Course Delivery
This course will be taught via the Music 256 LEARN website. This site will provide a copy of the syllabus and schedule, lecture slides, video links of excerpts, audio links, assignment posts and other materials. Weekly announcements will also be posted on the course Learn site, so please check in regularly. Instructions about accessing course materials are posted under contents.

Course Description:
A study of the development of various musical genres in the 20th century in the context of artistic, political, social, and technological movements since 1900. Topics include the effects of war, nationalism, and political oppression on musical trends; broad artistic concepts fuelling new musical ideas; the influence of popular musical culture on European art music; the contemporary composer’s challenge to traditional musical ideals; the changing relationship between composer, performer, and audience; and critical and public reactions to new musical trends. The course will include lectures, class discussion and listening, and analysis of a number of significant works since 1900 (including operas, ballet music, symphonies, chamber works, choral works, song and solo instrumental repertoire).
Prerequisites:
None, but Music 100 or Music 110 or the ability to read music and some basic knowledge of musical terms and theory are beneficial.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes:
By the end of the semester you should be able to:

- Demonstrate solid knowledge of a body of modern and contemporary musical works and genres
- Place studied musical works into a broader historical context, making meaningful connections between music and social and artistic trends
- Communicate your ideas clearly, accurately and responsibly in written work in assignments
- Listen to music thoughtfully and critically

Class Expectations: MUTUAL RESPECT

Communicating with respect:

- In all of our communications, we need to treat each other with respect and conduct ourselves professionally (including students and your teacher too).
- Music can generate strong feelings and opinions and debate among people and sometimes online communications can include comments that we would not use in face-to-face conversations.
- If you have experienced any disrespectful behaviour in our class, please contact me so that we can resolve this.
- The Centre for Teaching Excellence has a helpful guide for appropriate communication practices:

Communicating with your teacher:

- Please keep in touch! I will endeavour to keep the lines of communication open and flowing.
- Please let me know if you are experiencing difficulties in meeting deadlines or managing your workload, or if there is something that I can do to improve your experience.
- You can contact me by email: ljgray@uwaterloo.ca
- You can get in touch with me in WebEx office hours: Tues & Thurs 10am-12pm or by appt at

Privacy and Online Interaction or Recording:

- The course is conducted primarily asynchronously but, depending on student availability, we will see about holding some live lectures.
- Students will receive ample notice of any online synchronous or recorded session involving students and will be directed to complete the Notice of Recording template.
- In the case of an online or recorded session, students may choose to disable their cameras and microphones and may choose to provide an appropriate pseudonym to protect their privacy.
- Students will not be disadvantaged by not attending a live session or participating in the recording due to privacy concerns by providing them with suitable alternatives (e.g., watching the recording at a later date with opportunity for questions)
- More information about ensuring privacy during any video recorded sessions can be found at this site

Due dates and Penalties:

- Students are expected to submit assignments by the time and day indicated on the class schedule and on each assignment. All deadlines are 11:59pm ET on the due date.
- Please submit all assignments in the appropriate folder in the Dropbox on our class Learn site.
- I understand that most tasks can take a lot longer to complete online than in on-campus classes.
- Please be proactive and communicate with me about any difficulties meeting deadlines.
- Please see the accommodation for illness and self-declaring illness below if you are feeling unwell.

UW Policies on Academic Integrity & Campus Resources:

Academic Integrity

In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. Check the Office of Academic Integrity webpage for more information.
Discipline
A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for their actions. Check the Office of Academic Integrity for more information. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance
A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4. When in doubt, please be certain to contact the department’s administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Appeals
A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes they have a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

Note for Students with Disabilities
The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (NH 1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.

Chosen/Preferred First Name:
If you want professors and interviewers to call you by a different first name, take a minute now to verify or tell us your chosen/preferred first name by logging into WatIAM. Your chosen/preferred first name listed in WatIAM will be used broadly across campus (e.g., LEARN, Quest, WaterlooWorks, WatCard, etc). Note: Your legal first name will always be used on certain official documents. For more details, visit Updating Personal Information.

Accommodation for Illness:
The University has made the University of Waterloo Verification of Illness form for students a self-declaration, which means students do not need a doctor’s note for accommodation if they become ill. Students are encouraged to contact their professors via email to let them know of their illness. Students should also self-declare on Quest if they want to receive academic accommodations for testing positive. Go here.

The Writing and Communication Centre:
The Writing and Communication Centre is an academic support unit that supports students, staff, and faculty as they build communication excellence at the University of Waterloo. Writing a paper? Designing a portfolio? Giving a presentation? We’re here to help you to work through all stages of the communication process. Visit www.uwaterloo.ca/writing-centre

Territorial Acknowledgement
We acknowledge that we are living and working on the traditional territory of the Attawandaron (also known as Neutral), Anishinaabe and Haudenosaunee peoples. The University of Waterloo is situated on the Haldimand Tract, the land promised to the Six Nations that includes ten kilometres on each side of the Grand River. For more information about the purpose of territorial acknowledgements, please see the CAUT Guide to Acknowledging Traditional Territory.

Academic freedom at the University of Waterloo
Policy 33, Ethical Behaviour states, as one of its general principles (Section 1), “The University supports academic freedom for all members of the University community. Academic freedom carries with it the duty to use that freedom in a manner consistent with the scholarly obligation to base teaching and research on an honest and ethical quest for knowledge. In the context of this policy, ‘academic freedom’ refers to academic activities, including teaching and scholarship, as is articulated in the principles set out in the Memorandum of Agreement between the FAUW and the University of Waterloo, 1998 (Article 6). The academic environment which fosters free debate may from time to time include the presentation or discussion of unpopular opinions or controversial material. Such material shall be dealt with as openly, respectfully and sensitively as possible.” This definition is repeated in Policies 70 and 71, and in the Memorandum of Agreement, Section 6.
