HIST 422 002: Special Topics in History: Oral History and Podcasting

Syllabus currently in draft

Winter 2020

Susan Roy

---

Course Description: Oral histories are a way to gather and interpret the memories and voices of people and communities. Podcasts have become a popular way for historians to feature their stories and research. This hands-on course puts oral histories and podcasts together. It will teach you to conduct interviews, draw on the archives, and use audio technology to tell powerful stories.