  - Part 3: Academic Integrity
    - Q&A Period
- Closing by Ajoy Opal, Associate Dean Teaching

Part 1: Tips for Online Course Development

Tips for Instructors

- Time is a serious factor...but, offering a good quality online course is absolutely possible.
- Pick a tool (e.g. Bongo, PowerPoint, WebEx, Teams, Camtasia etc.) and then stick with it...use Learn tools to keep things simple (and effective).
- How to begin:
  - start with the course syllabus
  - move onto the policies
  - then add each week's modules
  - think of using some third party resources (YouTube videos, Ted talks, Stanford U videos and other freely available stuff). Be mindful of the copy rights issues.
- Think long term...If possible, don't use time specific information in your recorded videos...(you may want to use them in the future).
- What we did at ManSci – S2020 faculty members subscribed to Piazza – plenty of useful resources shared by Ken McKay.

Course Templates in LEARN

The Remote Learning group has built a set of templates for LEARN courses. These templates are available (alongside resources & tips for their effective use) in a LEARN course called Templates for Remote Teaching.

To access the templates, log in to LEARN, select "Self Registration," scroll down or CTRL+F to "Templates for Remote Teaching" and click on the course title link and register in the course. Note that this is an *Ongoing course, so it won't appear under a specific term the next time you log in to LEARN.

Once enrolled, you can download the templates, edit them in Word, and re-upload them to your own LEARN course OR you can import directly to your LEARN course and manipulate the HTML there as desired.

Templates have been recently updated for Fall 2020.

Some of the questions we address include: When are teams more effective than individuals? What are effective ways to motivate employees? How does personality affect job performance? What leadership styles are effective with different employees? In addition to reading the text, students play audio-video presentations of lectures and expert interviews. Weekly Peer Reviewed Assessments and Case Studies are completed online using Discussions and Dropboxes on LEARN. It encourages the exchange of ideas among student peers.

Grade Breakdown

The following table represents the grade breakdown of this course.

Activities and Assignments	Weight
Introduce Yourself	Ungraded
Syllabus Quiz	Ungraded*
Commentary for Module 1	Ungraded
Commentary for Modules 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, 12 (8 at 5% each)	40%

Dave thinks he has the best job anyone could ever have. He is held personally accountable for his work, and receives a lot of feedback. For these reasons, he sees the results of his work. His job also gives him the chance to continually improve himself and do his personal best. He is responsible for planning, performing, evaluating, and changing his projects as he sees fit. He influences others to some extent but he works mostly on his own. This does not bother him, as he likes the autonomy. Finally, Dave likes his job

Hey guys, I hope you all had a nice Thanksgiving weekend and that you're enjoying your fall reading week so far. I just wanted to check in to see if everyone has read those two documents that Dr. Shah posted a while ago (Project Scope Document and Student-Industry Kickoff Checklist). Our next step as a group is to compile a list of questions for our industry partner. Maybe everyone could contribute a question or two in the next couple of days to get things started? I would rather not leave this all until the last minute so hopefully we can all get a discussion going around this. Hope to hear from you all soon. Thanks.

Description

The Organizational Consulting Project is worth 20% of your final mark. This project will be completed in randomly-assigned teams of 4-5 students. It entails developing an action plan that addresses a leadership or management challenge currently faced by a real organization.

The project has three phases:

Phase 1 – Project Plan: Students will connect with organization representative(s) to devise the project scope and prepare a detailed plan for completion of the project.

Phase 2 – Project Execution: Students will work on deliverables outlined in the project plan. Teams will periodically communicate with organization representative(s) as needed to complete project tasks.

Phase 3 – Outcome–10-page Report (double spaced; 12 pt.): Students will submit a detailed report on the outcomes of the project. The suggested report length does not include appendices or references. Use APA citing style.

In order to complete this project, your class will be piloting, for the University of Waterloo, the services of Riipen.

What is Riipen?

Riipen is a Canadian company that connects students with industry partners to facilitate students

Instructions for Completing the Project

Please read these instructions carefully to gain a full understanding of this project and its requirements. There are a number of steps to complete, with deadlines, over the duration of the course.

1. Create a Riipen account and join the University of Waterloo portal:

IMPORTANT: This step must be completed by the deadline set out in the Course Schedule.

- a. Create your Account with Riipen using your University of Waterloo email address.

Important: Please use the form WatIAMusername@uwaterloo.ca (your WatIAM username is what you use to log in to LEARN and Quest).

You will receive an email from Riipen with a link to confirm.

- b. Go to your Riipen project home page, then select "Join as Student". Use the access token 73061185.

- c. You will now have access to an overview of the MSCI 211 project, Organizational Consulting Project.

- d. At this point, you may explore the Riipen website further, or simply log out.

- e. Await your instructor to assign you to a team and industry partner - check your UWaterloo email for correspondence from Riipen as per the deadline set out in the Course Schedule.

Description

You will use the online application called PEAR (Peer Evaluation, Assessment, and Review), developed at the University of Guelph, to evaluate your peers for the Organizational Consulting Project.

Peer Evaluation of Organizational Consulting Project Teams

- Each member of the group will need to complete a peer assessment form in PEAR for each of their peers. The group mark may be adjusted for individual group members, if necessary, based on the peer assessments they receive.

Accessing PEAR

- Follow the instructions on the Logging in to PEAR help page to access your password before logging in for the first time.

Completing your peer assessment

- Your peer assessment forms must be submitted before the deadline specified in the Course Schedule.
- Please see the Completing a group assessment  help page for instructions on how to submit the peer assessment form for each of your group members.

somewhere in your case, perhaps, more mention on the stakeholder management theory could have been ideal.

For instance, on what basis was the 20% increase in prediction laid out by GE? Did it involve all the various stakeholders? Or was it just from the perspective of shareholders?

For instance, in the London Review of Books /https://www.lrb.co.uk/the-

PowerPoint

- Asynchronous software provided to all staff and students through Office 365
- Create visual notes that can be viewed in presentation format
- Annotate notes, add voice recordings, and add video
- Upload notes and presentation to Learn as a PowerPoint or export presentation as Mp4

Recording Lectures using Microsoft PowerPoint

1 Go to Slide Show > Record Slide Show > Record from Beginning

2 Select RECORD button to start recording.

3 You can now start narration.

You can also use annotation tools as required.

The screenshot shows a presentation software interface with a dark theme. At the top, there are controls for PAUSE, STOP, and REPLAY, along with a NOTES icon, a CLEAR button, and a SETTINGS dropdown. The main area is a white slide titled "Recording in Progress". The slide content includes the text "Testing 1 2 3" which is highlighted in yellow and underlined with a red line, and the equation  $1 + 2 = 3$  written in green. At the bottom, there is a toolbar with various drawing tools (eraser, highlighter, pen) and a color palette. The status bar at the bottom left shows "Slide 16 of 16" and "0:34 / 0:34". On the right side of the slide, there are navigation arrows. A red L-shaped line connects the text in step 4 to the toolbar and the right side of the slide.

5 Make sure to adjust Microphone and Camera settings as required.

If anything goes wrong,
use the CLEAR option.

A. When carrying costs are constant, all curves have their minimum points at the same quantity.

B. When carrying costs are stated as a percentage of unit price, the minimum points do not line up.

Start with 13 workers and keep them throughout. This results in 0 backorder & ending inventory in month 8.

Hiring cost/unit =  $$3000/10 = $300$

Because numbers of backorder and inventory (shaded yellow) are small throughout, and hiring cost per unit ($300) is more than backorder cost per unit per month ($250), & lay off & rehiring cost per unit after up to 5 months  $$300/5$  is more than carry cost per unit per month ($50), hiring and layoff cannot lead to a lower total cost.

Some General Online Teaching Tips

- Ask your TAs to watch for inactive students in Wk3 and send personal email "we notice you are inactive, can we help?"
- Syllabus Quiz: no marks; must score 100% to unlock other quizzes
- Discussion Forums: Try to monitor them daily, TAs can also be asked to monitor daily (e-tone)
- Quizzes: Provide a window of at least 24 hours to administer quizzes. Life happens. Consider developing an optional quiz to substitute score for lower or missing assignment.
- Projects: Dropbox (use Turnitin®)
- Final Exam (can't say much here...but, generally, it shouldn't be heavily weighted)

Some General Online Teaching Tips

- Gaming the Course System
  - PDF search in open book Qs
  - Teamed quiz-taking
  - Take care that non-uWaterloo emails are actually from enrolled students – don't share personal info to 'unofficial' email addresses
  - Many other methods ... remain attentive to very small % of cheaters
- Online Purchase of Past Student Course Notes/Assignments
  - Alas, available from student-run sites
- Lockout of Students to D2L
  - Rare instances of technical failure of D2L or campus power – contingency planning
  - As with verified medical reasons, verified technical failures can be accommodated with Wk13 retake

Some General Online Teaching Tips

- Other matters ...
  - Foster learning; Maintain level playing field; Preserve academic integrity
  - Expect the unexpected – many, not all, things are anticipated
  - General discussion where students can talk amongst themselves
  - Check all the links
  - Schedule weekly meetings with your TAs to keep all on track

Q&A Period

Part 3: Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity

- With in-person courses now fully online, students feel more enabled to collaborate, use external resources and violate academic integrity policy
- Cheating cannot be fully eliminated, but there are tools and tips to regulate it

Academic Integrity - Tools

- LEARN Question Pool
  - Create a question pool using the LEARN Quiz feature
  - Make different versions of the same question
  - LEARN will randomly assign a question from the question pool to each student
- Randomize Answer Order
  - Option to randomize answers for each student using the LEARN Quiz feature

Academic Integrity - Tips

- Include a Policy 71 reminder before each assessment
- Create unique, high-order questions that require critical thinking
- Do not reuse exact questions from past quizzes, midterms, finals or other assessments

Academic Integrity - Tips

- Set an appropriate time to complete the assessment
- Delay grade availability of the assessment
- Have protection of assessment questions when reviewing them with student
