

MSW 10-Growing Community

the MSW program
School of Social Work @ Renison University College (uWaterloo) is celebrating our 10th anniversary!

Virtual Speaker Series:

Feb 16, 2023, Thursday, 12:30-2 pm EST

Elder Myeengun Henry: Environmental Justice

Elder Henry is an Indigenous Knowledge Keeper at the Faculty of Health Sciences, uWaterloo. He has held the position of Elected Chief and the Director of Employment Services for the Chippewas of the Thames First Nation. Elder Henry is an elected band councilor, Indigenous Ceremony conductor (e.g., weddings, funerals, healing, naming), traditional medicine practitioner, environmental protectionist, Indigenous counsellor, Pow Wow coordinator, and OPP Indigenous advisor.

Elder Henry will speak about the need to protect the environment/nature/land as part of our being, intricately connected to us, not to be dominated. He has worked with students in New Orleans' bayous, whose people and environment are affected by 'environmental racism'. He is involved in communities in ways that highlight the need to integrate the environment.

Please visit this link to register:

<https://msw10environmentaljustice.eventbrite.ca>

AFFILIATED WITH THE UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO