We Provide Excellent Training

The ability to make decisions and solve problems, work on a team, and communicate are among the top skills employers consider when deciding to hire a new university graduate. We design our courses with these skill-sets in mind. Our students are expected to collect, analyze and synthesize information and data, and present material orally and in written assignments. Several courses require students to learn the latest industry standard software. Our fourth-year courses are small and provide students with opportunities to lead group discussions and work in teams.

We Produce Highly Employable Graduates

Our emphasis on methods, theory, critical thinking skills and written and oral communication prepare our graduates for professional careers. Our recent graduates include managers, contract negotiators, research analysts, youth workers, and human resource specialists. Many of our graduates successfully enter law, teaching, and other post-graduate training programs.

Recent graduates work for a variety of exciting organizations including:

About Sociology

The Sociology program at the University of Waterloo ranks among the top five sociology programs in the country and is among the top 100 Sociology programs in the world (QS World University Ranking 2015).

We are committed to ensuring that our students receive an outstanding education, developing their sociological imagination and the research skills they will need for their future careers. The research projects of the faculty and students address a wide array of topics including:

- crime, law, and security
- knowledge, education, and digital culture
- migration, borders, and transnationalism
- social inequality and public policy

You can add to your major or double honours major by enrolling in our departmental co-op program through Sociology - one of the few departmental co-op programs offered in the Faculty of Arts. Those accepted to co-op will have their first work terms at the end of 2A. Students then alternate between academic terms and paid work terms.

About Legal Studies

Legal studies is the study of law which is central to everything we do - how we carry out business, how we treat the environment, how we shape our governments and how we deal with other people.

Legal Studies is an interdisciplinary program designed to provide students with a sociological and cultural understanding of law. Although we typically think of law as an abstract set of rules primarily of concern to courts, legal professionals, or criminalized individuals, socio-legal perspectives draw attention to how much the law influences our daily lives, interpersonal interactions, and identities. Examining the law sociologically also highlights how significantly legal reforms shape our understanding of social issues and perceptions of justice and injustice.

We offer a full range of challenging and exciting undergraduate courses and provide an inspiring environment for research students and researchers.

Legal Studies majors develop many in-demand skills such as:

- problem-solving skills
- research skills
- critical-thinking skills
- both written and oral communication skills
- global awareness
Get Involved!

Sociology Society

The Sociology Society is comprised of enthusiastic students within the Sociology program at the University of Waterloo. Every year the Sociology Society organizes academic and social events for students. These events give students the opportunity to gain further knowledge as well as meet other students and professors. Events the society has held in the past include: guest lecturers, trivia nights, alumni events, prof-student mixers and more.

For more information, check out the Sociology Society website: https://artsweb.uwaterloo.ca/socsoc/about-us/

Email them at socsoc@uwaterloo.ca

Visit the office at the Psychology, Anthropology and Sociology Building (PAS) 2062.

Legal Studies Society

The Legal Studies Society is coordinated by an executive team that holds both academic and social functions throughout the school year. We welcome LS majors, minors, and anyone else interested in legal studies. Some of our events include job panels, law school panels, TV marathons, Bomber trivia nights, and prison trips. Legal Studies-themed merchandise is also available at several times throughout the year.

Undergraduate Calendar

Your 2017-2018 Undergraduate Calendar states the degree requirements that you will need to meet in order to graduate. If degree requirements change before you graduate, the changes will NOT affect you (they only affect students entering the program in future years). The Undergraduate Calendar also has information pertaining to Appeal Policies and Procedures, Awards and Financial Aid, Co-op, Exam and Holiday Dates, Tuition Fees, etc. The calendar is only available online. Always be sure you are viewing the 2017-2018 calendar. You can view the 2017-2018 Undergraduate Calendar online under “List of Undergraduate Studies Archived Calendars”: https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/uWaterloo-Undergraduate-Calendar-Access Transfer Students: Please see your Academic Advisor for guidance with course selection, course sequencing, and for confirmation of your unique degree requirements.

Calendar highlights

How long do I have to complete my degree?
- In the REGULAR program it normally takes 4 years to complete your degree
- In the CO-OP program it normally takes 5 years to complete your degree

Is there a minimum average that I have to maintain?
Decisions concerning academic standing are made at the end of each academic term. These averages are the same for students in both the co-operative and regular streams. In order to continue your studies, you must have a Satisfactory standing (SAT) by maintaining a minimum:

3 or 4 Year General Sociology Major 2017-2018
- Cumulative average of 60%
- Cumulative Sociology average of 65%

4 Year Honours Sociology Major, Regular and Co-op 2017-2018 or 4 Year Honours Sociology Major, Arts and Business 2017-2018 or 4 Year Joint Honours Sociology Major, Regular and Co-op 2017-2018
- Cumulative average of 60%
- Cumulative Sociology average of 70%

4 Year General Legal Studies Major 2017-2018
- Cumulative average of 60%
- Cumulative Legal Studies average of 65%
4 Year Honours Legal Studies Major, 2017-2018 or 4 Year Honours Legal Studies Major, Arts and Business 2017-2018 or 4 Year Joint Honours Legal Studies Major, 2017-2018

- Cumulative average of 60%
- Cumulative Legal Studies average of 70%

What courses do I need to take to satisfy my degree requirements?
Consult with the appropriate Academic Checklist and Suggested Sequence:

Sociology: https://uwaterloo.ca/sociology-and-legal-studies/undergraduate/sociology/program-requirements/program-checklists

Legal Studies: https://uwaterloo.ca/sociology-and-legal-studies/undergraduate/legal-studies/program-requirements

Tips:
- Be aware of prerequisites.
  - Example: If you are majoring in Sociology, take Soc 202 (year 2) and Soc 302 (year 3) so you are able to take the required 400 level theory course in year 4. If you do not take these courses in the recommended sequence, you will risk not graduating on time.
- Do not assume that all required courses are offered every term or that you will be able to ‘make up’ these courses in the spring/summer.
- Crosscheck your courses with the appropriate Academic Checklist at least one time per year. Meet with the Coordinator and Advisor or Associate Chair at least once per year to review your degree progress (also referred to as a ‘degree audit’).
- Do not ‘load up’ on too many required courses in any one term. Planning and spacing out your courses will improve your success!
- If you fail a course (required or elective) you should meet with the Coordinator and Advisor or Associate Chair to discuss available options.
Minors, Joint Honours and Co-op Options

Students planning to complete Minors, Joint Honours or Co-op should meet with an Academic Advisor from the department or school offering the minor, joint major or co-op option to confirm course requirements and eligibility.
https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/ARTS-Available-Arts-Academic-Plans

Minor

A Minor is generally a grouping of 8 courses from one department, or a variety of courses from different departments that have a common theme. Minors are available in most programs at UW. Using your electives to complete a minor allows you to study a particular field in a bit more depth. Some students complete minors that complement a particular area of Sociology (e.g., Management Studies minor). Many students also fulfill the requirements for a minor in an area of personal interest. Refer to the Undergraduate Calendar for more details. If you are considering a minor, consult with that department's Academic Advisor.

Double vs. Joint Major Honours

Many Honours plans may be combined within the Arts faculty (Double) as well as between some of the other faculties on campus (Joint). Before choosing to pursue two majors, students are required to consult with the undergraduate advisors of both majors. Students must meet all the requirements of both majors as stated in the calendar and should be aware that combining some Honours majors may require more than the normal number of academic terms to complete (see below for further details).

Double Major Sociology and Legal Studies

Do you want the marketability of a Legal Studies degree with the breadth of a Sociology degree? We make it easy to do both! Many of the courses we offer are cross-listed between Sociology and Legal Studies programs, which reduces the number of courses required to complete both Majors at once. Use the space this creates to pick up a minor or expand your breadth courses.
Courses (subject to change)
A list of courses (including cross-listed) can be found in various locations including:

Departmental website - Legal Studies Courses:
https://uwaterloo.ca/sociology-and-legal-studies/undergraduate/legal-studies/courses

Departmental website - Sociology Courses:

http://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/Course-Descriptions-Index

Further information regarding specific course sequences, course or credit requirements, and minimum averages for the Joint Honours degree may be obtained from the Academic Advisors of both academic units. Students typically apply for the Joint Honours Degree at the end of first year (submit a Plan Modification/Internal Transfer Form).

Co-operative Education
In the co-operative system of study, the student in an Honours academic plan is enabled to integrate work with academics. For a detailed description, see Co-operative Education & Career Action (https://uwaterloo.ca/co-operative-education-career-action/). Beginning in the second year, the co-op student ordinarily alternates four-month terms on campus for academic studies with four months off campus for practical work experience in business, industry, or government.

In order to be eligible to receive a co-op designation at the time of graduation, students in Bachelor of Arts (BA) co-op plans are required to complete:

• A minimum of four work terms beyond the 2A level,
• A minimum of four online professional development (PD) courses, and
• A minimum of four work-term reports.
Sociology departmental co-op

Please consult the department website for the current co-op (https://uwaterloo.ca/sociology-and-legal-studies/undergraduate/sociology/co-op-guidelines):

- Guidelines and Regulations
- Work report guidelines
- University of Waterloo Co-op & Career Services home page

Arts and Business Co-op

The Honours Arts and Business program enables you to combine an honours degree in arts with a solid foundation in the theory and practice of business. 40% of the classes you will take will be Legal Studies courses. With your remaining classes, you can choose electives from many of the 100 subject areas.

In addition to fulfilling all the major requirements for the Legal Studies degree, you will also learn:

- Business, marketing, and entrepreneurial principles
- Significance of economic, social, political, and historic developments
- Business communication and leadership skills
- Strategic decision-making and project management
- Professional and business ethics
- Canadian and international perspectives

https://uwaterloo.ca/arts/undergraduate/co-op

Professional Development (PD) Courses

PD courses are intended to enhance the professional development of the student and assist in integrating their academic and work-term experiences. With the exception of PD 1, students are expected to take the courses while on their co-op work terms. The required schedule for completing the PD courses is as follows:

- PD 1 must be taken in the term prior to the first work term.
- PD 12 must be taken during the first work term.
- Two additional PD courses of the student's choice should be taken in the second and third work terms.
Work-Term Reports

The required schedule for completing work reports is as follows:

- PD 12 (which counts for credit as the student’s first work-term report) must be completed by the end of the first work term.
- Work-term report 2 must be completed by the end of the second work term.
- Work-term report 3 must be completed by the end of the third work term.
- Work-term report 4 must be completed by the end of the fourth work term.

IMPORTANT NOTE: All work term reports are to be submitted to the relevant faculty co-op officer (either SOC or LS/ARBUS) via LEARN. Students completing a co-op placement will have access to a new LEARN page titled WKRPT 200A/WKRPT 300A/WKRPT 400A – [Semester, Year] near the final three weeks of the semester of placement. Work reports should be submitted via the dropbox accessible at this page by the applicable deadline, which is typically the 10th working day of the semester following a placement. Details on deadlines and additional instructions may be posted to the Learn site by the faculty co-op officers.

Consider Adding an Edge to your Degree!

EDGE is an opt-in experiential education certificate program for undergraduate students in traditional (non-co-op) programs of study. Students who complete EDGE will develop their professional skills, explore their career options and learn how to market themselves to employers.

Students complete six milestones as part of the EDGE certificate:

- a skills identification and articulation workshop, in which students practice recognizing their skills and expressing them to employers in a confident, concise fashion;
- a career development course, in which students develop core career-seeking skills and align their career goals with their values, skills and interests;
- three work or community experiences, in which students explore a wide variety of opportunities both inside and outside of the classroom and reflect on their personal growth;
- and a capstone workshop, in which students tie everything together and develop an action plan for post-graduation success.

EDGE is designed to be flexible, so students can complete these milestones during any term and in almost any order depending on their schedule and interests. Students can also mix, match and combine experiential learning courses, employment and volunteering opportunities to find the EDGE that is right for them.

For more information see: https://uwaterloo.ca/edge/
Other Requirements

What are the Residency Requirements?

Students are required to take at least 50% of the courses required to graduate at the University of Waterloo. All students in the Faculty of Arts are bound by the 50% residency requirement rule. This residency requirement applies in the case of all transfers, whether internal or external, readmissions, including second Bachelor degrees. See the Transfer Credit section for additional information.

Consult the 2017-2018 Undergraduate Calendar for further information: https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/ARTS-Degree-Residency-Requirement

What is the English Language Proficiency Requirement?

Students entering the Faculty of Arts in September 2004 or thereafter may fulfill the English Language Proficiency Requirement (ELPR) in one of the following ways:

Consult the 2017-2018 Undergraduate Calendar for further information: https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/ARTS-English-Language-Proficiency-Requirement

Please note that starting in Fall 2018, incoming Arts students will take Arts 130 and Arts 140. These courses are a replacement for the English Language Proficiency Exam (ELPE). For more information see: https://uwaterloo.ca/arts-first/about

What are Breadth Requirements?

All Bachelor of Arts (BA) students must meet the BA Breadth Requirements. Consult the Academic Checklist (see appendix) for a detailed listing of BA Breadth Requirement courses.

Consult the 2017-2018 Undergraduate Calendar for further information: https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/ARTS-BA-Breadth-Requirements

What is a “cross-listed” course?

Cross-listed courses are considered to be equivalent in content. Students enrolled in a course, which is cross-listed, should be aware that the course would automatically fulfill a Bachelor of Arts Breadth Requirement for either the subject in which they are registering or the cross-listed subject, but not both. For example, a student registered in PACS 203/HIST 232 may receive credit for either the Transdisciplinary Studies requirement or the Humanities requirement, but not for both.

Similarly, students should be aware that all courses taken under a subject, which is cross-listed with a course within the student's plan, are included in the Major average.

For a full listing of course selection terms and rules consult the 2017-2018 Undergraduate Calendar for further information: https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/ARTS-Course-Selection
How do I change my program of study?

Over your career at the University of Waterloo, you may need to make a change to your program of study. Changes include adding a minor or joint major option, adding or dropping co-op, or changing your academic plan year. To make a change you should first consult with an Advisor. Your advisory team will determine whether you are able to make any changes to your program of study. If you meet the requirements, you will need to fill out a Plan Modification form.

Course Enrolment

How do I enroll in my courses?

You will enroll in your courses online using Quest. This can be done during your Course Selection window or during the Drop/Add period. See the Registrar’s Office list of Important Dates for more details:

https://uwaterloo.ca/quest/undergraduate-students/important-dates

Some courses fill up quickly. Course selection helps to reserve a space for you and can also help to prevent time scheduling conflict between your required courses and chosen electives. Remembering to select can often save you a lot of stress in the future! However, course selection does NOT always guarantee enrolment in a course. If you have any problems with course selection, please contact an undergraduate Academic Advisor.

How do I make changes to my class schedule?

Consult the information on the student Quest website in order to make changes to your class schedule (e.g., add/swap/drop course).

Adding Courses

Courses may be added on your Quest account during your course selection period or during the drop/add period. Drop/add period for each term continues until the end of the 2nd week of classes in that term. Course additions are not permitted after the end of the 2nd week of classes because students will have missed too much material to be able to catch up.

Important dates and links related to add/swap/drop course options can be found at: https://uwaterloo.ca/quest/undergraduate-students/important-dates
IMPORTANT NOTE: Occasionally there is a waiting list maintained by the instructor or department offering a popular course. This includes some of the required Sociology and Legal Studies courses. The department/instructor reserves the right to drop you from the course if you have not attended the first week of lectures for this course and you have not justified your absence appropriately.

Dropping Courses

If you drop a course during enrolment appointments or open enrolment, an alternate elective should be added to maintain a course load of 5 courses each term.

If you receive an error message when attempting to drop a course on Quest you should contact an undergraduate advisor for assistance. When attempting to change sections of the same course or changing one course to another you should use the “swap” option. This will ensure you remain in the original course if the desired section/course is full. If you are enrolled in 4 or more courses, you must get permission from an undergraduate advisor to drop below 4 courses. When you are enrolled in only one course you are not able to drop your final course without approval, as you must formally withdraw from the term.

Refer to the “Undergraduate Notice of Withdrawal” form on the Registrar’s Office website: https://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/sites/ca.registrar/files/uploads/files/withdrawal_0.pdf

What happens if I want to drop a course once the term has begun?

Please be aware of the following distinctions:

No Penalty Period

Courses dropped during this time period disappear from your schedule and your transcript will not show that you attempted this course. For more information, refer to http://www.quest.uwaterloo.ca/

Penalty 1 Period – WD (Withdrew – no academic penalty)

Courses dropped will continue to show on your transcript with a grade of WD. This shows that you attempted the course but dropped it during the term. A WD grade is NOT counted in your average. If you are not able to drop the course yourself on Quest, contact an undergraduate advisor for assistance and/or approval.

Penalty 2 Period – WF (Withdrew – failed)

A grade of WF is assigned and counts as a failure (32%) in your average. You should contact a member of your advisory team before dropping a course to receive a WF grade (32%) as there are often other alternatives available. There is also a date, usually just prior to the examination period, when you are no longer permitted to drop any courses without a petition.
IMPORTANT NOTE: Important dates, such as drop deadlines, are posted well in advance by the Registrar's Office. Each year, it is a good idea to print off the important dates from Quest website www.quest.uwaterloo.ca/undergraduate/dates.html and post them near your workspace and note these dates in your phone. This will help you remember when to pre-enroll/enroll in courses, pay fees, make travel arrangements, etc.

What are the various methods of taking a course?

Lectures

Most of the courses you take on campus will be lecture style, supplemented by labs, seminars, or discussions.

Auditing (no degree credit)

It is your responsibility to inform the course instructor at the beginning of the term that you would like to audit his/her course. You can then form a contract with the instructor outlining the particular auditing requirements for that course. You will have to complete a “Course Override Form” https://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/sites/ca.registrar/files/uploads/files/course-override.pdf and submit it to the Registrar's Office.

Independent Study

If there is a particular topic that you are interested in, but a course is not offered in that area, you may want to complete an Independent Study (SOC 498 Directed Studies (instructor’s consent) and LS 498 Directed Readings in Legal Studies (instructor’s consent, level at least 3A). You will have to find a professor to supervise your study and sign a contract agreeing to how you will be evaluated for your work. See your Academic Advisor for more information.

Distance Education

As a UWaterloo student you can take online courses through the Centre for Extended Learning. Students find this especially useful during co-op work terms and summer breaks. To find out what is offered through online learning and how to register, visit the Center for Extended Learning website http://cel.uwaterloo.ca/

Can I take courses at Wilfrid Laurier University?

Yes! If the course that you would like to take is listed in the UW course offerings list with the division code “WLU”, you may enroll for the course as if it were a UW course. If the course is not listed, you must complete a separate “Cross-Registration Form” available on the Registrar website

Form: http://www.registrar.uwaterloo.ca/forms/CrossRegn.pdf
Can I take a course at another university?

To have a Letter of Permission granted, you must have successfully completed a minimum of 2.0 units of University of Waterloo courses. You may take a maximum total of 7.5 units for a three-year program and 10.0 units for a four-year program on a Letter of Permission basis. Please note that the maximum number of total transfer credits is 7.5 units for a three-year program and 10.0 units for a four-year program, including external and internal transfer credits, courses taken by cross-registration, or courses taken on a Letter of Permission.

Complete and submit a “Letter of Permission” form (available on the Registrar’s website), along with official course descriptions or website addresses for the course(s) you wish to take, to the department(s) responsible for the University of Waterloo equivalent course. The request will not be considered without course descriptions. Obtain the approval of your Faculty Advisor for the Letter of Permission request.

Submit the approved Letter of Permission form, along with the $25.00 non-refundable processing fee, to the Office of the Registrar to affix the University of Waterloo seal.

The form also includes detailed instructions and information about the processing fee. http://www.registrar.uwaterloo.ca/forms/LetterOfPermission.pdf

The granting of a letter of permission by UW does not ensure that you will be able to take a course at another university. There may be restrictions on class enrolment at that institution. Contact the host institution’s Registrar’s Office for procedural details and application deadlines. NOTE: You will have to apply to be a part-time student at the other institution.
Academic Policies and Procedures

Academic Offences

Students are advised to read the Student Academic Discipline Policy (#71) in their Undergraduate Calendar.

Policy #71 can be found online on the Secretariat’s website http://www.adm.uwaterloo.ca/infosec/Policies/policy71.htm

Read your course outlines

Students should carefully read course outlines in conjunction with the Undergraduate Calendar for full academic policies and procedures.

Examination and Course Assignment Regulations

Regulations regarding examinations and course assignments are posted on the Registrar’s Office website. You can find these rules online on the Registrar’s exam website http://www.registrar.uwaterloo.ca/exams/ExamRegs.html

Verification of illness

University of Waterloo verification of illness certificates are available from Health Services for students who are unable to attend labs and examinations or are late with major assignments.

The student must attend University of Waterloo Health Services or their family physician during the illness so as to receive appropriate medical care and an accurate diagnosis. The University of Waterloo Verification of Illness form must be completed by the physician during the student’s medical appointment.

https://uwaterloo.ca/health-services/student-medical-clinic/services/verification-illness

Emergency closure and how it affects final exams

In the event that the University of Waterloo closes due to weather and exams are cancelled, the following guidelines are available on the Secretariat website:

https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/guidelines/weather-closing-guidelines

More specific to final examinations the following procedure will be followed:

Closures during final examinations: https://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/final-examinations/closures
Academic Standing

Overall standing

Academic Standing Decisions are made at the end of every term in which you complete courses, even if you only take one course. You will find these decisions on your unofficial transcript once grades are official (usually three weeks into the following term). The averages used in standing decisions are cumulative. The averages you need to maintain are determined by the specific requirements of your official academic plan.

Check the calendar or consult with your Academic Advisor to be certain. For more information:

https://uwaterloo.ca/arts/undergraduate/student-support/academic-standing-understanding-your-unofficial-transcript

Dean's Honours List

To recognize outstanding academic achievement, the Arts Faculty has established a Dean's Honours List.

https://ugradcalendar.uwaterloo.ca/page/ARTS-Recognition-of-Excellence

Graduating “With Distinction” – Bachelor of Arts (BA)

In recognition of distinguished academic achievement throughout their undergraduate careers, all students who graduate with a BA degree (Honours or General) and a cumulative average (CAV) of at least 75%, and do not have any INC, IP, or UR grades are eligible to graduate “With Distinction”. This notation appears on official University transcripts and diplomas.

Where can I find my grades/transcript?

All final grades are recorded on your transcript. Unofficial transcripts can be viewed on Quest. Students should check their unofficial transcript after the ‘final graded date’ each term to view their academic standing. Official transcripts can be ordered from the Registrar’s Office. You must complete a “Transcript Request” form on the Registrar’s website https://uwaterloo.ca/forms/undergraduate-studies/ in order to request an official transcript for your records or to support an application for graduate school, etc.

Refer to your Undergraduate Calendar https://uwaterloo.ca/arts/current-undergraduates/student-support/academic-standing-understanding-your-unofficial-transcript for the complete standings policy.
How do I submit an appeal or petition?

See the Student Petitions and Grievances Policy (University of Waterloo Policy #70) for more details: https://uwaterloo.ca/secretariat-general-counsel/policies-procedures-guidelines/policy-70

“Petition” forms can be obtained from the registrar’s website https://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/forms/

IMPORTANT NOTE: Keep personal copies of all papers, labs, and assignments that you submit. If the original is misplaced during marking and you cannot replace it, then your assignment cannot be marked. These may be required in the appeal process or petition process.

They also have drop in sessions where you can ask a success coach questions on how to improve your academic skills. You can also use that time to study, work on assignments or readings. If you feel you need one on one support, you can book an appointment with one of the success coaches.

The SSO also houses the Writing Centre where you can meet with a tutor to help improve your writing. They also administer the English Language Proficiency Exam. For more information about workshops and services, go to the Student Success Office website https://uwaterloo.ca/student-success/

IMPORTANT NOTE: Think about signing up for a study skills workshop upon arrival at UW. It is a lot easier to succeed if you start out with the necessary study habits in your 1A term!

AccessAbility Services

AccessAbility Services is located in Needles Hall, Room 1132, collaborates with all academic units to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register and meet with them at the beginning of each academic term.

Steps to Graduation and Beyond

Check that you have met all your degree requirements

Before you can graduate, you must meet all of the academic requirements for your degree. Check your transcript on Quest before you pre-enroll for 4A to make sure that your 4th-year courses will fulfill your remaining requirements listed on the Academic Checklist (see appendix below). In addition, check the total number of units you have completed. By the end of 3rd year you should have completed 30 term courses (15 units). If you have less than 30 courses, you will need to take more than 10 courses in your last year; otherwise, you will have to stay an extra term in order to meet the graduation requirement of 40 total courses (20 units).

Fill out an Intention to Graduate Form

Students must notify the Registrar’s Office that they would like to graduate by complete the online submission of the “Intention to Graduate” form.

“Intention to Graduate” forms are accessible through the Registrar’s Office website. This website also include important information about upcoming dates and deadlines for Convocation:

Convocation Checklist
https://uwaterloo.ca/registrar/convocation/convocation-checklist

Grad Photos

Each year a private photography company comes to campus to take graduate photos. They usually take pictures in October and January (for anyone who missed the previous dates). You will have to pay a sitting fee, which covers the cost of your proofs as well as your class composite.

Choosing a Valedictorian

A Valedictorian representing the graduating class addresses the Convocation each Spring. The graduating class is asked to nominate students for Valedictorian. The nominated students each prepare a speech and present it to the Valedictorian Committee (the deans, a number of faculty, student association reps, etc.). The committee then chooses the Valedictorian.
Convocation – The Big Day

UW holds convocation ceremonies in June and October each year. At Spring Convocation, usually held in mid-June, there are eight or more different graduation ceremonies divided according to Faculty. If you have submitted an “Intention to Graduate” form for the June convocation, you will receive instructions in early May. These instructions tell you when you are convocating, what time you must arrive, where to pick up your gown, etc. For full details, visit the Registrar Convocation website http://www.registrar.uwaterloo.ca/convocation/index.html

Graduate and Professional School Applications

It is important to contact graduate and professional schools early if you are planning to continue your education. Many schools require applications in early fall. Give yourself time to complete the applications and get reference letters. If you are applying to a program that requires an admission test (e.g., MCAT, GRE, GMAT, LSAT), be sure to check the last date the school will allow you to write the test. The Career Resources Centre in Tatham Centre can provide you with additional information about application procedures and writing these admission tests.

How do I ask a professor for a reference letter?

Need a great reference letter from a professor? Ask early! Some professors write over one hundred letters for each round of graduate school applications. As such, professors may not be able to provide you with a letter of reference with last-minute notice. If you do get accepted, please remember to send a quick thank-you to the professors who wrote the letters, informing them of your success.

If you need a reference letter, we strongly recommend reading the following article:
http://www.universityaffairs.ca/career-advice/career-advice-article/how-to-ask-for-a-reference-letter/

Graduate Scholarships

If you would like to apply for a graduate school scholarship, you should do so early. Most scholarship applications need to be submitted by early fall. Check with UW’s Graduate Office or the AHS Graduate Coordinator for a list of scholarships. You may be required to submit letters of reference well in advance of the due date. Be sure to request references well in advance.

For information about graduate studies at UW, go to the Graduate Studies website http://www.grad.uwaterloo.ca/
