

Did You Know?

National Indigenous History Month 2021

Did You Know? is a series run by the University of Waterloo Indigenous Initiatives Office for the duration of Indigenous History Month 2021. "Did You Know" posts were uploaded weekly on Mondays and Wednesdays, featuring information on various topics pertaining to Indigenous histories in Canada. Please share this resource widely.

THE HALDIMAND TREATY OF 1784

The Haldimand Treaty is an agreement that granted a tract of land to the Haudenosaunee (Six Nations or Iroquois Confederacy), in compensation for their alliance with British forces during the American Revolution. The University of Waterloo campuses are located on the Haldimand Tract, which extends 10km on either side of the Grand River.

Throughout the late 1700s and 1800s, the Crown and Haudenosaunee disputed rights to the land title. Negotiations about the title to the Haldimand Tract still continue between the Canadian government and the Six Nations Confederacy.

Find more resources by browsing the Indigenous History Month resources webpage.