Office of the Vice-President, Academic & Provost

Memo

DATE: May 3, 2019

TO: University Community

FROM: James W.E. Rush, Vice-President Academic & Provost

RE: Decanal Searches

I wish to inform you that:

1. The Dean of Environment, Jean Andrey, will be completing her first term as dean on 30 June 2020 and has indicated her willingness to stand for reappointment to a second term
2. The Dean of Science, Bob Lemieux, will also be completing his first term of dean on 30 June 2020, and has indicated his willingness to stand for reappointment to a second term
3. Pearl Sullivan, Dean of Engineering, will complete her second and final term as dean on 30 June 2020, and a search will be conducted to identify her successor
4. Stephen Watt, Dean of Mathematics, will complete his first term as dean on 30 June 2020 and will not be seeking reappointment for a second term. As such, a search will be conducted to identify his successor.

This memo serves as notification that in the coming days, the nominating processes outlined in Policy 45 will begin.

Nominating committees will be constituted in each respective faculty. When the nominating committee has been established they will seek to engage faculty, staff, and students to solicit opinions on what will be important to each Faculty in the coming years.

The decision to appoint/reappoint the dean of a Faculty is an important decision made by any university, and your engagement as part of these decisions will be important to the success of our university in the years to come. You can expect to see communications on this in the coming weeks, and further into the Fall 2019 term.
