Course Description

This course covers the conceptual groundwork in microeconomic theory typically used for analyzing choices of people within the market process. The course will serve as a prerequisite for virtually every economics course that you will endeavor to take in the future. We will begin by examining the microeconomic theory of people's consumption decisions. Next, we turn to analyzing producers' decisions using the model of the firm. We then combine the two basic microeconomic building blocks—consumer choice and producer choice—to see how consumers and producers interact within the market. There are many different kinds of markets, but we will focus on four main types: competitive markets, monopoly, oligopoly, and monopolistic competition.

Prerequisite: ECON 101.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Explain the general theoretical approach adopted in microeconomics;
- Reason about economic questions in a systematic, theoretically grounded way;
- Use graphical, algebraic and verbal means to express and communicate economic ideas and concepts.

Older editions are acceptable, but it is the students' responsibility to cover any differences in the content.

Readings Available on LEARN

- LEARN web site <http://learn.uwaterloo.ca>
- Announcements, lecture slides, midterm solutions
- Econ 201 – Math Review—this document covers mathematical concepts that students should be familiar with for the course.
- Problem Sets – practice questions

Sets of practice questions will be posted along with solutions. These problems are not a component of students' evaluation.

- Online Review Quizzes (see below under Review Quizzes)

The LEARN site is down occasionally. Save the course materials to your computer as soon as they are posted. Always be prepared!

Examinations in this course are based on the material contained in the textbook and the presented lecture content (which are strong complements, not substitutes...see Policy on Class Attendance).

Course Requirements and Assessment

The midterms will be written in the class period on the dates specified below and the best result will be worth 25% of your final grade with the second best result being worth 20% of your final grade.

The final exam, which will be scheduled by the registrar during the examination period in August, will constitute 50% of your final grade and will be comprehensive (i.e., cover all course material from beginning to end).

Assessment	Date of Evaluation	Weighting
Weekly Review Quizzes	TBA	5%
Midterm #1	June 1 (in-class)	20% or 25%
Midterm #2	June 29 (in-class)	20% or 25%
Final Examination	Exam Period (scheduled by Registrar's Office)	50%
Total		100%

Review Quizzes

- The purpose of the review quizzes is to help students identify and understand key concepts covered in the lectures and in the textbook.
- The format of the quizzes will mainly be multiple-choice questions, but there may also be some true-false questions, or short answer questions.
- The quizzes will be done online through the LEARN system.
- There will be a limited, but a reasonably long, time window set up in LEARN during which each quiz will be available for completion. There are three attempts for each quiz available and the best attempt counts.
- Quizzes that are not submitted on time will automatically receive a grade of zero.

Midterms and the Final Exam

- The format for both midterms and the final exam will be a mix of multiple-choice questions and written problems.
- The midterm test will be written during the class time.
- The final exam period for the Spring Term 2016 is August 2 – 13 inclusive. Students are expected to be available during this time. Travel plans are not acceptable grounds for granting an alternative final examination time. <http://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/final-examinations/examination-regulations-and-related-matters>
- The exact date and time for the final exam for this class will be determined by the Registrar's Office. The exam schedule is posted online, will be announced in class, and posted on LEARN.
- Only the Registrar's Office can issue final grades.

This grading policy will be implemented strictly for all students in the course (with the exception of verified illnesses – see below).

Missing a Midterm Due to Illness During the Term

- Missing a midterm will automatically result in a grade of zero for that midterm. If the illness can be documented with a UW Verification of Illness Form (the only acceptable document), with approval you may transfer the weight of the missed midterm to the final exam. This remedy is a privilege and not a right.

- The midterm exam schedule has been set and will not be changed for whatever reason (no make-up midterm exams will be offered).

Missing the Final Exam Due to Illness

- Missing the final exam is a very serious matter which automatically results in a grade of zero for the final exam and possibly a failing grade for the course. Please carefully read the Economics Department policy on deferred final exams for instructions.
- No deferred final exam will be provided for students who missed all the exams (including the final exam) in this course

Economics Department Deferred Final Exam Policy

- Deferred Final Exam Policy found at <https://uwaterloo.ca/economics/current-undergraduates/policies-and-resources/deferred-final-exam-policy>.

Policy on remarking of Tests: If you feel that your test was not marked properly, you must advise the instructor within 5 business days of the date on which the test is handed back to the class. Any student that submits a test for remarking should understand that the entire test will be remarked and that their grade may improve, remain unchanged or perhaps even decrease as a result of the remarking process.

Cross-listed course

Please note that a cross-listed course will count in all respective averages no matter under which rubric it has been taken. For example, a PHIL/PSCI cross-list will count in a Philosophy major average, even if the course was taken under the Political Science rubric.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity: In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline (<https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-71>)

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (<https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-70>), Section 4.

Appeals: A student may appeal the finding and/or penalty in a decision made under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than regarding a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline if a ground for an appeal can be established. Read Policy 72 - Student Appeals (https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-72).
