Welcome to ECON 206. This course is designed to provide an introduction to the fundamentals of money, banking and financial markets, with emphasis on the Canadian economy. Topics include, but are not limited to, measures and functions of money, behavior of interest rates, central banking, aggregate demand and aggregate supply, and the theory and practice of monetary policy. Upon successful completion of the course, students should be able to describe the role of money and financial markets in the economy, explain the money supply process, describe what determines interest rates, explain the functions of the Bank of Canada, and understand the workings of aggregate demand, aggregate supply, and monetary policy.

To get the most out of the course, students are strongly encouraged to attend all lectures, participate in class discussion, and do the homework assignments. Knowledge of basic algebra is required for the course.

Evaluation

| | Weight |
|--|---------------|
| Midterm exam 1 (Oct 4 th , in class) | 20% |
| Midterm exam 2 (Nov 8 th , in class) | 20% |
| Final exam (scheduled by the Registrar's office) | 60% |
| | 100% |

Important Notices

- No deferred or make-up midterm tests. If the student miss a test due to illness and provide a hard copy of the mandatory University of Waterloo Verification of Illness Form within 48 hours of the missed test, then the weight of the test will be shifted to the final exam. Otherwise, a mark of zero will be given to the missed test.
- It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they write exams in the location, date, and time assigned to their section. Students writing exams in the wrong section will be assessed a 20% penalty on the final exam grade. There will be no accommodation for possible differences in exam material or content.

- Lecture slides will be posted on LEARN. Note that these slides are very incomplete and as such, students need to attend all lectures and take notes. The LEARN website may not be available from time to time. Download the slides as soon as they are posted. I do not lend my lecture notes and slides to anyone for any reason.
- To maintain a classroom environment that is conducive to learning, students are expected to have the highest level of courtesy and professional behavior. Students must be punctual and turn off all audible ringers on phones and other electronic devices while in class.

Cross-listed course

Please note that a cross-listed course will count in all respective averages no matter under which rubric it has been taken. For example, a PHIL/PSCI cross-list will count in a Philosophy major average, even if the course was taken under the Political Science rubric.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity: In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage and the Arts Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4. When in doubt, please be certain to contact the department's administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

Accommodation for Students with Disabilities

Note for students with disabilities: The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.
