Where to find this course outline:

This course outline is available at two locations for the duration of the term:

- Department of Economics website <http://economics.uwaterloo.ca>
- LEARN web site (requires UW user id and password) <http://learn.uwaterloo.ca>

Brief Summary

This course examines the scope and level of government involvement in economic activity. The main focus is on historical trends and recent developments in the extent and composition of government spending, taxation, and regulation in developed nations. A secondary focus is to introduce the current policy debates in these areas.

There is a voluminous amount of material to cover in this course. We will attempt to get as far through the topic list as our limited time will allow.

Prerequisite: ECON 101 or ECON 100/COMM 103; ECON 102

Course Goals and Learning Objectives

At the end of the course, students should be able to

- apply elements of microeconomic theory to understand how consumers and producers make rational decisions;
- explain the fundamental features of public goods, externalities and information asymmetry;
- apply theoretical understanding to problems of social welfare maximization;
- apply theoretical understanding to a variety of policy issues;
- explain the need for government intervention under certain market conditions;
- use applied economic techniques to analyze conceptual problems in a social insurance context.

Textbook, Coursenotes, and Other Resources

COURSE NOTES

I will be posting summary notes relating to each lecture on LEARN after each class. These notes are intended to highlight key learning objectives and will not necessarily include all of the material discussed in class (i.e. you will need to make notes).

RECOMMENDED TEXTBOOK (I.E. NOT STRICTLY REQUIRED)

Rosen, Harvey S., Jean-Francois Wen, and Tracy Snodden, Public Finance in Canada, 4th Canadian edition, McGraw-Hill Ryerson, 2012.

Examinations and assignments in this course are based on the material contained in the course notes and presented as lecture content (which are all strong complements, not substitutes...see Policy on Class Attendance).

Materials Available on LEARN

As mentioned, I will be posting the course lecture slides on LEARN before each class. It is your responsibility to keep yourself current with the assigned readings as well as maintaining an understanding of the lecture content.

- Any additional course materials (news, updates, announcements) will be posted on the LEARN web site <http://learn.uwaterloo.ca>
- The LEARN site is down occasionally. Save the course materials to your computer as soon as they are posted. Always be prepared!
- Students writing test and exams are responsible to save course materials on LEARN before the access to their courses is shut off (normally on the first day of classes of the next term).

Course Requirements and Assessment

The two individual assignments in this course will collectively be worth 20% of your final grade. The two midterms will be written in the class period on the dates specified below and the results will be worth 20% of your final grade for each midterm. The final exam will constitute 40% of your final grade and will be comprehensive (i.e. cover all course material from beginning to end).

The course grade will be based on the weighted sum of the two assignments, the two midterm exams, and the final examination which will be held during the Official Examination Schedule. The breakdown is as follows:

Assessment	Date of Evaluation	Weighting
Assignment #1	due on October 18	10%
Assignment #2	due on November 27	10%
Midterm #1	October 4, in class	20%
Midterm #2	November 6, in class	20%
Final Exam	TBA (December 6 – 21)	40%
Total		100%

Notes

- The format for both the midterms and the final exam will be a potential mix of multiple-choice questions and written problems.
- The midterm test will be written during the class time.
- The final exam period for the Fall Term 2018 is December 6 – 21 inclusive. Students are expected to be available during this time. Travel plans are not acceptable grounds for granting an alternative final examination time.
<http://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/final-examinations/examination-regulations-and-related-matters>

- The exact date and time for the final exam for this class will be determined by the Registrar's Office. The exam schedule will be posted online, will be announced in class, and posted on LEARN.
- Only the Registrar's Office can issue final grades.

This grading scheme will be implemented strictly for all students in the course (with the exception of verified illnesses – see below).

Examination Policy

Missing a Midterm Due to Illness during the Term

- Missing a midterm will automatically result in a grade of zero for that midterm. If the illness can be documented with a UW Verification of Illness Form (the only acceptable document), with approval you may transfer the weight of the missed midterm to the final exam. This remedy is a privilege and not a right.
- The midterm exam schedule has been set and will not be changed for whatever reason (no make-up midterm exams will be offered).

Missing the Final Exam Due to Illness

- Missing the final exam is a very serious matter which automatically results in a grade of zero for the final exam and possibly a failing grade for the course. Please carefully read the Economics Department policy on deferred final exams for instructions.
- No deferred final exam will be provided for students who missed all the exams (including the final exam) in this course.

Submission of Exam Papers

- Late submission of exam papers is not accepted and missed submissions will receive a zero mark for whatever reason.
- Exam papers must be submitted in whole and on time in the exam room. Exam papers
 - (a) not submitted on time,
 - (b) submitted with missing pages,
 - (c) submitted elsewhere, with the exception of students with permission to write in the AS Office,
 - (d) not received at all
 will receive a grade of zero for whatever reason.
- It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they write exams in the location, date, and time assigned to their section. Students writing exams in the wrong section will be assessed a 20% penalty on the final exam grade. There will be no accommodation for possible differences in exam material or content.

Policy on Missed/Late Assignments and Tests

Any assignment that is not handed in to me during the lecture at which this assignment is due will not be marked and will receive a grade of zero. If you miss that lecture due to illness and therefore cannot hand in your assignment, it will be accepted before the next lecture if and only if accompanied by a relevant medical certificate.

No make-up tests will be provided for the midterm exams. Students who miss a midterm and do not have a relevant medical certificate will receive a mark of zero. Students with a valid medical certificate will have the weight of the relevant midterm added to their final exam. If a student misses the final exam, the resulting procedure is outlined in the Economics department's Deferred Final Exam Policy, <https://uwaterloo.ca/economics/undergraduate/resources-and-policies/deferred-final-exam-policy>

Policy on remarking of Tests

If you feel that your test was not marked properly, you must advise the instructor within 5 business days of the date on which the test is handed back to the class. Any student that submits a test for remarking should understand that the entire test will be remarked and that their grade may improve, remain unchanged or perhaps even decrease as a result of the remarking process.

Attendance Policy

Class attendance is an integral part of your educational experience. While attendance is not an explicitly graded component of this course, it is an important factor in ensuring your complete understanding of the material presented. You are responsible for all material presented in the scheduled lecture periods whether you choose to attend lectures or not.

Classroom Protocols

- I do NOT lend my personal lecture notes to students for any reason.
- In order to maintain a learning environment in this classroom, I expect the highest level of courtesy and professional behaviour from every student. In particular, be punctual and turn off all audible ringers on all devices during class.
- As a courtesy to the custodial staff, if you have coffee, water, etc., please dispose of your garbage when you leave the classroom.
- No private conversations in class will be tolerated.

Intellectual Property

Students should be aware that this course contains the intellectual property of their instructor, TA, and/or the University of Waterloo. Intellectual property includes items such as:

- Lecture content, spoken and written (and any audio/video recording thereof);
- Lecture handouts, presentations, and other materials prepared for the course (e.g., PowerPoint slides);
- Questions or solution sets from various types of assessments (e.g., assignments, quizzes, tests, final exams); and
- Work protected by copyright (e.g., any work authored by the instructor or TA or used by the instructor or TA with permission of the copyright owner).

Course materials and the intellectual property contained therein, are used to enhance a student's educational experience. However, sharing this intellectual property without the intellectual property owner's permission is a violation of intellectual property rights. For this reason, it is necessary to ask the instructor, TA and/or the University of Waterloo for permission before uploading and sharing the intellectual property of others online (e.g., to an online repository).

Permission from an instructor, TA or the University is also necessary before sharing the intellectual property of others from completed courses with students taking the same/similar courses in subsequent terms/years. In many cases, instructors might be happy to allow distribution of certain materials. However, doing so without expressed permission is considered a violation of intellectual property rights.

Please alert the instructor if you become aware of intellectual property belonging to others (past or present) circulating, either through the student body or online. The intellectual property rights owner deserves to know (and may or may not have already given their consent).

Cross-listed course

Please note that a cross-listed course will count in all respective averages no matter under which rubric it has been taken. For example, a PHIL/PSCI cross-list will count in a Philosophy major average, even if the course was taken under the Political Science rubric.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity: In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage and the Arts Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4. When in doubt, please be certain to contact the department’s administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

Accommodation for Students with Disabilities

Note for students with disabilities: The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.

If you are using Turnitin® in your course

Turnitin.com: Text matching software (Turnitin®) will be used to screen assignments in this course. This is being done to verify that use of all material and sources in assignments is documented. Students will be given an option if they do not want to have their assignment screened by Turnitin®. In the first week of the term, details will be provided about arrangements and alternatives for the use of Turnitin® in this course. Note: students must be given a reasonable option if they do not want to have their assignment screened by Turnitin®. See guidelines for instructors for more information.
