Dear ENGL 193 students:

Sorry I've been quiet during this difficult time. I've been sick with the flu--got better for a few days and then got WAY worse. Anyhow, I'm doing okay today and hope everyone has been staying healthy and managing as best the can. For everyone's sake, I hope that we can wrap up this course in the simplest way possible.

1. I've updated the criteria for the poster presentation. Essentially, this is now a digital poster assignment that you will complete individually.

2. I will have only one online "lecture" powerpoint for you to go through and answer questions. This will count for 3 participation marks as it will take the place of three lectures. I will have this ready in the next day or two and send out an email.

3. Experiment.com genre marks will be back to you on Tuesday. I gave the TAs extra time given the shut down this week.

4. No participation self-reflections will be due. Those marks will be absorbed into the in-class participation marks, which means the weight of this component is now 20%.

That's all I have for now. In the meantime, if you have any questions or concerns, please let me know. My goal is to support your successful completion of this course!

Sincerely,

Andrea
