TRI-UNIVERSITY GRADUATE SYMPOSIUM 2019
CALL FOR PAPERS
RESPONSIBILITY IN THE HUMANITIES

Why do we do what we do? In our increasingly corporatized higher education with more and more emphasis on profits and finding a job, we often have to justify why what we do matters.

Why do we do what we do? In our increasingly corporatized higher education with more and more emphasis on profits and finding a job, we often have to justify why what we do matters. The Arts in general are significantly underfunded and undervalued due to the perception that our work is irrelevant beyond the walls of the classroom. The public often judges the relevance of a discipline based on how it might translate into a viable source of income.

This conference aims to explore the values inherent and provided by the pursuit of higher education in literary studies and the humanities. What do we seek to gain through our education and how does it benefit others? What responsibility do we, as scholars of the humanities, have in our society? How has the humanities changed to address these questions?

POSSIBLE TOPICS
Value of Higher Education, Literature/Film/Rhetoric/Games and Social Change,
Representations of Ethics/Responsibility, Eco-Criticism,
Disability/Wellness/Mental Health Rhetoric, Labour/Class and the University,
Social Activism, Community-Based Research and Pedagogy, Concepts about the “Ivory Tower,” Role of Public Scholarship, and More.

EXTENDED DEADLINE: MAR 15TH, 2019 BY MIDNIGHT
Submit work to uwaterlooocfp@gmail.com

Include an abstract of 250-300 words, a short bio of 50-100 words, your contact information, and affiliation as well as your dietary restrictions/food preferences. Conference will take place on April 12th from 9am-5pm in E2 1732