

3.2 MAIN PATHS OVERVIEW

The unique nature of this organic site provides the backbone to the multiple paths identified. These paths help to delineate key routes within the University of Waterloo campus and also establish regions surrounding these paths to help make directional information easier to understand.

