Looking for Sexual Minority Participants to participate in an Online Psychology Study: Body Image Satisfaction of Different Individuals

Do you identify as queer or sexual minority? Are you English-speaking and over the age of 18?

We are conducting an academic survey about people’s sexualities and views on their own physical appearance. The study focuses on sexual minority individuals, and results of the study can help us better understand unique challenges faced by sexual minorities with regards to their body image satisfaction. This study involves sensitive topics and personal questions will be asked.

If you wish to participate, you will be asked to answer a series of questionnaires based on your thoughts and life experiences. This online survey will take approximately 30 minutes. If you decide to participate, you will be entered into a drawing for a chance to win 1 of 3 $20 gift cards of your choice!

This study has been reviewed and received ethics clearance through a University of Waterloo Research Ethics Committee. If you have any questions about the study details or sign-ups, please contact Zhiying Hu at z49hu@edu.uwaterloo.ca.

Note: Please do NOT respond to this poster advertisement if you have signed up for the equivalent study on SONA. The last day to participate in this study is February 14th, 2019.
