Course Description

This course explores historical trends and economic theories and models to investigate the development of gender norms and changes in those norms across time. It questions whether physiological differences, economic models (e.g., comparative advantage, specialization, or discrimination) or social constructs can explain gender differences in roles within the family, education, work, pay, and poverty and changes in the differences across time. Social policies designed to diminish gender differences will be scrutinized. Some topics/questions that may be addressed include the rise in labour force participation of women post World War II; occupational and wage differences between men and women; changing educational attainment; and how men and women make decisions regarding marriage, fertility, child care, elder care, and divorce.

In Class Participation

Participation in class will be measured using students' in-class questions. More details provided on the first day of class.

Assignment 1

Students will be asked to prepare a 5-page (minimum) document which motivates a question on gender issues. Each student will do a short presentation of that question in class on the day it is due. More details will be provided on ways to develop and evaluate your question on the first day of class. The first term test will use a combination of the instructor's and the best students' questions as exam questions.

Assignment 2

Students will be asked to write a 10-page report providing evidence on 10 gender-based differences and/or similarities for a country of their choice (excluding Canada and the US). The report will be presented in class on the day it is due. More details on the content and format of the report will be provided on the first day of class and later during the term. Final exam questions will test students' knowledge of the differences and similarities for some (randomly chosen) countries presented in class.

Late Work

Assignments submitted late (leading to no in-class presentation) will receive a grade of 0.

Missed Tests

A student who is ill and misses the term test needs to provide appropriate medical documentation (no photocopies, only original documents) to the instructor within 48 hours of the missed test. If the appropriate documentation has been submitted on time, the weight of the term test will be shifted to the final exam.

A student who has been ill (documentation required, no photocopies, only original documents) and has missed the final exam MUST petition the instructor within 48 hours of the missed final exam to write the departmental deferred examination. If the student has failed to write the departmental deferred examination, the student will automatically receive a grade of 0 for the missed deferred final examination. For more information on the Economics Deferred Exam Policy please visit <https://uwaterloo.ca/economics/current-undergraduates/policies-and-resources/deferred-final-exam-policy>.

Grading Policy

Students who would like their test or assignments regraded need to ask the instructor after class immediately after the test or assignment has been given back. The regrading will apply to the entire test and may not automatically result in a higher grade than before.

Electronic Device Policy and Classroom Expectations

Turn off and do not answer your cell phone. Laptop computers are not permitted in class unless the student can show that it is used for the purpose of notes taking.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to come to every class as there will be in-class exercises and discussions.

Institutional-required statements for undergraduate course outlines approved by Senate Undergraduate Council, April 14, 2009

Academic Integrity

In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo community are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage and the Arts Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline

A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties \(https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/guidelines/guidelines-assessment-penalties\).

Grievance

A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4 (<https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-70>). When in doubt, please be certain to contact the department’s administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Appeals

A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70, Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71, Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72, Student Appeals (<https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-72>).

Note for Students with Disabilities

The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (NH 1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.

If Using Turnitin in your Course

Turnitin.com: Text matching software (Turnitin®) will be used to screen assignments in this course. This is being done to verify that use of all material and sources in assignments is documented. Students will be given an option if they do not want to have their assignment screened by Turnitin®. In the first week of the term, details will be provided about arrangements and alternatives for the use of Turnitin® in this course.

Note: students must be given a reasonable option if they do not want to have their assignment screened by Turnitin®. See guidelines for instructors for more information.
