Final Examination Arrangements and Schedule

Please carefully review the information about final examinations for online courses, including dates, locations, how to make examination arrangements, writing with a proctor, and deadlines.

If you are taking any on-campus courses, you will automatically be scheduled to write your exam on campus. No action is required.

If you are taking only online courses, do one of the following:

- If your address in QUEST is within 100 km of an examination centre, you must choose an exam centre in Quest by Monday September 28, 2015. This must be done each term.
- If your address in Quest is more than 100 km from an exam centre, you must arrange for a proctor. Please review the guidelines and deadlines for writing with a proctor. This must be done each term.

Your online course exam schedule will be available in Quest approximately four weeks before your exam date(s). Instructions on how to find your schedule are posted on the Quest Help page.

University of Waterloo Senate-approved examination regulations and related matters can be found on the Registrar's website.

Official Grades and Course Access

Official Grades and Academic Standings are available through Quest.

Your access to this course will continue for the duration of the current term. You will not have access to this course once the next term begins.
Your instructor uses the News widget on the Course Home page to make announcements during the term as needed. You are expected to read the News on a regular basis.

To ensure you are viewing the complete list of news items, you may need to click Show All News Items.

A General Discussion topic* has also been made available to allow students to communicate with peers in the course. Your instructor may drop in at this discussion topic.

ABOUT THE COURSE AUTHOR - JAY DOLMAGE

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

I studied English Literature and Creative Writing at the University of British Columbia. I then completed an MA in Creative Writing and English Literature at the University of Windsor, and fell in love with teaching writing. I have always been involved in disability rights issues and advocacy, and during work towards a Ph.D. at Miami University of Ohio, I discovered that I could bring my interest in disability into the study and teaching of rhetoric and writing. My dissertation (and a subsequent book project) focuses on the rhetorical history of disability, and the development of bodily rhetorics. For four very enjoyable years, between 2006 and 2010, I taught at West Virginia University, where I also coordinated a large first-year writing program. In the summer of 2010, I returned to Canada, excited to begin the next stage of my career at the University of Waterloo.

PHILOSOPHY OF TEACHING

I believe that all students have the right and the ability to learn—and that the best classes bring together the most diverse groups of students in ways that mutually benefit all. I think Universities should be places where we work together to improve our entire society, and not just special or elite places for the select few. I also believe that teaching writing teaches important intellectual habits and can be a form of civic engagement, in addition to the academic and job-related skills students can gain. I feel that, as a teacher, I always need to be open to learning, too.

INTERESTS

I like to run, swim in lakes, read and write fiction, and build things.

FAMILY/CHILDREN/TRAVEL

I have two wonderful and hilarious kids, Vernon and Francine, and a dog named Tito. My partner Heather is a social worker in the KW area. As a family we like to travel across real and imaginary worlds.
COURSE DESCRIPTION AND ACTIVITIES

English 109 is designed to get you comfortable writing in an academic context. You will learn about different forms of academic writing, as well as the processes that great writers engage in to create their best work. You will read texts to learn more about how they were written, and thus to improve your own writing.

Because we value learning as a social activity, and thus recognize that writers and readers learn from one another, much of your work in English 109 will involve different kinds of collaboration with your peers.

We believe that this work of writing and reading rhetorically is an important process that takes place over time, and, as such, this course uses portfolio evaluation as the primary means to assess your work. You will get to revise all of your writing many times.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The objectives of English 109 are to

- help you develop your abilities as a writer and reader of texts;
- help you to think critically and communicate effectively;
- learn and practice a variety of strategies for inventing, drafting, and editing texts written in different genres and for different audiences;

• help you learn to read rhetorically;
• learn ways to adapt your writing to different situations, so that you can more effectively and more powerfully communicate; and
• prepare you to succeed throughout your academic career, regardless of your discipline.

This online course was developed by Dr. Jay Dolmage, with instructional design and multimedia development support provided by the Centre for Extended Learning. Further media production was provided by Instructional Technologies and Multimedia Services.

RESOURCES

- University of Waterloo Library (Services for Students Taking Online Courses)

1. Unit Assignments
   - Unit 1 Assignment: 10%
   - Unit 2 Assignment: 10%
   - Unit 3 Assignment: 15%

2. Final Portfolio (2 best essays out of 3): 30%
3. Unit Activities (completion grades): 20%
4. Unit 3 Summary Paraphrase and Quotation Activity: 2.5%
5. Unit 3 Smart Research Activity: 2.5%
6. Final Examination (timed writing): 10%
   - Note: Students must pass the final exam to pass the course.

ASSESSMENT OVERVIEW

In every unit, there will be a series of small activities and short writing assignments. If this work is completed satisfactorily, you will receive full points. Doing this work also prepares you to do well on your major essays.

You will write three major essays in this class, and this will represent the bulk of your course work. Each essay will be 4-5 pages long, and each will represent a key genre of academic writing. You will receive a "final-for-now" grade on these three major essays when they are handed in.

You will then choose your two best major essays to revise again and you will create a final ePortfolio (eP) presentation. You will submit this presentation at the end of the semester for a final portfolio grade. The final portfolio will also include other evidence of your learning, including reflective writing, rough work, and other earlier drafts of the two chosen essays.

There will be an exam for the class that is designed to help you learn how to successfully plan, organize, and complete timed writing assignments.

Success in this class depends on meeting all of the requirements, the quality of your written work, and your willingness to try new perspectives, to revise and rethink, and to take risks.
COURSE AND DEPARTMENT POLICIES

STANDARD OF WORK

This is a university-level course, and you are expected to be comfortable with the mechanics of writing; that is, to understand and use proper grammar, syntax, and punctuation in order to communicate effectively. The course textbook, How To Write Anything: A Guide and Reference with Readings, Third Edition offers guidelines and activities to help you with these mechanics. If you need extra assistance with the basics of writing, it is your responsibility to seek help.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES AGREEMENT

Every member of this course—instructors as well as students—has rights and responsibilities to ensure a pleasant and productive experience for all. We are all answerable to University policies governing ethical behaviour (Policy 33 - Ethical Behaviour) and academic integrity (Policy 71 - Student Discipline), as well as to those outlining grievance or dispute procedures (Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances).

LATE WORK

Late papers (major assignments) will be penalized 2% (applied to your final-for-now grade) per day late. All major papers must be completed—you will fail the class if any of the major papers is not completed and submitted, however late. You must also complete all other shorter assignments on time. Check the Course Schedule for all due dates. Remember that many short assignments will not be available to complete or submit if you miss a due date. It is very important that you also provide feedback to your peers in a timely manner. Late peer-review notes will miss out on a significant completion grade, and a pattern of late or insufficient peer-review may result in other penalties.

COURSE CONCERNS

If you are experiencing problems with the course or with the marking, you should first discuss your difficulties with your TA via email. If your problem persists, then you should contact the course instructor via email.

Students who believe that they have been wrongfully or unjustly treated or penalized have the right to grieve; refer to Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances.

ONLINE ETIQUETTE

We want the class environment to be a positive one for everyone. Together we will create an online space that promotes mutual respect, positive discussions, the free exchange of ideas, and the productive use of time.

FINAL EXAM
Students must pass the final exam to pass the course.
UNIVERSITY POLICIES

SUBMISSION TIMES

Please be aware that the University of Waterloo is located in the Eastern Time Zone (GMT or UTC-5 during standard time and UTC-4 during daylight saving time) and, as such, the time that your activities and/or assignments are due is based on this zone. If you are outside the Eastern Time Zone and require assistance with converting your time, please try the Ontario, Canada Time Converter.

ACCOMMODATION DUE TO ILLNESS

If your instructor has provided specific procedures for you to follow if you miss assignment due dates, term tests, or a final examination, adhere to those instructions. Otherwise:

Missed Assignments/Tests/Quizzes

Contact the instructor as soon as you realize there will be a problem, and preferably within 48 hours, but no more than 72 hours, have a medical practitioner complete a Verification of Illness Form.

Email a scanned copy of the Verification of Illness Form to your instructor. In your email to the instructor, provide your name, student ID number, and exactly what course activity you missed.

Further information regarding Management of Requests for Accommodation Due to Illness can be found on the Accommodation due to illness page.

Missed Final Examinations

If you are unable to write a final examination due to illness, seek medical treatment and have a medical practitioner complete a Verification of Illness Form. Email a scanned copy to the Centre for Extended Learning (CEL) at extendedlearning@uwaterloo.ca within 48 hours of your missed exam. Make sure you include your name, student ID number, and the exam(s) missed. You will be REQUIRED to hand in the original completed form before you write the make-up examination.

After your completed Verification of Illness Form has been received and processed, you will be emailed your alternate exam date and time. This can take up to 2 business days. If you are within 150 km of Waterloo you should be prepared to write in Waterloo on the additional CEL exam dates. If you live outside the 150 km radius, CEL will work with you to make suitable arrangements.

Further information about Examination Accommodation Due to Illness regulations is available in the Undergraduate Calendar.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo community are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. If you have not already completed the online tutorial regarding academic integrity you should do so as soon as possible. Undergraduate students should see the Academic Integrity Tutorial and graduate students should see the Graduate Students and Academic Integrity website.
Proper citations are part of academic integrity. Citations in CEL course materials usually follow CEL style, which is based on APA style. Your course may follow a different style. If you are uncertain which style to use for an assignment, please confirm with your instructor or TA.

For further information on academic integrity, please visit the Office of Academic Integrity.

DISCIPLINE

A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity to avoid committing an academic offence, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration, should seek guidance from the course instructor, academic advisor, or the undergraduate Associate Dean. For information on categories of offences and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties, check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

APPEALS

A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline, may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

GRIEVANCE

A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4. When in doubt please be certain to contact the department’s administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

FINAL GRADES

In accordance with Policy 19 - Access To and Release of Student Information, the Centre for Extended Learning does not release final examination grades or final course grades to students. Students must go to Quest to see all final grades. Any grades posted in Waterloo LEARN are unofficial.

ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES

AccessAbility Services, located in Needles Hall, collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodation to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with AccessAbility Services at the beginning of each academic term and for each course.

ACCESSIBILITY STATEMENT

The Centre for Extended Learning strives to meet the needs of all our online learners. Our ongoing efforts to become aligned with the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA) are guided by University of Waterloo AccessAbility Services Policy and the World Wide Web Consortium’s (W3C)
Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.0. The majority of our online courses are currently delivered via the Desire2Learn Learning Environment. Learn more about Desire2Learn’s Accessibility Standards Compliance.
