Course Description

Psychological principles drawn from a variety of subdisciplines (e.g., social, clinical, cognitive) will be surveyed in terms of their relevance and application to the legal system. Topics may include jury selection and decision-making, eyewitness testimony, insanity defense, competency assessment, risk assessment, and police psychology.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes

This course is a general overview of psychology and law. The goal is to provide you with introductory information and a working vocabulary about psychological concepts and principles as they pertain to phenomena encountered in the criminal justice system. This course will look at important research and examine the contemporary methodologies being used in social and forensic psychology. This course is designed to develop the ability to use scientific methods to examine behaviors that occur in a legal context and to lay the foundations for further study in the area of psychology and law.

Disclaimer

The material covered in this class will include topics (e.g., sexual offenses against children) and possibly images or descriptions of crimes that are graphic and disturbing. I encourage you to carefully consider whether you wish to remain in this class, especially if you or someone you are close to has been the victim of a sexual or violent crime.

Course Requirements and Assessment

The four non-cumulative in-class term tests will be multiple choice format. Each test will be worth 25% of your final grade. In general, the four tests will be based equally on lecture and textbook material, and will primarily include material covered after the previous test. All tests will make use of scannable computer cards, so please bring a pencil and eraser.

Assessment	Date of Evaluation	Weighting
Test 1	Sept. 20	25%
Test 2	Oct. 18	25%
Test 3	Nov. 8	25%
Test 4	Nov. 29	25%
Total		100%

Test results will be posted as soon as they are available. The mark received for a test stands, and will not be dropped or re-weighted for any reason. There will be no extra assignments for students who are dissatisfied with their grades.

Students are entitled to reschedule a test for legitimate medical or compassionate reasons. Students are also entitled to reschedule a test based on religious grounds. However, it is the student's responsibility to inform the instructor prior to the test date to arrange a timely makeup exam and to provide acceptable documentation to support a medical, compassionate, or religious claim. Makeup exams may differ in format from the original exam.

Electronic Device Policy

If you bring a laptop to class, you are expected to use it only for note-taking purposes. Any other use of an electronic device is very distracting to other students. Students who use their laptops inappropriately may lose the privilege of bringing them to class. Please turn off your cell phones and put them out of sight before class begins. There is no reason to use your phone during class.

Attendance Policy

Missing even a single class could be very detrimental to your grade, given the frequency of term tests. I strongly advise you to ensure that you are present at every lecture. I do not provide my complete lecture notes for any reason. Please ask a fellow student for notes if you miss a class.

Important Information

The educational materials developed for this course, including, but not limited to, lecture notes and slides, handout materials, examinations and assignments, and any materials posted to LEARN, are the intellectual property of the course instructor. These materials have been developed for student use only and they are not intended for wider dissemination and/or communication outside of a given course. Posting or providing unauthorized audio, video, or textual material of lecture content to third-party websites violates an instructor's intellectual property rights, and the Canadian Copyright Act. Recording lectures in any way is prohibited in this course unless specific permission has been granted by the instructor. Failure to follow these instructions may be in contravention of the university's Code of Student Conduct and/or Code of Academic Conduct, and will result in appropriate penalties. Participation in this course constitutes an agreement by all parties to abide by the relevant University Policies, and to respect the intellectual property of others during and after their association with St. Jerome's University.

Academic Integrity: To maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo and its Affiliated and Federated Institutions of Waterloo (AFIW) are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for their actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about "rules" for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under the St. Jerome's University Policy on Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to University of Waterloo Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of their university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read the St. Jerome's University Policy on Student Petitions and Grievances.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under the St. Jerome's University Policy on Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or the St. Jerome's University Policy on Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes they have a ground for an appeal should refer to the St. Jerome's University Policy on Student Appeals.

Note for Students with Disabilities: The AccessAbility Services office, located on the first floor of the Needles Hall extension (1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.
