COURSE DESCRIPTION AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course presents a critical examination of learning disabilities and other related disabilities such as Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) and Autism. Both the theoretical and empirical research will be presented as well as the role played by memory and attention in the development of learning problems. Types of assessment and interventions will be provided as well as a repertoire of successful teaching strategies that can be used to enhance learning and ensure that all students can reach their potential.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Explain the historical and theoretical perspectives related to learning disabilities and related disabilities
- Explain and critique the definitions, characteristics, categories, and current directions of learning disabilities and related disabilities
- Critically examine the contributing factors of learning disabilities and related disabilities
- Compare and contrast learning disabilities and related disabilities
- Describe identification techniques, different assessment tools, and the IEP process
- Evaluate classroom behavioural management strategies
- Describe the ABC pathway and Functional Behavioural Assessment
- Evaluate critically the current landscape in special education and inclusive education
- Describe the responsibilities of the Ontario government with respect to educating students with learning disabilities and related disabilities
- Discuss the impact of learning disabilities across the course of child and adolescent development
- Describe the social, emotional, and behavioural challenges associated with learning disabilities and related disabilities

- Fall 2021

 Discuss the roles played by various medical and educational models
- Establish a repertoire of learning and instructional strategies for success

ABOUT THE COURSE INSTRUCTOR AND AUTHORS

COURSE AUTHOR AND INSTRUCTOR— DR. MAUREEN T. B. DRYSDALE

© University of Waterloo

Dr. Maureen Drysdale is Professor of Psychology at St. Jerome's University and Adjunct Professor in the School of Public Health and Health Systems at the University of Waterloo. She received a BSc in Geological Sciences and Psychology, a BEd in Secondary Physical Sciences, an MSc in Educational Psychology, followed by a PhD in Applied Psychology and Educational Research from the University of Calgary. In addition to Learning Disabilities, Dr. Drysdale teaches courses in Educational Psychology, Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood, Child and Adolescent Psychopathology, Statistics, and advanced Seminars in Educational Psychology and Adolescent Psychopathology.

Prior to joining St. Jerome's University and the University of Waterloo, Dr. Drysdale taught in the Department of Psychology and the Faculty of Education at the University of Calgary where she taught Basic Multivariate Statistics & Psychometrics, Classroom Measurement & Evaluation, and supervised student teachers in the BEd program. She also spent considerable time working in the schools conducting psychological assessments of children with mental health and learning problems.

Dr. Drysdale is the Director of the Well-Link Research Lab at St. Jerome's University where she leads a large research team of undergraduate interns, graduate research assistants, and collaborators from institutions around the globe who are dedicated to enhancing the mental health and wellbeing of students during school-to-school and school-to-work transitions. The research in the lab examines self-efficacy, learning strategies, work ethic, motivation, sense of belonging, peer support, social support, anxiety, depression, and other mental health and wellbeing constructs. Dr. Drysdale has a particular interest in vulnerable populations, students with exceptionalities, and experiential education.

Margaret McBeath is a PhD student in the School of Public Health and Health Systems at the University of Waterloo. She completed her Bachelor's degree in Psychology and Master of Science in Health Studies also at Waterloo.

Margaret's interest and expertise in the field of learning disabilities has been shaped by her lived experience as a parent of children with learning disabilities. Margaret has had extensive experience working closely with psychologists, therapists, teachers, and school administrators. Her understanding of the diagnostic process for learning disabilities, complexity of navigating treatment and school programs, and of the long-term effects of learning disabilities brings an important and highly relevant perspective to this course.

CONTRIBUTOR — SARAH CALLAGHAN

© University of Waterloo

Sarah graduated from the University of Waterloo in 2018 with an Honours BA in Psychology and a minor in Sexuality, Matthege, and Family Studies. She recently by Counselling Psychology and is working to become a psychotherapist.

Sarah is also a Researcher in the Well-Link Lab. Her undergraduate thesis project focused on the wellbeing of self-identified gifted university students, and it was completed in the lab. Her research interests are focused on trauma and mental health and wellbeing, such as resiliency and hope among students. She is also interested in mental health literacy and how it can be integrated into education.

Sarah has been a teaching assistant at the University of Waterloo since 2017 and has supported students in multiple psychology courses

COURSE POLICIES

Late Additions to the Course

If you enroll in this course after any of the due dates have passed, but before the add period ends, contact your instructor directly to make alternate arrangements. See the Course Schedule for due dates. See the Contact Information page for how to get in touch with your instructor.

Correspondence

- All correspondence and announcements will be posted on Learn.
- Students using the telephone to contact the professor must include their first and last names, student number, and course in which they are enrolled. All emails should be respectful, polite, professional, and structured with a salutation/greeting (e.g., Dear/Hello Dr. Drysdale or Dear/Hello TA Sarah/Ava), a purpose, and a closing signature (e.g., regards, kind regards, sincerely). If emails are not structured correctly, we will not respond.
- Do not email or telephone asking for grades. All grades will be posted on Learn.

Assessment Deadlines and Grades

 Deadline dates, grades, and weightings are final. Please do not request changes to the weighting of any assessments, or deadline dates, or times (medical exceptions see policy for deferrals below - and late additions excluded).

Release of Grades

 When assessments are graded, the results will be posted on Learn. Grades are not released over email or telephone. Do not send an email to the Instructor or TAs regarding "when will the grades be posted?". We endeavour to complete the grading as quickly as possible and normally grades are posted within a week of the assessment.

Regarding Cheating

Cheating is strongly discouraged for the quizzes and other assessments. You can

Extensions and Deferrals Policy for All Assessments

- Extensions for the quizzes, discussions, and/or assignments is decided by your Instructor. Extensions and deferrals are not automatic.
- A change of due date or change of date will be refused if the Instructor's policy is not followed. If a student completes a quiz, discussion, or assignment while ill, the grade stands.
- Only on the documented basis of illness or other extreme circumstance will students be permitted to an extension for a quiz, discussion, or assignment.
- In all cases (e.g., death in the family, illness) it is the student's responsibility to inform the Instructor BEFORE the due date. Failure to contact the Instructor before the due date forfeits a right to an extension or make-up. The voice mail stamps the date and time of telephone calls.
- In the case of illness, the student must provide an official "Verification of Illness Form" (VIF) from the University of Waterloo (available online at the Student Medical Clinic → which states that, due to medical (physical and/or mental health) reasons, it was IMPOSSIBLE (i.e., severe illness) for the student to complete the quiz, discussion, and/or assignment by the due date.
- The verification of illness form must be completed, endorsed, and stamped by a licenced medical practitioner BEFORE OR ON THE SAME DAY as the due date. Once the student has been seen by a licenced medical practitioner and the VIF has been completed, the student must inform the Instructor by email or phone ASAP. A form completed after the day and time of the due date WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. The completed form must be submitted to the Instructor within 24 hours of the due date a photo of the VIF can be emailed as soon as it is received from the licenced medical practitioner (see below for submitting the hard copy). Doctors' notes created by a physician or clinic, or notes scribbled on a prescription pad are NOT acceptable medical certificates.
- In the case of an immediate family members' illness or hospitalization, documentation from the hospital or attending physician is required. Deferrals and extensions will only be granted for immediate family member illnesses. An immediate family member is defined as (and limited to) a student's:
 spouse/common-law partner, child, parent, grandparent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother-in-law, and sister-in-law.

- Tri the case of a death in the family documentation must be provided indicating your relationship to the deceased, the date and time of the funeral service, and an official letter or certificate from the funeral home or organization handling the arrangements. Deferrals will only be granted for a partner's death or an immediate family member's death.
- Failure to follow the above requirements will forfeit your right to an EXTENSION OR make-up FINAL ASSESSMENT. If you are ill and you contact the Instructor after the due date, you will NOT be permitted to complete the quiz, discussion, and/or assignments. You will receive a '0' on the assessments. Exception: if you are involved in an accident and/or hospitalized during the week of the quiz, discussion, or assignments (documentation required) and as a result you are not able to call the day of the due date, then the Instructor must be notified and a request for an extension or deferral must be received no later than 24 hours after the due date. If you are extremely incapacitated or severely ill (physical or mental health) and hospitalized, or have had an unexpected death in the family within 24 hrs prior to the due date, then have a friend or family member call ASAP and no later than 48 hours after the due date.
- Any student missing a quiz, discussion or assignment with a valid reason and having followed policy must complete the quiz, discussion, or assignment that was missed.
 The format of the quiz, or assignment may differ.
- Please note that the following are NOT valid reasons for rescheduling or requesting an extension:
 - Travel (varsity athletic, other sports teams, or personal family or friend weddings included)
 - Work overload
 - Forgetting you had a due date or exam

DISCIPLINE

A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity to avoid committing an academic offence, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about "rules" for group work/collaboration, should seek guidance from the course instructor, academic advisor, or the undergraduate Associate Dean. For information on categories of offences and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline . For typical penalties, check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances , (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline , may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

GRIEVANCE

A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances . Section 4. When in doubt please be certain to contact the department's administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

FINAL GRADES

In accordance with Policy 46 - Information Management , Appendix A - Access to and Release of Student Information, the Centre for Extended Learning does not release final examination grades or final course grades to students. Students must go to Quest to see all final grades. Any grades posted in Waterloo LEARN are unofficial.

ACCESSABILITY SERVICES

AccessAbility Services , located in Needles Hall, collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodation to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with AccessAbility Services at the beginning of each academic term and for each course.
