only conclude that they will be just as successful in developing the intellectual resources of the future. The University of Waterloo can look forward to a brilliant and successful future."

THE PROCESSION

The most impressive part of the ceremony may be the procession that begins it. The graduating students will come in first, and as they fill up the main body of the hall, they will give the impression that today's ceremony really is, as convocation used to be, a ceremonial meeting of the whole university community.

After the graduating students have come in, the academic procession will begin. First to enter is the ceremonial Eagle Staff, a symbolic representation of the continuous presence of Indigenous peoples of these lands, carried in by an Eagle Staff carrier. Next, a selected faculty member will carry the mace, a traditional symbol of the University's authority. Then faculty members enter, walking two by two, dressed in their academic finery.

The final party to arrive is the Chancellor's party. The Chancellor is the ceremonial head of the University of Waterloo. The Chancellor presides over convocation ceremonies every June and October and awards all degrees, diplomas and certificates, including honorary degrees. The Chancellor offers an inspirational message for the graduands at these ceremonies.

THE MACE

The solid silver and ebony wand was given to the University in 1965 by the family of the late Stanley F. Leavine and was designed by Toronto artist Eric Aldwinckle and crafted by silversmith Harold Stacey to symbolize the University as it was at that time. It displays lions, chevrons, and the shield of the province of Ontario, from which the University holds its charter to grant degrees.

The symbolic theme of the mace is unity amid diversity, and tension in the creative intellectual process that strive to bring forth a new individual. The design of the mace interprets this theme in the idiom of the life process: from the seeds at the base of the stave the mace grows in unity and strength until it differentiates by a four-fold separation into diverse elements.

The four-fold diversity is significant because of the four faculties existing at the time the mace was presented to the University and as well of the four church-related colleges federated and affiliated with the University. These diverse elements together form a crown, and the point of the crown, while tending toward a union, do not quite touch. They remain as individuals suspended in tension and yet engaged in deep harmony. This creative process is focused not on the traditional spherical orb of static perfection but rather on an elliptical silver ovum – the egg-shaped symbol of creativity – the marvelous potential of a new individual life.

THE COAT OF ARMS AND MOTTO

The lions and chevrons also appear on the shield that is the University's coat of arms and that is imprinted on the graduates' diplomas. Derived from traditional heraldry, it has been used since 1961 and was registered with the Court of the Lord Lyon in 1987. The shield uses the official colours of gold, black and white, and its symbols refer to the University's base in the cities of Kitchener and Waterloo. The unusual double chevrons were borrowed from the coat of arms of Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, and the red lions are like those on the coat of arms of the Duke of Wellington, victor at the 1815 Battle of Waterloo. The lions also reflect the tough and innovative spirit of the University's founders and builders, and the black and white in the chevron are the colours of Prussia, reflecting the Germanic background of many Waterloo County settlers. Beneath the shield appears the University's motto, Concordia cum veritate, "In harmony with truth."

DEGREES AND HONORARY DEGREES

Presentations of earned and honorary degrees, and the speeches associated with them, take up most of the time at convocation. Undergraduate and graduate degrees are awarded in each of our six faculties: the faculties of Arts, Engineering, Environment, Health, Mathematics and Science. Also included are students who attended our colleges, Conrad Grebel University College, Renison University College, St. Jerome's University and United College.

In addition to "earned" degrees awarded to students who have met the requirements through years of effort, the University of Waterloo confers "honorary" degrees to individuals who have been designated by the Senate, the University's academic governing body, as deserving special honour. They, too, receive hoods, lined with the colour of the faculty that nominated them or with specially designated colours for other kinds of achievement.

By tradition, public service is recognized with a Doctor of Laws degree even in a university that does not regularly teach law. The individuals receiving honorary degrees are introduced during the ceremony, and a brief citation is read to explain their various accomplishments deserving of recognition by a university. One of the honorands will address convocation after the degree has been given.

A new tradition

EAGLE STAFF

On September 22, 2022, the University of Waterloo held a Commitment Ceremony pledging action towards decolonization, indigenization and reconciliation. Weaving in the knowledge, ways of knowing, and understandings of First Nation, Métis and Inuit peoples equips the Waterloo community, especially Waterloo graduates, with the tools and knowledge they need to create a better future for all. The commitment was formalized through a Pipe Ceremony, after which President and Vice-Chancellor, Vivek Goel, was given the name “Ogiima” (meaning leader) and presented with gifts of an eagle feather and two Wampum belts. Our recommitment is formally acknowledged in a special ceremony each fall.

Building on the desire and responsibility to incorporate Indigenous perspectives, the University of Waterloo community came together for a ceremony on March 27, 2023, to welcome an Eagle Staff to the University.

An Eagle Staff is an important element of the Indigenous relationship to Earth and those that have protected it. It reflects the wisdom, strength and honour of those that carry it in representing different nations across Turtle Island. By welcoming the Eagle Staff, the University acknowledges the responsibility to recognize, accept and incorporate Indigenous perspectives in the ways we teach, govern and behave as an institution. The Eagle Staff will be present at future Waterloo ceremonies and celebrations and will have a prominent place in convocation ceremonies.

The Eagle Staff honours the University’s First Nations, Métis and Inuit community members, as well as their traditions, cultures and strengths. It is a sacred item that holds a spirit within itself that is cared for by the Indigenous campus community, and that care is reciprocated by the Eagle Staff.

Waterloo region is situated on territory traditionally shared by Anishinaabeg, Neutral (or Attawandaron), and Haudenosaunee Nations. Though many nations, including the Anishinaabeg, involve an Eagle Staff in their traditions and practices, we respectfully acknowledge that this is not the practice of all nations. With gratitude, we honour and celebrate the unique traditions of all First Nations, Métis and Inuit peoples, and look forward to reflecting this diversity in spirit and custom as we move forward on this path of decolonization, indigenization, and reconciliation.

“THE STAFF WILL SERVE AS AN IMPORTANT SYMBOL AND REMINDER OF THE COMMITMENT WE MADE TO RECONCILIATION AND SERVE AS INSPIRATION FOR OUR UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY TODAY AND FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS.”

Honorary Doctorates

An honorary degree (honoris causa) is the highest honour conferred by the University. Through the conferring of honorary degrees, the University of Waterloo seeks to recognize outstanding achievement, whether academic or through service to society.

DAVID JOHN HAND

MA, MSc, PhD

Doctor of Mathematics, honoris causa

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20 / MORNING CEREMONY

Dr. David Hand (OBE) is Senior Research Investigator and Emeritus Professor of Mathematics at Imperial College, London, as well as Chief Scientific Advisor to Winton Capital Management. Hand is a Fellow of the British Academy, an Honorary Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries, and, in 2013, was made an Officer of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire for his services to research and innovation. He has authored or co-authored more than 300 scientific papers and 20 books, and his research has garnered him numerous awards including a Research Merit Award from the British Royal Society.

ALISON PHIPPS

OBE, PhD

Doctor of Letters, honoris causa

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21 / MORNING CEREMONY

Dr. Alison Phipps (OBE) is professor of Languages and Intercultural Studies at the University of Glasgow and UNESCO Chair in Refugee Integration through Languages and the Arts. Author of eight books and over 60 articles, her research and teaching focus on refugee studies, social justice, and intercultural education. She is an active supporter of refugee rights, having served on the board of Right to Remain and as co-founder of the Glasgow Refugee, Asylum and Migration Network. Phipps is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, the Academy of Social Sciences, and a recipient of the Royal Philosophical Society's Minerva Medal.

WEIYA XU

PhD

Doctor of Engineering, honoris causa

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21 / AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Dr. Weiya Xu is the former vice-president at Hohai University, and is a highly acclaimed researcher in engineering rock mechanics. Through fundamental, theoretical, computational, and experimental research, Xu developed an innovative and realistic system of theory and associated methods and made several seminal contributions to theory and practice. His pioneering contributions include the study of coupled thermal, hydraulic, mechanical, and chemical processes.

Honorary Members of the University

The Honorary Member of the University designation is the highest honour a staff member can obtain at the University of Waterloo and is granted upon retirement. It recognizes the individual for outstanding service to the University as a whole, not limited to one department or faculty. For faculty members, it recognizes distinctive administrative service to the University.

SCOTT WILLIAM DAVIS

BES, MA

Co-operative and Experiential Education

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20 / MORNING CEREMONY

Scott Davis has had an outstanding career, spanning over 35 years within co-operative education. His work as a program coordinator supported thousands of students in their learning, and as faculty relations manager he collaborated with associate deans on program reviews, new program development, and problem-solving student cases. Davis joined the Risk Management, Economic and Actuarial Science Development in Indonesia project which resulted in the Indonesian government adopting co-operative education as a recognized model of education. Outside of the University, he served on the board of Experiential & Work Learning Ontario (EWO) as chair, was active with Co-operative Education and Work Integrated Learning Canada (CEWIL CANADA), and was chair of the Accreditation Council.

KAREN TREVORS

BSc, MSc

Faculty of Science

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20 / AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Karen Trevors received a Bachelor of Science Honours degree in Biology from Acadia University in 1979 and a Master of Science degree in Biology from the University of Waterloo in 1981. Trevors was hired as an instructor in the Department of Biology at the University of Waterloo in 1985 and worked in that capacity until 2000 when she was hired as executive officer in the Faculty of Science. She remained in that role for the rest of her career at Waterloo. Trevors also served on many University committees, including staff relations, staff dispute resolution, joint health and safety, staff grievances, and honorary degree. Trevors retired from the University in 2023.

WILLIAM CHESNEY

BFA

Faculty of Arts

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21 / MORNING CEREMONY

William Chesney joined the Department of Communication Arts (formerly the Department of Drama and Speech Communication) in 1993 and served as associate dean of undergraduate studies from 2007 to 2019. An innovative researcher and practitioner of stagecraft, he produced over 80 set and costuming designs at the University as well as for countless productions across Canada. Chesney is highly regarded for his teaching and mentorship, especially in helping students realize their artistic vision. He led the Faculty of Arts in transforming its curriculum to better meet student needs. Chesney is a tireless advocate for the fine and performing arts, and effectively championed their societal contributions at the university and beyond.

DENNIS HUBER

BBA, CPA

Administration and Finance

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21 / AFTERNOON CEREMONY

As the longest serving vice-president in the University of Waterloo's history, Dennis Huber played an integral role in supporting the evolution of Waterloo into the world-class institution of higher learning we know today. Arriving at Waterloo in 1986 as a plant operations manager, he rose to become director of Business Services, then associate provost, general services and finance and finally, in 2001, vice-president, administration and finance. Thanks to his tireless efforts, Waterloo acquired an additional 50 acres of lands and buildings, its facilities more than doubled in size and it opened four satellite campuses. His leadership was instrumental in the development of the David Johnston Research + Technology Park on the University's north campus, as well as the interconnection of most buildings within the ring road. In every aspect of his work, Huber promoted responsible and sustainable stewardship of the University's financial and physical assets. Retiring last fall after 36 years of outstanding service, he left a lasting mark on Waterloo.

Guest Speaker

MARGARET MUTUMBA

BSc, MPH, PhD '21

School of Public Health Sciences

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20 / AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Dr. Margaret Mutumba is a global health innovator focused on access to affordable healthcare in low resource settings. She has over 10 years of health sector management experience in Sub-Saharan Africa. She also has research experience in maternal, reproductive, fertility and health systems. Mutumba has proven success in health innovation and entrepreneurship. She possesses a strong ethos of equity, evident in actions that support diversity, inclusion, and anti-racism. Mutumba earned an Honours Bachelor of Science, Pharmacology, Kings College London; a Master of Public Health, Imperial College London, and a Doctorate in Public Health Sciences, University of Waterloo. She is program director at Frugal Medical Innovations at Western University.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Abedifirouzjaei, Hajar (Systems Design Engineering)
“Autonomous Radar-Based Gait Monitoring System”

Abolhasani, Atekeh (Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering)
“Experimental Analysis and Modeling Investigation of Precipitation Kinetics and Hardening in Two Al-Zn-Mg-Cu Alloys”

Adibi, Azin (Chemical Engineering)
“Engineered Polysaccharide, Alpha-1,3 Glucan, as a Functional Filler of Rubber Composites”

Aldhafeeri, Tahani (Chemical Engineering)
“Biomass Derived Laser-Induced Graphene with Embedded Catalysts: Towards Enhanced Oxygen Reduction Reaction Catalytic Performance”

Alshehri, Omar (Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering - Nanotechnology)
“New Platform Designs for Enabling Atomic Interactions in Solid and Gaseous States”

Amini, Amir-Reza (Electrical and Computer Engineering)
“On Nonlinear Time-Invariant Behavioural Models of Power Transistors Used in the Computer-Aided Design of Power Amplifiers”

Asgarimoghaddam, Hatameh (Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering - Nanotechnology)
“Spatial Atomic Layer Deposition of Alumina-Based Thin Film Encapsulation for High Performance Perovskite Solar Cells”

Atkinson, Jonathan (Electrical and Computer Engineering - Nanotechnology)
“Silver Nanowire Networks in Electrochromic Devices”

Azvar, Milad (Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering)
“Chip Geometry, Cutting Force, and Elastic Deformation Prediction for Gear Hobbing”

Bidart, Rene Stephen (Systems Design Engineering)
“Representational Redundancy Reduction Strategies for Efficient Neural Network Architectures for Visual and Language Tasks”

Burgess, Kiefer Joe (Management Sciences)
“Models of Deterministic and Stochastic Comparison: Two Studies in Applied Operations Research”

Ceja Espinosa, Carlos (Electrical and Computer Engineering)
“Energy Management Systems for Multi-Microgrid Networks Under Uncertainties”

Chaffart, Donovan Robert Gordon (Chemical Engineering)
“Development of a Moving Front Kinetic Monte Carlo Algorithm to Simulate Moving Interface Systems”

Chung, Dong Seob (Electrical and Computer Engineering)
“Investigating the Effect of ZnO Modifications on the Electroluminescence Stability of Quantum-dot Light Emitting Devices and the Underlying Factors”

Cui, Yaodong (Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering)
“Towards Domain Invariant Real-Time Point Cloud Perception”

Danaei, Behzad (Systems Design Engineering)
“Predictive Dynamic Simulation of Human Movement Following Hip and Knee Replacement”

Deng, Jonathan Jiayu (Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering)
“Modelling Physical Mechanisms of Nodule Development in Phono Traumatic Vocal Hyperfunction using Computational Vocal Fold Models”

Ebrahimi Sadrabadi, Bahareh (Electrical and Computer Engineering)
“Investigation into Photon Emissions as a Side-Channel Leakage in Two Microcontrollers: A Focus on Sram Blocks”

Ekowenrenren, Etinosa (Electrical and Computer Engineering)

Waterloo brings home the gold

Alumni Gold Medal recipients share in the pursuit of discovery, so we created a lasting symbol to honour their achievements.

Since 1970, Alumni Gold Medals have graced the convocation gowns of our top undergraduate and graduate students. The Royal Canadian Mint produced these medals in the past – but in the true spirit of Waterloo, we’ve decided to make them ourselves.

Carefully crafted on campus in state-of-the-art labs, each medal is created out of nickel superalloy using a 3D printer. The surface is finished by hand to produce a brilliant shine. Through the process of electroplating, the medal is then coated in 24-carat gold. The result is a tribute to Waterloo’s most accomplished graduates, made for each proud recipient by members of the University community.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THIS YEAR’S ALUMNI GOLD MEDAL RECIPIENTS.
YOU HAVE MUCH TO CELEBRATE, AND EVEN MORE TO ANTICIPATE
IN YOUR FUTURE AS UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO ALUMNI.

Our tradition of regalia

THE GOWN

At the University of Waterloo, as at most universities, academic robes are worn only on these special occasions. In the Middle Ages, robes were everyday clothing, and some students were so poor they had nothing else to wear. The black wrapper now called a “gown” served them as jacket, coat and sometimes bedclothes. Stone college buildings of the Middle Ages were unheated and the colourful “hood” could be pulled up to help keep out the cold wind. Today, the officers of the University, faculty members and graduating students all wear garments that are symbolic, not functional.

The scholars and students in long-ago universities were generally monks and other members of church orders. Over time, their vestments came to identify their universities. There are many variations, and the exact hood, gown or hat worn by an individual are determined by the university where they qualified. The array of colours and styles demonstrates the worldwide range of universities from which Waterloo’s faculty have come.

THE HOOD

Hoods are unique in design and colour to each degree and each university. The academic dress chosen for Waterloo is patterned after that of Oxford, the world’s oldest English-speaking university. The chief officers on the convocation platform – the Chancellor (the ceremonial head of the University) and the President (who is also Vice-Chancellor) – wear gowns of the Oxford cut and trim, each with its own distinctive colour. The gowns worn by recipients of honorary degrees have the same design, as do the black gowns worn by candidates for regular degrees, and the red-and-green gowns which are Waterloo’s regalia for Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

The ritual at convocation reflects the old custom that anyone in a university could wear a gown, but a hood was the symbol for a degree.
