DISCOVER YOUR STORY AT WATERLOO
Boozhoo, Shé:kon, Waachjiie, Tansi, Aanii, Tungasugit, Sago, Tawnshi, Greetings! At Waterloo, you’ll find resources and opportunities just for Indigenous students, from weekly meetups to scholarships to an on-campus living community.

CONNECT TO INDIGENOUS CULTURE

Whether you were raised with Indigenous teachings or want to reconnect with your culture, there are lots of opportunities to join the community on campus.

REFLECT
The Ceremonial Fire Grounds and Medicine Garden offer a sacred space for individual use, ceremonies, education, and other gatherings.

COME TOGETHER
Meet new people and catch up with friends over soup, bannock, crafts, and more, hosted weekly by the Waterloo Indigenous Student Centre (WISC). You can also reach out to an Indigenous elder on campus for support.

CELEBRATE
Every fall, WISC hosts a Pow Wow to honour traditional teachings through drumming, dancing, food, and crafts.

FEEL AT HOME
Be part of a close-knit living community that supports the needs of Indigenous first-year students, offered by United College and WISC.
FINANCIAL SUPPORT TO ACHIEVE YOUR GOALS

Waterloo offers several scholarships and bursaries for Indigenous students. Scholarships are awarded primarily based on academic and personal achievement, while bursaries are issued based on financial need.

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE
ranging from $1,200-$20,000 for incoming Indigenous students

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF TRADITIONAL TERRITORY

The University of Waterloo acknowledges that much of our work takes place on the traditional territory of the Neutral, Anishinaabeg, and Haudenosaunee peoples. Our main campus is situated on the Haldimand Tract, the land granted to the Six Nations that includes six miles on each side of the Grand River.
