Course Description:

This course covers foundational theoretical material in microeconomics. We will begin with models of consumer and producer behaviour based on principles of optimization and construct a theory of competitive markets. We will then examine theories of market influence using modifications of perfect competition and game theoretic approaches.

Course Objectives:

Through lectures, reading and practice in solving problems the course aims to:

1. Encourage an appreciation for the process of model-building in microeconomics.
2. Develop a capacity to reason about economic questions.
3. Gain familiarity with graphical, algebraic and verbal means of analyzing models.

Evaluation:

Midterm Examination 1 (October 12)	25%
Midterm Examination 2 (November 16)	25%
Final Examination (Exam Period)	50%

Midterm Exams: There will be two midterm exams worth 25% each of the final grade in class on October 12th and November 16th. They will test students' acquisition and dexterity with the material in the lectures and problem sets.

Final Exam: The comprehensive final exam will be scheduled during the formal exam period. It will count for 50% of the final grade.

Problem Sets: Three sets of practice questions will be posted along with solutions on UW-ACE course-page. These problems offer students a chance to assimilate the material and practice solving exam-type problems, and are not a component of students' evaluation. Students may gain additional facility with the material by doing problems from the textbook and optional ‘workouts’ exercise books.

Missed work with valid reasons: If a student is unable to take a midterm exam for documented reasons her/his mark will be calculated by transferring the weight of the missed exam to the final exam.

Required Textbook: Varian, H. R., 2006, Intermediate Microeconomics: A Modern Approach, 8th Ed. (Earlier editions are acceptable, though it is the student’s responsibility to ensure that they are familiar with material added to the 8th edition, viz. Chapter 29 Game applications).

Communicating with the instructor. The instructor will rely upon UW-ACE to make announcements, and post problem sets and their solutions. Please use email for administrative concerns. I will be available during office hours to discuss course material, or by appointment in cases where students cannot attend them.

Cross-listed course:

Please note that a cross-listed course will count in all respective averages no matter under which rubric it has been taken. For example, a PHIL/PSCI cross-list will count in a Philosophy major average, even if the course was taken under the Political Science rubric. Please note that a cross-listed course will count in all respective averages no matter under which rubric it has been taken. For example, a PHIL/PSCI cross-list will count in a Philosophy major average, even if the course was taken under the Political Science rubric.
