Creative Writing 1 is aimed at encouraging students to develop their creative and critical potentials. This course consists of readings, discussions, writing assignments, and writing workshops.

Class Text: Stephen Minot's Three Genres: The Writing of Poetry, Fiction, and Drama. (Copies of this text will be on reserve at the Dana Porter library.) In addition to the Stephen Minot writing text, you will be responsible for providing copies of your poem or short story to the workshop group. Workshop material will be distributed one week prior to the workshop date. Be sure to set aside $30.00 for photocopying costs incurred during the term.

I encourage you to make frequent trips to the current periodical section in the library and to attend the public readings at St. Jerome's in order to familiarize yourself with the contemporary literary scene.

Attendance: Much of this course is conducted as a workshop in which the writing of each class member is discussed on a regular basis. Regular attendance is mandatory as class participation, willingness to thoughtfully revise your work, and not raw talent alone, will form the basis for much of the final grade. Any absence without good cause will affect your final grade.

Late Assignments: No late assignments will be accepted without a medical certificate or proper documentation. If you do have to hand in a late assignment be sure to staple the proper documentation to the assignment. Late assignments will be returned at the end of the course.

Grades/Assignments:

Attendance, In-class participation, Reading assignments, Constructive workshop participation, ungraded writing assignments..........................20%

Workshop Drafts: Your workshop draft must be typed and carefully edited for spelling, grammar, etc. It must be thoughtfully written in the days immediately preceding the due date (please do not hand in undeveloped "journal poems," or work written for other courses).

POETRY

Poem #1 - January 13 (27 copies--1 copy per class member, 2 for instructor)
  - at least 16 lines and at least 140 words in length.................................00
Please note that you will be required to write another poem if you do not fulfill the length requirements.

Poem #2 - due January 27 (10 copies--1 copy per group member, 1 for instructor)
  - at least 14 lines and at least 120 words in length..............................00
Please note that you will be required to write another poem if you do not fulfill the length requirements.

Revised Poem - due February 10 (1 copy)
Your revised poem (#1 or #2) will be thoroughly edited and revised. In addition to the revision you must include a 750 word explanation of your revision process. Please refer to the elements of poetry covered in class and the text.................................30
FICTION
Flash Fiction - due February 17 (27 copies: one per class member, 2 for instructor)
- aprox 1000 - 1250 words in length

Flash Fiction #2 - due March 10 (10 copies: one per group member, 1 for instructor)
- aprox 1000-1250 words in length

Revised Flash Fiction - due March 24
Your revised flash fiction (#1 or #2) must be thoroughly revised and edited. In addition to the revised fiction, you must include a 750 word explanation of the revision process. Please refer to the elements of narration covered in class and the text.

DRAMA/PERFORMANCE
Collaborative Performance — March 24

Class Schedule:

January 6: Introduction // Reading Assignment: Part One, Poetry (1 - 134)

January 13: Poem #1 due — 27 copies // Film: United States of Poetry

January 20: Poetry Workshop (class)

January 27: Poetry Workshop (class) // Poem #2 due - 10 copies

February 3: Poetry Workshop (groups) // Reading Assignment: Part 2, Fiction (139-274)

February 10: Fiction Lecture // Revised Poem due

February 17: Flash Fiction #1 Due (27 copies) // Collaborative Group Work

February 24: READING WEEK

March 3: Fiction Workshop (class)

March 10: Fiction Workshop (class) // Flash Fiction #2 due (10 copies)

March 17: Fiction Workshop (groups)

March 24: Collaborative Performance; Fiction revision due

March 31: Material Returned
English 335 / March 24
Collaborative Performance: 20%

For this assignment you will form groups; three or four people per group. On March 24, you will hand in a printed script and do a collaborative performance of approx. 10 - 15 minutes in length. The subject matter and form of the performance is wide open, anything from a conventional one-act play to sound poetry (and anything in-between) is acceptable. Be sure to consider the distinction between language on the page and language performed. You will be graded on your use of language, your collaborative process, the originality, complexity, and rendering of the script, and the form and cohesiveness of the (dramatic) structure. This assignment is about exploring language, but it can also be about pushing the parameters of genre. I encourage you to be innovative.

Please note that if you incorporate other texts, they must be properly cited in the script. Outside texts should comprise less than 20% of your text.

Please note also that 50% of your mark will be determined by a group mark which I assign, and that the other 50% is based on an individual grade determined by the individual members of your group. You will evaluate each person’s involvement in the collaborative process and assign a grade. This will be handed in with the script.