Course Description

The main goal is to provide a broad understanding of marketing with its connection to developments in digital world. The transformative power of technology and its impact on marketers will be discussed since each new wave of technological innovation can replace existing products, services and companies. Students will gain an understanding of how organizations identify the needs of consumers and create and deliver value to these consumers through the marketing process. Certain concepts including Customer Relationship Management (CRM), database marketing, e-mail marketing, social media marketing, Search Engine Marketing (SEM), mobile marketing, blogging, emerging tech & digital experiences, brand development will be incorporated into developing a promotional marketing campaign considering different industries and how digital marketing is changing them (Ex. Retail). In addition to connecting central concepts from marketing to virtual world, students will be placed in a forum where they can apply these concepts in a 'real world' marketing situation.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes

The course will connect the developments in digital world to strategic marketing planning process by first performing the situation analysis which includes an assessment of the external environment, industry structure, markets and competitors, and the internal structure and assessment of an organization. From this analysis potential customer needs are identified and these needs are matched up with the core competencies of the organization. Second, setting the Marketing Objectives and determining target markets and positioning of the service/product. The last component is to create and execute a promotional campaign.

The following concepts might be particularly interesting:

- Customer Relationship Management (CRM) CH 1
- Database Marketing CH 8
- Pay Per Click Marketing CH 17
- Email Marketing CH 3
- Social Media Marketing CH 1
- Search Engine Marketing (SEM) & Search Engine Optimization (SEO) CH 3
- Mobile Marketing CH 3
- User-experience CH 1, Ch 20
- On-line video and PR CH 17
- Blogging CH 3, CH 20

- Emerging Tech & Digital Experiences CH 3
- Brand Development CH 11
- Different industries and how digital marketing is changing them (Ex. Retail) CH 3
- Content Marketing CH 20

In order to develop the concepts in a real world context, the classroom will be structured as a Virtual 'Company'. Specifically, GBDA 304 students will become an organization of employees. The outline will serve as the employment contract between the instructor (employer) and the student (employee). Students will work in groups and in conjunction with a pre-selected existing company; these students will become an extension of this organizations employee pool. Therefore, students will be asked to relate marketing concepts and best practices to a real existing global organization. The rules of engagement within the classroom for these students will be consistent with workplace expectations. That is, they must show up for work, they must show up on time and they must hand in their own work. Various forms of technology will be used to ensure these goals are achieved. In particular clickers will be used for participation during class to incent students to attend as well as the turnitin tool for submission of all written work.

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Understand basic principles of marketing and its relation to technological developments in digital world.
- Explain how marketing discovers and satisfies consumer needs and wants.
- Differentiate between the elements of the marketing mix and integrate them in a marketing plan by applying the marketing process in a 'real world' marketing situation
- Develop essential skills for:
 - Using the tools from digital world in marketing
 - Conducting an analysis in an electronic/social media environment
 - Research
 - Independent and collaborative learning
 - Critical thinking

*Google Analytics certificate: <https://analytics.google.com/analytics/academy/>

Digital Media Instructor Greg McIntyre will be in our classroom in two class sessions to demonstrate the business case, customer journey etc (the Why) as well as some real world use cases.

In-class Activities, i>Clicker, and Participation – 10%

Effective communication in the Business world consists of 3 main components: active listening skills, the ability to think critically, and the ability to effectively communicate ideas in groups and teams. These components will be developed in class and evaluated through students' participation in class. Participation is highly valued. Verbal contributions that add value will be noted by the instructor.

Students are responsible for buying a clicker device (first generation clickers or the new version of clickers both work), bringing it to every class and ensuring that the batteries work. I will not loan out clickers if students forget to bring them. Class participation will begin in third class session (January 14, 2020) and will not include the days of exams and presentations. Each class is considered as one clicker session that is worth 5 points: 2 points are given for attending and answering 75% of the questions; 3 points are for answering any three questions correctly. The 5 lowest clicker session scores will not count to allow for absences due to illness or forgotten clickers. Students who miss more than 5 days of class will receive zero for the absences in excess of the 5 days.

For students with ongoing illnesses, 5 days will still be dropped but it is possible to shift the weight of the absences in excess of 5 days to exam 2 if proper documentation is provided within 3 days of the absences. The policy CANNOT BE ABUSED by first using 5 days with non-documented reasons and then bringing medical notes for the rest of the absences. Students must provide documentation for every absent day including the first 5 days in order to qualify for shifting the weight. No weight shift will be applied to students who miss both exams. A consideration for missed clicker sessions will only be given in the case of illness or emergency reasons. Such excuses as prior personal travel plans and extra-curricular commitments are not legitimate reasons. If you were ill, you must get UW Verification of Illness Form (the only acceptable document) from the day of absence and submit it within 3 days of absence. If you have an ongoing illness that prevents you from attending class, you must bring your documentation at the beginning of the term and inform the instructor. It is not possible to cover all absences at the end of the term with documentation that was supposed to be issued and submitted when the absence occurred.

Please note that “impersonation” (using your absent friend’s clicker to record their answers) is an academic offense and it will not be tolerated. Any case of impersonation will be reported to the Associate Dean’s office and it can result in a suspension penalty.

You must register your i>clicker in order to receive participation credit. I cannot match your answers to your name unless you register your i>clicker to your name using UW internal registration link. Please see instructions below.

Registering your i>clicker:

- In your LEARN course website under Content, there is a link titled “iClicker Registration”. Click this link to go to the UW iClicker Registration page. Here you will find an input box for new clicker ID registrations, and a list of clicker IDs you have already registered with the iClicker company. You can also remove an unwanted clicker ID on this page as well. Images on the page show you where to find your clicker ID on the back of your clicker.
- Registration is only needed once. A single registration will work for all your clicker courses and all terms.
- If you replace your clicker then register the new clicker ID number in the same manner as above.
- Your registration on official clicker webpage is not going to work for our purposes. Please use the UW internal registration listed above for registering your i>clicker.
- The clicker ID number is printed on the back of the clicker near the bottom, sometimes in very small type. An example is 12873CAB. Other numbers on the back like T24-RLR13 or 6495A-RLR13 are not clicker IDs.
- If your clicker ID has worn off, then take your clicker back to the textbook store and the staff will identify it. Clicker IDs never use the capital letter O (Oh) or lowercase letter L, but the similar looking numerals 0 (zero) or 1 (one) may be part of your Clicker ID.

- FAQ for students about clickers can be found on the following link:

Communication

I will be available during the office hours. You can also talk to me after class. I will check e-mails regularly during the day. You should not expect to hear from me evenings or weekends.

- Please use emails for administrative matters only. I will be available during office hours, or by appointment, to discuss course material.
- All e-mail communication sent from students to instructors (including TAs), and from students to staff, must originate from the student’s own UWaterloo e-mail account. This policy protects confidentiality and confirms the identity of the student. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that communication is sent to the university from an UWaterloo account. If an instructor becomes aware that a communication has come from an alternate address, the instructor may not reply at his or her discretion.
- Electronic devices – including electronic dictionaries – are NOT permitted in exams. The only exception is a standard (i.e. non-programmable) calculator.
- Announcements, grades, lecture slides, information on exams, teaching assistants assigned to this section of this course, and other course materials will be posted on to LEARN. Check LEARN daily. Any changes and critical information will be posted on LEARN. You are responsible for making yourself aware of any changes made to the course by checking LEARN daily.

Examination Policy

Exam papers must be submitted in whole and on time in the exam room. Exam papers

- (a) not submitted on time,
- (b) submitted with missing pages,
- (c) submitted elsewhere, with the exception of students with permission to write in the Assess Ability Office,
- (d) not received at all will receive a grade of zero regardless of the reason.

It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they write exams in the location, date, and time assigned to their sections. Students writing exams in the wrong section are considered not writing exams at all and will receive a zero mark.

Missing a Midterm Exam

Missing a midterm will automatically result in a grade of zero for that midterm. A consideration for missed exams will only be given in the case of illness or emergency reasons. Such excuses as prior personal travel plans and extra-curricular commitments are not legitimate reasons.

If you were ill, you must get UW Verification of Illness Form (the only acceptable document) dated at the day of the exam. Students who miss either or both midterm exams with verification of illness are eligible to write the CUMULATIVE (final) exam which will carry the weight of the missed exam(s). Students who write the midterm exams are not eligible to write the final exam and shifting any weight from midterms to final exam is NOT negotiable. The cumulative final exam applies to students who missed either one or both midterm exams due to legitimate reasons such as illness or emergency. The illness form must be obtained the day of the exam and submitted within 3 days of the exam. This remedy is a privilege and not a right. No additional assignments or work will be assigned to improve the marks. Students will receive a mark of zero on a missed test without the UW Verification of Illness Form. The midterm exam schedule has been set and will not be changed.

Course Modification Warning

The instructor and university reserve the right to modify elements of the course during the term. The university may change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances. If either type of modification becomes necessary, reasonable notice and communication with the students will be given with explanation and the opportunity to comment on changes. It is the responsibility of the student to check his/her UWaterloo email and course website on LEARN daily during the term and to note any changes.
