*To allow council to complete a number of matters quickly and to devote more of its attention to major items of business, the agenda has been divided between items that are to be approved and/or received for information by consent and those that are to be presented individually for discussion and decision and/or information. A consent agenda is not intended to prevent discussion of any matter by the council, but items listed under the consent sections will not be discussed at the meeting unless a director so requests. Directors are supplied with the appropriate documentation for each item and all items will be approved by means of one omnibus motion. The Council will then move immediately to consideration of the items on the regular agenda.

Makahnouk called the meeting to order at 3:45 pm
1. The agenda is approved unanimously. (Gaster/McGillivary)

Consent Agenda:

BIRT the Council members approve and/or receive for information by consent items 2 and 3 of the Consent Agenda.
Item 2, minutes of the January 29, 2014 Council meeting.
Item 3, Reports of the Executive.
(McRoberts/Piazza). Approved unanimously.

4. Questions & Answer Period
   • Robbie: business arising o Centre for Career Action: Staff provides services for staff and alumni, which is supported by the staff/alumni budget. Staff is provided for graduate students by the SSAC fee. The Director indicated that graduate usage has risen and it would be unfair to say that graduate students use it less than undergraduate students, based on percentage of population. Graduate students are paying less than undergraduate students and the shift to equalize the support addressed in the review. An increase, that will be less than $1.00, may be applied.

Questions:
Haghneghadar: It seems unusual that the use is the same based on the number of undergraduate students. Henderson clarifies that the usage based on a percentage of the population is fair. They provide career advising, resume reviews, career planning etc.

Even updates Council on the status of the family clinic at Health Services. The construction is delaying the opening of the Family Clinic as it is being housed in the original building, which is being renovated. They are turning away families. They are directing people to the Ontario website for more information about family clinics. Haghneghadar believes that the initial plan was that as soon as they start to bill us the facility is useable.
The health services fee is initiated once occupancy is gained. The Health Services facility is being used, and most services are available. The family services was not a triggering factor of initiating the fee, the fee was for the expansion of the facility in general. Barb has to direct families to off campus resources.
The $10.00 fee was not specifically for the family services, but graduate students specifically asked to include family services as part of the expansion.
Action: Henderson and Even will follow up. They will talk to Chris Read, and double check the original referendum question.
The expected opening is in the spring term.

Broom: Clarify the varsity sports and the athletic fee.
Henderson roughly half of the funding goes to campus rec and half to the varsity portion and the varsity portion pays for direct costs and associated cost (space). Last year there were about 19 varsity athletes. This is disproportion to graduate students. Henderson believes there is an access issue with graduate varsity athletes. There are sports specific rules as to how long you can access / play in varsity. Campus Recreation, everyone has access to recreational activities. Henderson has made this argument for two years to review the fee/split to athletics.

Makahnouk and Henderson are working on a new project to provide a career workshop on graduate expectations and preparation for post graduation.

5. VP Student Affairs, Coleen Even

- Waterloo Strategic Plan Implementations.
  - Follow up to a special project that she identified in her report.
  - (Theme) Outstanding Academic Programming (theme)

Objective 1:
Educate graduates to be uniquely prepared to address the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century.
This is an ever-changing document.
Graduate students concerns:
Oral/writing communication skills in English
Professional and transferable skills.
Look at departments that offer workshops to enhance the graduate experience and skillset.

Objective 2:
Enhance Waterloo’s Excellence in Academic Programs.
Graduate student concerns: Development of new innovative program.
There is no baseline by which to measure this.

Objective 3:
Ensure teaching quality of the highest international standard.
Graduate student concerns:
Course evaluation, TA orientation, peer review of teaching & teaching dossiers, outstanding graduate supervision and mentoring, online program, on-line teaching (grads/faculty), and participation in instructional development programming.
A task force to be initiated by 2015 to gather information.

Objective 4:
Expand Waterloo’s footprint in the online-learning market and provide leading edge, technology – enabled learning opportunities.

Graduate student concern:
Increase online programs, and increase innovative methods of course delivery.
How will graduate students be affected? As TA’s.
The next step is to hold student consultations, discussion with dean, the CTE, and other partners on campus. The evaluation process will provide information to determine the feasibility of initiating such programs. This also has to be linked to Waterloo’s Strategic Plan.

Henderson: There are lots of co-curricular programs across campus. What are the barriers that allow graduate students to participate? How do we make it okay to let grads to take time from their research to participate on these programs.

Mario and Horton want to address students at the AGM. They are basing this on the number of students currently attending workshops. They will be discussing these issues at focus groups.

This could inform policy such as the one for staff to enhance their workplace skills. Waterloo staff are given a time allotment annually where managers are “required” to allow staff to participate.

Henderson: This could be built into a new “student right to participate” policy.

Haghnegahdar: How many working hours per week are defined for the GRS and define what their “own time” is. It will give a solid framework in identifying entitlement. Could there be some solid framework regarding the number of hours expected to earn a GRS?

Makahnnouk: GRS are here as students, not employees. There should be no attempt to link the GRS to certain hours since it is a scholarship rather than employment.

Ho: It would be good to have an environmental scan of the number of hours graduate students are working on their research. Curious to know what is the average is for graduate research.

Makahnnouk: There is an argument for student life balance and wellness by at least identifying a minimum.

Broom: The hours doing research may not provide any data. How do you distinguish between the productive work and same hours spent on personal items? It encourages supervisors to micro manage the work. She is more in favour strengthening mechanisms for students that are having problems with supervisors.

Messa: the GRS is to support you as a student doing research, not employment per hour worked.

Haghnegahdar: How much would a supervisor have to pay someone external to do this work that a student is doing?

McGillivary: disagrees, the bottom line is that students are here to get a degree. An external person already has the credentials to do the work.

Gaster: There are aspects within the university that gets work done on the backs of students. TA’s and sessional staff do work and at times TA’s are treated as employees. Every aspect of a graduate students work benefits the university, but this is all complicated.

Mathias: It is not just about employment, but by doing this work, graduate students are developing their skills.

Haghnegahdar: Graduate students have to pay all the extra things to cover their living expenses. As an international student has to work on extra things, like TA to cover expenses, which takes away from research. He expressed that international students are more disadvantaged than a PR or domestic students. How much freedom does a graduate student have to earn extra wages?

Broom: There is a clear distinction between research responsibilities and TA responsibilities. In addition, graduate students sign a contract to do the research, and signing the contract is a choice. The choice is to be a student.

Even: On June 2014, international students will be able to work off campus without a special visa, and find better ways to subsidize research. Students can work full time when you are on “break” and part time when in session.

Henderson enjoyed hearing this discussion, there are aspects of what graduates do at university that do qualify as employment. It is impossible to define research hours as work. The real issue is preventing the exploitation of students and how does one define this?

• Ring Road Changes: documents for changes to improve safety.
Safety Advisory Committee made a report and recommendations to improve safety on ring road, especially on the east side of campus.
Recommendations include traffic calming measures (speed bumps), reducing vehicular traffic volumes, “right of way” to pedestrians, installing four crossing on the east side of campus on Ring Road, relocating transit/bus stops, have southbound buses use the east side of Ring Road only and northbound buses use the west side of Ring Road only.
The four crossings will be implemented, and possibly fencing (or some barrier) on the outer curb of Ring Road directing pedestrian traffic to the crossings.
Council viewed the official presentation.

Student Feedback:
Concern of having to cross Ring Road to catch a bus.
- The transit stops would be on the inner curb of Ring Road and the outer lane would be fenced to direct foot traffic to the crossings.
- Generally, council likes the idea of limiting/reducing traffic on campus.
- Waterloo will most likely want to maintain Ring Road as a private road. This is maintained by closing the road at least once a year. When negotiating with GRT, Waterloo should make the best choices for students. An alternate decision may be to have bus traffic on the public roads around campus and leave campus restricted to Waterloo vehicles only, although this was not specifically presented as a choice. (i.e. Westmount, Columbia, Philip, and University).
- Funding for this project will be from the Waterloo operating budget.
- Are there any plans to create a transit hub in the newly acquired lands from Blackberry? This was one of the recommendations since the LRT will be near this location.

- Graduate Student Orientation Committee
  A Council or graduate student member is needed for the Committee and a call for graduate student volunteers for orientation.
  March meetings with orientation committee.
  Coleen, will send a call to the general population to join the orientation committee.

6. Other business:
   The GSA Executive Elections link will be up on the website and the forum will be up on YouTube.

   The AGM will be held on March 27, 2014 and a Council meeting will be called only is there is need.

7. The meeting is adjourned at 5:02 PM.

WRMM: rv
Report of the President to the GSA Board of Directors and Council
Robert D. E. Henderson

April, 2014

The past few months have been extremely busy, but we have made a lot of progress on a number of projects. Our review of the student fee protocol will extend into next term; however, Coleen and I will continue to represent the GSA at these discussions. Similarly with the ADDS policy review.

Provost Geoff McBoyle sent the new Class Z policy to the Senate Graduate & Research Council (which has 7 graduate students as representatives) for comment, and it received full endorsement with no issues. This should mean that the Provost will have the green light to sign it through at last. However, in practice this policy is now being followed as far as the GSA is aware. If you discover evidence to the contrary, please contact gsa-vpsa@uwaterloo.ca.

Several new graduate funding awards have been introduced, but most relevant to all faculties is the new Doctoral Thesis Writing Award, which will supply $8,000 for one term for graduate students in the final stages of their degree (post comprehensive, courses) who can demonstrate financial need. In the end, this will help free up other funds which will be used to provide four-year funding guarantees.

Despite the recommendation from GSSAC to raise the TA rate to $30/hr as of 1 May, 2014, and top up the scholarship funds, the provost did not accept this scenario. Instead, the TA rate will be raised to $30.15/hr as of 1 May 2014 (representing a full 3% increase), and no scholarship top-ups will be made. Apparently the scholarship funds are in surplus. We are investigating.

On a similar note, the new minimum guarantee of funding for all doctoral students within funding time limits will be $21,225 as of 1 May, 2014. As of 1 May, 2015, the minimum guarantee will rise 3% to $21,865. Please let us know if you suspect that this minimum is not being met for any doctoral students within their funding limits.

Our VP Internal and I are working on re-negotiating the Graduate House lease with the university, with positive progress thus far. When the new lease is finalized, we will report on the details.

An update to the Memorandum of Agreement is in progress (and will be discussed at the meeting). As circulated by e-mail to Council, the substantial change is to ensure that the university consults on and reports to the GSA on graduate students appointed to university committees, and that those representatives are to report on their meetings to the GSA Council.

An exciting event this month was hosting the GU15 conference of other GSAs at UW. We made a very positive impression on our fellow GSAs and shared a lot of important information with our counterparts across the country.

Update on Committees:

CASA

CASA's AGM was Mar 14-16 in Charlottetown, PE. A part of this conference was CASA's year in review which highlighted some of the many achievements of CASA this year, which included: the Tri-Agency open access policy (currently under consultation), multiple-entry visas for study permits, in-study work visas and eliminating the vehicle assessment from Canada Student Loans assessment. CASA has been advocating on these issues for some time and it is exciting to see our advocacy efforts come to fruition in these areas. Each of these issues offers significant benefits to students across Canada.

Additionally, this year's AGM included vigorous debates about the future direction of CASA, including potential changes to CASA's bylaws and the ways in which CASA produces its research and advocacy documents. Several motions regarding membership, associate membership, and voting structures, were raised, discussed and eventually voted down; however, expect to hear more from this in the near future. Additionally, CASA approved a revision to the policy format, changing from individual policies to more comprehensive policies that unite what previously had been separate polices into one whole. As well as adopting a framework of “Principles, Concerns, and Recommendations.”

Finally, a working group has been struck to reinvision the nature of CASA's board, aiming to increase CASA's flexibility to respond to current events.

All in all, I think that it was a productive weekend; however, some of the discussions had at the AGM might have consequences. For instance, the FEDS who have been at an Associate member status for over a year, have now officially left CASA.

Town and Gown Committee: Student Housing Working Group

In the past couple months, the Town and Gown Committee has struck the “Student Housing Ad Hoc Working Group” to obtain feedback from students regarding housing in Waterloo and how the city can better meet the needs of students. The GSA helped promote the working groups online housing survey and also conducted 2 focus groups to obtain more in-depth feedback from graduate students on their housing needs and concerns. A report on the focus group findings along with recommendations to the city of Waterloo has been submitted to the Student Housing Ad Hoc Working Group. The Working Group's whole report was then submitted to the Town and Gown Committee where it will form a starting point for a more cohesive strategy on Student Housing in Waterloo. Particularly, the T&G committee suggested that next steps might include education campaigns about Waterloo Rental Licensing bylaws, and developing relationships with the developers building new residences in the area.

External Affairs Committees

The Committee did not meet in the last two months due to the busy time of year. However, in the next few weeks the committee will be working on its annual report as well as putting together content for an External Affairs web-page on the GSA site, highlighting the GSA's involvement with external groups.

General Comments

Since the AGM, I have spent the majority of my time finishing work that can be completed before I leave office on April 30th. The General Manager of the GSA and I met with the VP Internal Elect to discuss the role of the VP Internal and to give a snap shot of how the GSA operates. The accounting model and financial statements were reviewed during the meeting.

The GSA governance review will not be completed by the time that I complete my term as VP Internal. I have agreed to complete the proposed amendments to the constitution and intend to present the revised constitution at the June meeting of the Board of Directors.

I am interested in continuing as the GSA representative on the SSO’s Student Leadership Operational Group. I will provide a brief update to the Board during our meeting.

Finally, the GSA president and I have been negotiating renewal of the Graduate House lease with Dennis Huber, UW Vice President Administration and Finance.

Special Projects

The OGSA Board of Directors continues to make progress with work on a variety of action items. I intend to present the 2013-14 Annual Report of the OGSA to the GSA Board of Directors at the June meeting. The OGSA will be holding an Annual General Meeting in late May to review the audited statements and elect a new Board of Directors. The Annual Report will be presented to members at this meeting.

Work that is being completed:

Audit
Budget (draft prepared)
Financial Operational Procedures
Lobby Registration (almost completed)
Payroll (completed)
Website (to be launched soon)
Mission, Vision, and Values (completed)
Technology Tax Credit (draft)
Ontario Ombudsperson brief
2013-14 Annual Report
Special projects

- Housing

Through the Town & Gown committee, our VP external, Matthew Gaster, joined the Student Housing ad hoc working group. The position of the T & G committee and its members allows them to direct initiatives in order to improve student success and quality of life as it relates to housing.

We were asked to advertise a housing survey directed at students and administer focus group discussions to provide qualitative data. You can find the focus group report in the materials attached.

- Joint-Health and Safety Committee

Members of the JHSC committee received the feedback from the Ring Road changes presented at council in February.

- Implementation of the University of Waterloo Strategic Plan – Theme area “Outstanding Academic Programming”

In order to move forward the group will conduct a mini Town Hall to receive feedback from the University community, i.e. faculty, students and the community at large. It is important you provide your comments so that the team can modify and change any orientation taken on the different objectives set by the team and identified in previous reports to council.

I will be presenting on the issue of graduate student professionalization and if you have any comments or requests please send them along so that they can be addressed!

Committee Updates

Student Affairs Committee –

The committee met in March and reviewed the focus group questions to use them during the actual discussions. The committee received for information and discussion the advocacy office model that would provide a neutral, confidential and centralized service for students. The office would rely on two key contacts an ombudsperson and a student advocate. In March, students received information regarding space and multi faith/use of space. This issue will require a working group to collect data, provide the administration with a proposal to ensure that students’ needs are answered.
Orientation –

Our foci over the last two months regarding orientation were: communications, budget, tentative schedule, and activities. The budget for the Welcome Reception was accepted ($7,000). The SSO provided us with a first tentative schedule of the day and week. Moving forward the activity committee is set to meet more regularly and enter the “doing” phase organizing activities for the “day of”. Volunteers for this committee who are willing to help in this process should put their name forward. We will also look into organizing social events within the community so that we reach out and help our students integrate the KW environment (for example St-Jacobs’ market on Saturday).

Introduction

The Town & Gown (T&G) committee of the City of Waterloo has recently struck a Student Housing Ad Hoc Working Group with the objective to collect (survey and focus group) and review existing data related to student housing.

Through the Town & Gown committee, our VP External, Matthew Gaster, joined the Student Housing Ad Hoc Working Group. The position of the T & G committee and its members allows them to direct initiatives in order to improve student success and quality of life as it relates to housing.

The Graduate Student Association through the T&G committee members Matthew Gaster (Vice-President External), Rose Vogt (GSA - General Manager) and in collaboration with Coleen Even (Vice-President Student Affairs) and Krista Mathias (GSA – Executive Assistant) were able to advertise the ongoing survey and host two focus groups.

Our two council committees— the External Affairs Committee and the Student Affairs Committee worked closely to develop a set of questions for the focus groups. After consultation and agreement our group decided to work with the following questions (using prompts to allow further discussions):

1. What factors helped you in your decision making process to choose your accommodation?
2. Safety: is your neighbourhood safe? Is your house / accommodation safe?
3. Regulations: Are you familiar with the content of your lease / contract and/or do you know what the Residential Tenant Act is? Do you know whether your landlord is in compliance with it?
4. How do you think housing in Waterloo could be improved, changed?

Evaluation
Our study was conducted on Thursday 13\textsuperscript{th}, March. The Graduate Student Association decided to set up two focus group discussions to allow various students to participate at different times. The first session was hosted from 12:00 to 1:00 pm in the Board Room of the Graduate House at the University of Waterloo. The second session was hosted from 3:00 to 4:00 pm, in the same location.

Two students attended the first session (three had answered) while one student attended the second one (two had shown interest).

In order to recruit participants, our call went out less than a week prior the events. On Friday 7\textsuperscript{th}, March we advertised the online survey to our cohort as well as the two focus groups. We sent a friendly reminder through various contacts on campus the day prior the two focus groups (i.e. Wednesday 12\textsuperscript{th}, March).

Our participants represented different categories of students: we had two domestic students and one international, two PhD students and one in a Master’s program. We did not have any part-time student representation.

Results

A. Key points, summary and comments

What factors helped you in your decision making process to choose your accommodation?

One of the first factors identified as having a significant impact on the choice is money. It encompasses not only the price of the rent and utilities but also how processes surrounding securing an accommodation, renting a place for a certain amount of time or having to move a lot impact the choice:

- Inability to execute money transfers for international student;
- Fear associated with money transfers (fake advertisement)
- Rent increases when student asks to remain for a shorter term (i.e. charge for a full year even if the rental is less than that).
- Drastic rental increases
- Cost of moving (security deposit, first and last month rent…)

The financial aspect surrounding the choice of an accommodation does not only depend on the actual price of the rent. It also involves processes certain students face when having to secure an accommodation. The University of Waterloo tends to have a growing international population (around 32\% currently and growing). Their situation seems to be harder due to money transfers, accountability of landlords, legitimate advertisements…

A second important factor regards the type of accommodation graduate students tend to privilege.
- Looking for a decent place to stay (no unfinished basement, pets regulations, no basement with no windows…)
- Accuracy of advertisement for a place – pictures / reality
- Need to physically see it to gage whether the place is a good fit
- Less roommates
- Quiet place
- In house laundry (not coin operated – hours of use…)
- Furnished vs. unfurnished (for international students furnished housing is an asset)
- Roommates per unit (choice of roommates, size of unit)

Graduate students’ needs might be different than undergraduate students’ needs. Due to their personal experience, work and situation, graduate students tend to look for quieter places with a smaller amount of units within one accommodation.

Also, graduate students tend to be influenced by the surroundings, the location as well as the available amenities:

- Places close to the University are heavily populated with undergraduate students (no desire to remain there)
- Commonly known party places that graduate students avoid (word of mouth, i.e. Ezra, Hazel, Albert, Lester)
- Amenities: groceries, bus routes, as long as both are present, students are comfortable with it whether far or close).

Graduate students tend to be more flexible. As long as the bus route is fairly close they don’t seem to mind the transportation time. It has to be an accessible area where students can benefit from a variety of services (grocery shops, laundry mat, buses, etc)

Finally, some of the comments received during our focus group regarded the landlords:

- Communications with landlord (present vs. absent)
- Lease requirements have to match students needs (1 year might be fine but some students need shorter terms) / flexibility over terms of agreement
- Restrictions and regulations depending on the landlord (pets, food when living with the landlord, visitors, lease)

The accountability and integrity of the landlord seem crucial. Communications with them should be easy and the terms of agreement should be clear, comprehensive and upstanding. Graduate students might require more flexibility when signing a lease. They are also entitled to a fair and equitable treatment (not having to pay in a 4 months period the sum of one year of rent). There should be clearer guidelines for landlords who live with tenant (i.e. visitors, conduct, and behaviour…). The agreement needs to remain within fair and equitable lines.
Safety: is your neighbourhood safe? Is your house / accommodation safe?

The online survey proposed two questions that could relate to safety: security in the building and privacy. The focus group allowed us to go into more details:

- Differences in between building security and apartment security (location of locks)
- Safe neighbourhood
- Waterloo is relatively safe
- Certain areas are not well-lit (bus routes & stops)
- Bus stops and distance with accommodation (non-regulated late night stops to increase safety)

From the comments of our groups, housing safety does not seem to be problematic for graduate students, whether it relates to the neighbourhood, the building or the apartment. Comments pertained to buses and late night transportation.

Regulations: Are you familiar with the content of your lease / contract and/or do you know what the Residential Tenant Act is? Do you know whether your landlord is in compliance with it?

In order to understand whether graduate students received the appropriate information regarding their housing situation, we felt it was important to determine what knowledge students have in these fields.

- Do not know Residential Tenancies Act (RTA)
- Knowledge of parts of the lease
- Comprehensive lease, no jargon
- Security deposit / key deposit demanded – did not know RTA legislation about it
- No direct knowledge about licensing – landlord informed of rule regarding units
- Checking legislation only in case of problems
- Do not know about the Landlord and Tenant Board
- Do not know about rules regarding rent increases
- Accountability of landlords

There is a certain lack of information, whether from students who do not know and do not check the provincial legislation or the landlords who do not provide sufficient information regarding roles and responsibilities of each party or comprehensive information regarding the rental agreement.

How do you think housing in Waterloo could be improved, changed?

To know what graduate student housing would look like we asked these students what could improve the situation, to which they responded:
- Smaller units (furnished / not furnished)
- Ability for international students to pay rent from abroad
- More integrity form landlords (accountability/ trust/ ratings)
- Registered houses (inspections)
- Violations to code/safety should be addressed
- Information is made public – education of student population
- Prices

B. Conclusion, interpretation

According to the answers recorded through the focus group discussions, two themes emerge:

- Student housing planning
- Education

Student housing planning:

The city of Waterloo might want to address student housing according to the needs identified for each group of students. Graduate students (part-time or full-time) seem to require another type of accommodation. As identified with the last question, graduate students would rather have smaller units either furnished or unfurnished in quiet zones, still accessible and fairly well served with amenities.

Off campus housing should be easily accessible and graduate students from various places (out of town, out of province, out of country) should be able to obtain a place in fair, legitimate, transparent and secure ways.

Education

Housing is key in having a good experience as a student. Reflecting on the comments heard during the focus groups, education regarding housing in Waterloo seems fundamental. This education component concerns graduate students as well as landlords.

- Roles and responsibilities of each party (identify them on the lease, guidelines for landlords when they get a licence…)
- Advertising Guide to the RTA (new students should be receiving some sort of documentation from the city, by-laws, RTA…)
- Review processes and mechanisms with inspections &/or guidelines and rules
- (money transfers, security deposits, leases, licencing, rent increases…)

C. Additional comments:
- Some students did not fall in any of the categories provided by the survey preventing them from responding e.g. part-timers who might be staff as well as student, some of them own a house and rent it for a family; students who are already living in their own house…
- During our discussions we have heard many informal set ups and mechanisms that student use to secure accommodations in Waterloo, investigating or looking at them would probably be extremely informative.

Congratulations to Michael Makahnouk, Connor Hart, Taya McGillivary, Maya D’Alessio, and Mike Piazza elected to the 2014-2015 GSA Board of Directors.

Thank you to all the candidates for competing in these elections. I hope that you will continue to participate in the GSA and serve the graduate students at the University of Waterloo.
Memorandum of Agreement Between
Graduate Student Association - University of Waterloo
And
University of Waterloo

The university recognizes the separately incorporated Graduate Student Association – University of Waterloo (GSA) as the representative of graduate students at the University of Waterloo (UW).

This agreement outlines the official working relationship between the GSA and UW in terms of communication and consultation, decision making and policy development. It does not speak to facilities, services or access to services provided to the GSA by the university for which there are agreements already in place (Appendix C). The Graduate Student Relations Committee (Appendix A) anchors the working relationship.

Graduate students are represented on various university committees, councils and other groups, as detailed in Appendix B. This list is reviewed and updated annually by GSRC.

A list of graduate students appointed to committees (here, a “committee” also includes, but is not limited to, councils, working groups, task forces, and other decision-making or advisory bodies, whether standing or ad hoc, at all levels of university administration, services or academic units, where the graduate student representatives are normally expected to represent the interests or views of the graduate student population beyond a single academic unit) shall be reported at least annually, by the respective committee, to GSRC. The university recognizes the importance of consulting with the GSA on appointments of students to committees where they are expected to represent the interests or views of the graduate student population beyond a single academic unit. Graduate student representatives who sit on such committees are accountable to the GSA, through its own Council, for reporting on their activities and ensuring that they represent, in good faith, the interests and views of the Waterloo graduate student population appropriate to their role.

Further, UW senior administration has confirmed the importance of the relationship between the university and the GSA through its commitment to consult with the GSA on the appointment or reappointment of the Associate Provost, Graduate Studies.

Notwithstanding the formal processes identified above, the GSA, through its President and/or executive, is also encouraged to discuss any matters of concern directly with the Associate Provost, Graduate Studies.
Embedded throughout this memorandum of agreement are links to various committees/councils (includes terms of reference and membership), and to a number of documents (regulations, guidelines, policies), which pertain to graduate students.

Appendix A

Graduate Student Relations Committee

Established by Policy 1, the Graduate Student Relations Committee provides for regular communication and consultation among the GSA and senior university officers. The committee is responsible for: developing and revising policies and guidelines concerning the terms and conditions of employment for graduate students and is consulted on policies that affect graduate students; informing, monitoring and coordinating efforts to implement the university's long-range or strategic planning goals relating to student affairs and engagement; receiving, for information and comment, proposed changes in tuition and co-op fees; and reviewing and recommending to the Provost new incidental fees and changes to existing incidental fees assessed to graduate students (except for those fees determined by the GSA, or ancillary fees which are determined or recommended by committees on which GSA representatives sit, and those prescribed by contractual agreements between UW and the GSA). The committee meets monthly and is chaired jointly by the Associate Provost, Graduate Studies and the GSA President. While committee meetings are conducted in confidential session to allow its members the opportunity for frank discussion of sensitive matters, members of the committee are encouraged to maintain open communication with their respective councils/boards (i.e., GSA Board of Directors, Council and Executive; Deans’ Council, Graduate Operations, Senate Graduate & Research Council) and to seek their endorsement on issues before they are put into action.

Graduate Student Support Advisory Committee \(\text{[currently under review]}\)

Also established by Policy 1, the Graduate Student Support Advisory Committee (see * Note at bottom of Terms of Reference of Graduate Student Relations Committee) meets during the winter term each year to prepare a recommendation to the provost on increases in the TA rate and graduate scholarship and bursary funds, and the minimum funding level for doctoral students. It does this by considering various pieces of information such as tuition and incidental fees, shelter costs, graduate TA and bursary fund expenditures and graduate student income. The committee, chaired by the Associate Provost, Resources, operates on a consensus basis.

* The following agreements are held in the Secretariat: agreement and indenture between the GSA and the UW (i.e., agreement for the lease of the Schweitzer Farmhouse to the GSA and associated operating agreement); agreement between the GSA, GSS (Graduate Student Societies) and the university re: eliminating the ‘strikeable’ option for fees collected on behalf of the GSA and GSS; agreement to dispose of the proceeds from the demutualization of Mutual Life (Clarica) re: student health insurance plan.

Other Agreements Between the GSA and the University

The following agreements are held in the Secretariat: agreement and indenture between the GSA and the UW (i.e., agreement for the lease of the Schweitzer Farmhouse to the GSA and associated operating agreement); agreement between the GSA, GSS (Graduate Student Societies) and the university re: eliminating the ‘strikeable’ option for fees collected on behalf of the GSA and GSS; agreement to dispose of the proceeds from the demutualization of Mutual Life (Clarica) re: student health insurance plan.

The above list is updated from time to time by the Graduate Student Relations Committee.
Appendix D to Policy 1 (reference, would require changes by GSRC)

Graduate Student Relations Committee (GSRC)

Terms of Reference and Membership [revised XXX 2014]

The Committee will:

1. Be a forum for communication between representatives of the graduate students and senior University officers with responsibility for student relations and address matters of concern relating to University-student relations and/or student life.
2. Inform, monitor and coordinate campus-wide efforts to implement the University’s long-range or strategic planning goals relating to student affairs and engagement. The Committee will be informed by the results of survey instruments such as the Graduate & Professional Student Survey (GPSS) and by addressing issues and concerns referred to it from other deliberative bodies, University administrative units and students.
3. Receive, for information and comment, proposed changes in tuition and co-op fees.
4. Review and recommend to the Provost new incidental fees and changes to existing incidental fees assessed to graduate students (except for fees determined by the GSA, or ancillary fees which are determined or recommended by committees on which GSA representatives sit, and those prescribed by contractual agreements between UW and the GSA.)
5. In accordance with Policy #1, be responsible for the initiation, development and review of Class Z policies, and be consulted on policies that affect graduate students in general.
