Territorial Acknowledgement

We acknowledge that we are living and working on the traditional territory of the Attawandaron (also known as Neutral), Anishinaabeg and Haudenosaunee peoples. The University of Waterloo is situated on the Haldimand Tract, the land promised to the Six Nations that includes six miles on each side of the Grand River.

Course Description

This course builds upon material covered in MGMT 244– Principles of Marketing. The focus is on how to develop research designs, instruments, and methodologies to answer specific applied research questions and theories. You will develop analytical skills, apply decision tools, and learn frameworks that applies in developing practical marketing strategies.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Apply the marketing concepts taught in MGMT 244;
2. Develop skills in the areas of market analysis, marketing decisions and strategy formulation;
3. Apply skills in communicating analyses, persuasion, and making recommendations;
4. Develop strategic marketing skills related to strategy creation, implementation, evaluation, and adaptation.

Course format

The basic pedagogy in the course takes several forms. The lectures and the readings are the basis of knowledge acquisition. Lectures will be delivered in voice over-PPT videos so that students can progress at their own pace. The reading assignments and application tasks will provide the opportunity to learn the concepts and theories of various marketing research topics, and to apply this knowledge in a systematic manner.

The weekly lectures will be released via LEARN on Mondays in the morning.

Group project	40%	(June 3) July 29
Final Exam	30%	TBA

Evaluation Details

Individual case analysis (30%)

The individual case analysis is an individual assignment that involves review of a case study selected by the instructor. Students will read the case, summarize it and present a marketing strategy related to it. This work is divided into various components with different submission dates:

Company Review and Environmental Analysis (5%)	May 13
Competition and SWOT Analysis (5%)	May 27
STP strategies (10%)	June 10
4Ps Strategies (10%)	July 22

Group case study (40%)

The group project (4-5 students per group) is a collective assignment. The group project is designed to allow students to investigate a product or product line from marketer's perspective. The submission should demonstrate an understanding of the linkages between the marketing mix and the strategic initiatives of the firm and how the marketing mix responds to the needs of a target market. Elements of the project:

- Identify the target market(s)
- Identify direct and indirect competitors. Research how your brand performs compared to them. (Ex. Sales, ad spending, social media followers, etc.)
- How has the brand been addressing the marketing mix historically?
- What environmental factors influence the performance of the product?
- Conduct a SWOT analysis
- Suggestions for marketing managers

Students will submit a proposal (10%) on June 3 detailing the topic of their project and group members. The proposal will also include a timeline and plan for completion.

The final report (30%) is due July 29. Detailed guideline and requirements of the group project are available in the handout to be posted on LEARN.

Exams (30%)

The exam will use multiple choice and short-answer questions in format. It will be scheduled for 2 hour and are closed book examinations. Dictionaries, calculators, and other electronic devices of any kind (including cell phones, smart watches) are NOT allowed to use for the exams.

Students are responsible for material covered in the lectures as well as the assigned chapters/sections in the text. Exam will not be returned to students but may be reviewed by contacting your instructor.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity: In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage and the Arts Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4. When in doubt, please be certain to contact the department's administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

Accommodation for Students with Disabilities

Note for students with disabilities: The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.
