The Selected Studies courses (ENGL 365/366) are intended to provide interested students with the opportunity to pursue independent study in an area or a field not covered by other regularly scheduled courses.

Before registering for ENGL 365 or ENGL 366, you must gain Departmental approval for the proposed course by getting the signature of the Undergraduate Officer. Start by working out as precise a definition of the project as possible and by securing the agreement of the professor who will supervise the project. Then, in consultation with the professor, compose a specific description of the proposed course, including aims of the course, specific works to be studied, specific essay or report assignments, scheduling of and evaluation method for assignments, etc. (Be realistic about what can be accomplished within a single term; do not suggest something which is likely to spread beyond one term.)

After working out the details with your professor, fill in the form, sign it, and obtain the professor’s signature, and submit it to the Undergraduate Officer for the Department approval. (If necessary, attach additional pages.)

Please note: if you are requesting that the course fulfill a specific English degree requirement, please list it at the end of the form. The Undergraduate Chair will indicate whether or not that request is granted.
