

Ignite Our Teaching Practice

Friday, September 5, 2014

9:00-10:30 am in MC 2065

Refreshments at 9:00, Speakers at 9:15

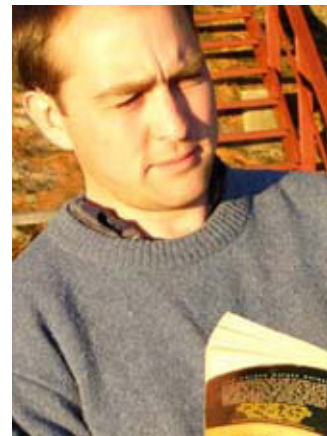

We asked three outstanding Faculty of Mathematics professors to invite us into their classrooms by teaching us something – any concept from their courses – using a method they typically use with undergraduates.

Naomi Nishimura
Computer Science

Levent Tuncel
Combinatorics and Optimization

Matthew Scott
Applied Mathematics

The presentations will be followed by discussion of the elements that make these lectures successful.
