There will be regular homework assignments, and solutions posted a week after the assignments are distributed. The assignments are not to be turned in, and will not be marked.

However, the final exam will consist of three questions, all of them identical to some homework question. One of these questions will be selected by me, and the other two will be chosen by each student individually.

There is also a presentation required of each student, worth 10% of the final grade. These will be given in class near the end of the term.

The course web site is at:

Note for students with disabilities: The Office for Persons with Disabilities (OPD), located in Needles Hall, Room 1132, collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the OPD at the beginning of each academic term.

Avoidance of Academic Offenses: Students are expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offenses, and to take responsibility for their actions. Students who are unsure whether an action constitutes an offense, or who need help in learning how to avoid offenses (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about "rules" for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, TA, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy #71, Student Academic Discipline:

<http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy71.html>

Students who believe that they have been wrongfully or unjustly penalized have the right to grieve; refer to Policy #70, Student Grievance:
