

Join us for a graduate seminar with Deborah Britzman on psychoanalysis and the classroom

Deborah Britzman holds the Research Chair in Pedagogy and Psycho-Social Transformation and a Distinguished Research Professorship at York University. She is a Psychoanalyst and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada.

Her books include A Psychoanalyst in the Classroom (SUNY Press, 2015), Freud and Education (Routledge, 2011), and The Very Thought of Education: Psychoanalysis and the Impossible Professions (SUNY Press, 2009).

Time: Thursday, June 14 11:30-2:20

Place: HH 259

Light Refreshments Provided

RSVP for readings: akuzniar@uwaterloo.ca

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO
FACULTY OF ARTS
Department of Germanic and Slavic Studies

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO
FACULTY OF ARTS
Department of English Language and Literature

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO