AD30 – Administrative Committees

Records of committees supporting University administration.

Content & Scope
Numerous University-level and departmental committees, ad hoc committees and task forces support the operations of the University. Similarly, many University initiatives operate with the assistance of advisory boards and councils.

This records class excludes records of the Board of Governors and Senate as well as their committees and councils, faculty councils and their committees, committees constituted by law or government agency, and committees whose primary function is adjudicative (i.e., to make evaluations and/or decisions about individuals regarding such matters as job competitions, promotions, awards, honours, academic standing, etc.).

The records include: committee constitutions and terms of reference; records of elections and/or nominations of committee members; meeting agendas, minutes, presentations and reports; correspondence and other records supporting the committee’s activities maintained by committee chairs and secretaries.

Related Records
- For Board of Governors and Senate records, see the records classes in the Governance (GV) function.
- For records of faculty councils and their committees see AD37 – Faculty Councils & Committees.
- For the records of committees required by law or government agency and of committees with a primarily adjudicative function, see the appropriate records class in the function which the records support (e.g., records of hiring and search committees will be found in the Human Resources (HR) function).
- Note: if uncertain where to class the records of a particular committee, please consult the University Records Manager.

Responsible Unit
Units responsible for particular committees.

Information Steward
- University Secretary: records of University-level committees, advisory boards and councils, unless another steward is specified in the terms of reference or other constituting documents.
- Faculty dean: records of administrative committees, councils, and advisory boards of the faculty and its academic departments/schools.
- All other administrative committees: the relevant information steward for the functional area of administration (consult the directory of information stewards for more information).
