For every decision you make as a pharmacist, consider the 4 ethical implications below.

Beneficence +

Will your decision fulfill your role as a healthcare professional and benefit the patient?

Non Malificence

Will your decision do no harm and if possible, prevent harm from occurring?

Respect for Persons

Will your decision respect the patient's vulnerability, autonomy, and right to make their own decisions?

Accountability

Will your decision reflect your practice of acting in the patient's best interest as well as being a holder of the public's trust?
