How to use the World Education Higher Database (WHED) to find out if your institution is English Language Proficiency (ELP) exempt?

1. Go to the WHED homepage

On the right side of the page there is a Quick Search section

2. Enter all or part of your institution’s name in the Quick Search box

3. Under Search in: choose All

Click on the Search button
A Search results Institution(s) screen will appear

4. Find your institution and click on the + (plus sign) located on the right below the country name
An information page will open for your institution

5. Under Language(s)

- if English is the only language listed your institution is exempt
- if English is listed with another language, or not listed at all, then your institution is not exempt

In the example above, the only language listed is English – the institution is ELP Exempt.
