Fall Term 2012, 2012
BSIA 1-31, 1:30 – 4:20pm

Instructor: Andrew F. Cooper

Email Address: acooper@uwaterloo.ca

Office Location: Hagey Hall 305

Office Hours: Tuesday 2:00 – 3:00

Contact Policy: Contact can be made via email or during office hours.

Course Description: This course is the core course in the field of Multilateral Institutions and Diplomacy in the Global Governance program. It is also designed to allow Political Science students a better understanding of the conceptualization and practice of International Organizations (IO) within in the IR subfield. In the first part of the course, we examine some major conceptual debates related to the motivation, formation and effectiveness of International Organizations. In the second part of the course, we apply this knowledge in the IO arena, informal and formal and through both a state-centric and multi-actor perspective.

Pre-Requisites: This is a course for graduate students only. It is intended for those students specializing in International Relations and Global Governance Course Objectives:

University Regulations:

By registering in this course you agree to be familiar with and to abide by the University's policies on academic offences and plagiarism, as well as the expectations set out on the course website, on this syllabus, on individual assignments, and as outlined.

Academic Integrity: In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about —rules for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline, <http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy71.htm>

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4, <http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy70.htm>

Appeals: A student may appeal the finding and/or penalty in a decision made under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than regarding a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline if a ground for an appeal can be established. Read Policy 72 - Student Appeals, <http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy72.htm>

Academic Integrity website (Arts): http://arts.uwaterloo.ca/arts/ugrad/academic_responsibility.html
Academic Integrity Office (UW): <http://uwaterloo.ca/academicintegrity/>

Note for students with disabilities: The Office for Persons with Disabilities (OPD), located in Needles Hall, Room 1132, collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the OPD at the beginning of each academic term.

The success of this seminar course relies on excellent discussions and intensive class participation. Students will need to take notes prior to the Test. However after that point laptops will be used only for making presentations especially related to the RESEARCH PAPERS – and other valid reason that you can discuss with me.

Texts:

I have ordered four textbook for the course:

(1) Margartet Karns and Karen Mingst, International Organizations: The Politics and Processes of Global Governance, Lynne Rienner 2010 2nd edition paperback.

(2) Alan Alexandroff and Andrew F. Cooper, Rising States, Rising Institutions: Challenges for Global Governance, Washington, D.C.: Brookings Institution Press, 2010.

(3) Michael Barnett and Martha Finnemore, Rules For The World: International Organizations In Global Politics, Cornell University Press, 2004.

(4) Andrew F. Cooper and Ramesh Thakur, The Group of Twenty, Routledge, 2013.

These core works will be supplemented by a wide variety of Readings, mainly from journals. I have starred the key Readings for the first weeks. Along with the rest of the Readings they are aimed to help students preparing for specific CRITICAL REVIEWS and RESEARCH PAPERS later in the term.

Texts are available for purchase at the University of Waterloo bookstore.

Texts are on 3-hour reserve at the Dana Porter Library.

Evaluations: CRITICAL REVIEW, TEST, RESEARCH PAPER, PARTICIPATION

CRITICAL REVIEW: 30% (with 10% for in class presentation and 20% for paper) DUE AS HARD COPY IN CLASS November 6. Students will prepare one 8-10 pages CRITICAL REVIEW of the literature/central debate for one class in Part I of the course. The CRITICAL REVIEW should outline the major themes, strengths and weaknesses of the literature/debates under review. Students are encouraged to look beyond the course readings for critiques and book reviews that may assist them in writing the paper. Critical Reviews should be distributed via email to the class by 4 pm the day before we meet. The goal of the CRITICAL REVIEW is to provide practice at critical analysis, but also to provide each student with a set of notes and critiques that will help prepare for the TEST.

TEST: 20%. TEST questions will handed out in the October 23 class to be given back on November 6. The TEST will be done as a take-home instead of an in-class test. The TEST has added value for any students preparing to write the comprehensive exam in that field of Multilateral Institutions and Diplomacy. Students will answer two questions, each worth 10%.

RESEARCH PAPER: 30% (with 10% for in class presentation and 20% for paper) DUE AS HARD COPY on DECEMBER 4. Students will prepare one 8-12 pages RESEARCH PAPER for one class in Part II of the course. The RESEARCH PAPER is intended to move students from criticism from other peoples' work (with arguments about a body of literature/debates) to students an opportunity to investigate specific issues related to IOs. The writing assignment has three components: a prospectus for your project, including a clear statement of and justification for your research question; an annotated bibliography of at least eight sources that you will use to ground your research; and the research paper itself, 8-12 pages in length. Again Students are encouraged to look beyond the course readings for material that may assist them in writing the paper.

PARTICIPATION: 20%. PARTICIPATION in this course will be expected to achieve a number of objectives: comprehend readings that discuss the theory, development, roles and functions that international organizations play in the world; Participate regularly in seminar discussions, where quality participation is more highly valued than quantity participation.

Schedule:

Week 1 – September 11
