

GER 615/715, ENGL 790
Winter 2018

The native speaker in language education

COLLOQUIUM

Thursday, April 5, 2018
EV3 3412

8:45	Welcome and early morning colloquium stretching
9:00– 9:20	Mistakes and Deficiency: Redefining Language Learning as a Meaning Making Process Viktoria Pekarskaya
9:20 – 9:40	The Multilingual Turn. Overcoming the Native Speaker Ideal through Fostering Symbolic Competence Jasmin Lissitsin
9:40 – 10:00	NativeSpeaker101: A College Course Evaluation Marta Wilkinson
10:00 – 10:20	Decentralizing the Myth of the Native Speaker in English 109 Christin Taylor
10:20 – 10:40	Do Students Really Prefer “Native-Speaker” Teachers? Sara Marsh
10:40 – 11:00	But je suis multilingual? Constructing language teacher identity Taylor Valnion
11:00 – 11:20	Coffee break
11:20 – 11:40	Multilingualism in Mainland China Katherine Tu
11:40 – 12:00	“Maybe I will become a banana”: the Story of Ning, from China to France Tessa Smits
12:00 – 12:20	Conscious and “Dysconscious” Native Speakerism in ELT Versus Translanguaging as a Necessity and Reality in Nepali Context Chitra Kumar Karki
12:20 – 12:40	‘Be a Better Citizen of the 21st century’: Hidden Ideologies of the ‘Native Speaker’ in ELT Advertisement Laura Kronauer

12:40 – 1:00	Why Should We Care about the Death of Snakish ? Exposing Monolingual Folk Language Ideology Jacob Michael Sigmund Stephan
1:00 – 2:00	Lunch break
2:00 – 2:20	Changing the Fundamental Principles of Native Speakerism through Power Sharing in The Grass Dancer Bibi Ashyana Harricharran
2:20 – 2:40	Nationhood, Narrative, and Nerve: Unleashing The White Tiger Zahra Kara
2:40 – 3:00	English as the Official, Unifying National Language of Nigerian Literature Richard Barnett
3:00 – 3:20	Multilingual Code Switching - Creating a Cultural Immune System Chris Martin
3:20 – 3:40	Why Learn Latin? An Analysis of the Discourse of Compulsory Latin for Language Education Students in Germany Lea Schmidt
3:40 – 4:00	Coffee break
4:00 – 4:20	Arbitrary but Useful Ideals: Institutional Native-Speakerism and the MLA Job Listings Rebekka Corneil
4:20 – 4:40	“Vivid and authentic”: The Native-Speaking Language Assistant and Pädagogischer Austauschdienst Alexander Sullivan
4:40 – 5:00	Fack ju Göhte 4: Native Speakerism within the Goethe-Institut Miriam Meurer
5:00 – 5:20	“Die Sprache der Bundesrepublik Deutschland ist Deutsch”. Language governmentality in the Verein Deutsche Sprache Jana Köpcke
5:20 – 5:40	As easy as ABC: Lessons of Governmentality within Ontario’s Elementary Language Curriculum Elizabeth Milne
From 5:45	Seeking closure @ the Graduate House

Thank you to the NSC sponsors:

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO
FACULTY OF ARTS
Department of Germanic and Slavic Studies

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO
FACULTY OF ARTS
Department of English Language and Literature

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO
FACULTY OF ARTS
Department of French Studies