Course Description and Learning Outcomes

Course Description

This course provides a topically-organized overview of child psychological development from the prenatal period through adolescence. Influential theoretical approaches to the study of child development will be discussed and applied to the study of physical, cognitive, and social-emotional development.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Summarize and apply their understanding of a broad array of topics pertinent to children's psychological development.
2. Critically evaluate methods, theories, and approaches used in developmental research.
3. Provide high-quality constructive feedback on a peer's academic writing, and in turn integrate feedback from a peer into one's own writing.
4. Read, interpret, and communicate the methods and findings of academic research papers.
5. Apply their knowledge of developmental processes in childhood to the real world, including their own lives!

What to Expect as a Student

Your day-to-day tasks in the course will include:

- Completing independent textbook readings.
- Watching lecture videos and supplementary informational videos.
- Gauging your knowledge with weekly module quizzes.
- Demonstrating your learning through 3 non-cumulative tests spread across the semester.
- Completing a scaffolded written assignment (broken into four milestones across the semester).

Course Philosophy and Expectations

Online learning offers unique opportunities and advantages in some domains, and occasionally challenges in others. Many students feel quite comfortable in an asynchronous learning environment, while others need to acclimate to the experience. The course team is deeply committed to making this the best learning experience possible for you as students. In the interest of transparency and mutual understanding, below is some Independent learning. To make the most of the online learning experience, it's important that you complete the assigned readings from the textbook. In many courses, students feel that completing assigned readings isn't necessary to succeed in a course, believing that attending lectures or reviewing slides is sufficient. In an asynchronous learning environment, a commitment to independent study is more critical than ever. We encourage you not to think of the textbook as a supplemental resource, but as your primary tool for learning in this course. The course designers have taken independent study time into account when structuring the course, and have developed lecture videos surveying many of the core concepts to further support your learning. But ultimately, the lecture videos were designed to complement your independent readings, not replace them. As such, we strongly encourage you to complete all assigned readings in order to optimize your experience in the course.

Assessments. The goal of this course is to limit the labor-intensive work you have to do each week and give you the flexibility to fit this course into your schedules however you see fit, while ensuring you have regular prompts to engage with the course's material. Each module will feature a short quiz (10 items over 15 minutes), keeping you involved in the course on a weekly basis while only amounting for a relatively small portion of your final grade (10% evenly spread over your ten highest quiz grades). The three larger course tests and written assignment deadlines have been spaced out so you can plan out your study/work strategies ahead of time.

Getting through this together. If you find yourself struggling with any aspect of the course or may be in need of accommodation, please don't hesitate to reach out to the course instructor(s) or your TAs. Also keep in mind that the members of the course team are human beings as well trying their best to make this a positive experience for everyone involved. Remember: politeness and respect go a long way.

Late Work

Missed deadlines for the following assessments will result in an immediate 0%:

- Quizzes
- Article submission for approval
- Article review outline
- Peer feedback on draft
- Evaluation of utility of peers' feedback

Missed deadlines for the following assessments will result in a penalty of 10% per day (including weekend days):

- Tests
- Article review (final submission)

In the case of emergency that may result in late submission, please contact the course instructor(s) to discuss potential extensions. If you know or suspect you are going to miss a deadline, please contact your course instructor(s) at least 24 hours in advance. It is much harder to accommodate students after this time.

Department Policies

Accommodation for Course Requirements

Policies of the Psychology department pertaining to course requirements are available on the department website.

For security purposes, the Psychology Department does not allow students to write tests, quizzes, or final exams for Psychology courses prior to the date/time scheduled for the course.

Elective arrangements such as travel plans are not acceptable grounds for granting accommodations to course requirements per the uWaterloo Examination Regulations and Related Matters.

Accommodation requests based on religious/cultural grounds

Requests for alternate sittings for tests, quizzes, or final exams based on religious/cultural grounds must be made to the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Studies for the Faculty of Arts in writing by the following deadlines:

- For final exams: within one week of the final exam schedule being posted by the Registrar's Office.
- For tests or quizzes: before the 'drop - no penalty period' ends (see Important Dates)

The Associate Dean will contact the instructor on the student's behalf to request an alternate sitting for the test, quiz, or final exam.

Concerns about a Course Policy or Decision

We in the Psychology Department take great pride in the high quality of our program and our instructors. Though infrequent, we know that students occasionally find themselves in situations of conflict with their instructors over course policies or grade assessments. If such a conflict arises, the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Affairs is available for consultation and to mediate a resolution between the student and instructor.

University Policies

Submission Times

Please be aware that the University of Waterloo is located in the Eastern Time Zone (GMT or UTC-5 during standard time and UTC-4 during daylight saving time) and, as such, the time that your activities and/or assignments are due is based on this zone. If you are outside the Eastern Time Zone and require assistance with converting your time, please try the Ontario, Canada Time Converter .

Accommodation Due to Illness

If your instructor has provided specific procedures for you to follow if you miss assignment due dates, term tests, or a final examination, adhere to those instructions. Otherwise:

Missed Assignments/Tests/Quizzes

Contact the instructor as soon as you realize there will be a problem, and preferably within 48 hours, but no more than 72 hours, have a medical practitioner complete a Verification of Illness Form .

Email a scanned copy of the Verification of Illness Form to your instructor. In your email to the instructor, provide your name, student ID number, and exactly what course activity you missed.

Further information regarding Management of Requests for Accommodation Due to Illness can be found on the Accommodation due to illness page.

Missed Final Examinations

Fall 2022

PSYCH 211 Online

Contact your instructor as soon as possible if you are unable to fulfill academic requirements due to illness or other extenuating circumstances.

Further information about Examination Accommodations is available in the Undergraduate Calendar.

Academic Integrity

In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo community are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. If you have not already completed the online tutorial regarding academic integrity you should do so as soon as possible. Undergraduate students should see the Academic Integrity Tutorial and graduate students should see the Graduate Students and Academic Integrity website.

Proper citations are part of academic integrity. Citations in CEL course materials usually follow CEL style, which is based on APA style. Your course may follow a different style. If you are uncertain which style to use for an assignment, please confirm with your instructor or TA.

For further information on academic integrity, please visit the Office of Academic Integrity.

Turnitin

Turnitin.com: Text matching software (Turnitin®) may be used to screen assignments in this course. Turnitin® is used to verify that all materials and sources in assignments are documented. Students' submissions are stored on a U.S. server, therefore students must be given an alternative (e.g., scaffolded assignment or annotated bibliography), if they are concerned about their privacy and/or security.

Students will be given due notice, in the first week of the term and/or at the time assignment details are provided, about arrangements and alternatives for the use of Turnitin® in this course.

It is the responsibility of the student to notify the instructor if they, in the first week of term or at the time assignment details are provided, wish to submit the alternate assignment.

Turnitin® at Waterloo

Discipline

A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity to avoid committing an academic offence, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration, should seek guidance from the course instructor, academic advisor, or the undergraduate Associate Dean. For information on categories of offences and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline . For typical penalties, check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties

Appeals

A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances , (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline , may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals .

Grievance

A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances , Section 4. When in doubt please be certain to contact the department's administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Final Grades

In accordance with Policy 46 - Information Management , Appendix A - Access to and Release of Student Information, the Centre for Extended Learning does not release final examination grades or final course grades to students. Students must go to Quest to see all final grades. Any grades posted in Waterloo LEARN are unofficial.

AccessAbility Services

AccessAbility Services , located in Needles Hall, collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodation to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with AccessAbility Services at the beginning of each academic term and for each course.

Accessibility Statement

The Centre for Extended Learning strives to meet the needs of all our online learners.
