STEP 4
Paying your tuition and fees (before August 24, 2016)

IMPORTANT

» Fees for the fall term are due by August 24, 2016. You’ll pay your fees for the winter term in December.

» Even if you’ve selected your courses, you’re not a registered student – and you will not receive your funding (scholarships, bursaries, student loans) – until you’ve paid your fees or made arrangements with our Finance-Student Accounts Office to pay them.

» Quest is your primary source of information about your tuition and fees; fee bills aren’t mailed to you. Fees for the Fall 2016 term will be posted on Quest in late July.

» Tuition amounts are calculated based on your program and the number of classes you’ve selected. If you make changes to your schedule, any corresponding change in your fees will be reflected on your account the next day.

» If you aren’t able to enrol in some of your classes or will be making adjustments to your schedule in September, you must still pay your fees (or submit the Promissory Note and proof of financial aid) by August 24th to avoid being charged a late fee. The Promissory Note will be available on Quest once your fees are posted. uwaterloo.ca/finance/student-accounts/how-become-fees-arranged

» The best way to pay your fees is by bank payment from any Canadian financial institution. For other ways to pay, visit uwaterloo.ca/finance/student-accounts/payment-options.

» Once you’re logged in to Quest, you can find out what you owe for tuition and fees (and for housing and meal plan if you’ll be living on campus). We bill one term at a time, so the fees you see are for the Fall term only.

» In the Finances section of your Student Center, click on Account Inquiry to see your fees for the term.

» To view a detailed list of charges, click on Fall 2016.
