Course Description
How should Christians respond to violence? What choices do we face as we seek to be faithful to Jesus as we make decisions about sexuality, healthcare, and politics, for example? What values and beliefs should shape the communities where we debate and discern appropriate choices? We will engage these and other questions as we examine the methods, sources, and norms used for Christian ethics, as well as the interplay between Christian thought and practice in the context of contemporary issues facing church and society.

Learning Outcomes of the Course
By the end of the term, students should be able to:

1) use the basic vocabulary of Christian moral discourse with greater ease and precision in a variety of contexts, including personal, ecclesial, and societal realms;
2) situate ethical arguments in concrete communities of interpretation, while being attentive to the persons and relationships of power present therein;
3) engage effectively with people of different theological and ethical perspectives; and
4) draw upon their knowledge and skills in ethical discernment in the pursuit of a faithful and creative moral response to the concrete issues they encounter in their daily lives.

Learning Outcomes of the Program
The course will also help students meet the following MTS program learning outcomes:

1) develop skills in effective writing, speaking, reading, listening, and teaching;
2) demonstrate knowledge of Christianity from a variety of disciplinary, theological, contextual, and experiential perspectives;
3) engage scholarship in the relevant fields of theological studies through research and critical analysis of primary sources and contemporary scholarly debates;
4) interpret Christian traditions in light of present contexts;
5) engage issues of justice and peace, and attend to voices of the marginalized;
6) nurture personal formation through practices such as self-reflection, openness to others, leadership training, faith development, and participation in a community of learning; and
7) enhance the capacity for life-long learning.
Course Assessment

Class Participation
The success of a graduate seminar depends on your level of preparedness and participation. For this reason, your full presence and participation is required. Prior approval must be obtained from the instructors to miss any class time.

Excellent class participation means attending class and demonstrating a thorough and critical understanding of the readings evidenced by participation in classroom conversations. Excellent class participation also means being self-reflective and respectful in posing questions, and open and honest when giving and receiving feedback with each other. Listening and speaking to one another in ways that withhold judgment and demonstrate compassion are what each of us, instructors and students, are asked to strive for.

Please note that it is difficult to be present to each other if we are checking personal electronic message; for this reason, we will only use our electronic devices during class time for class-related work.

Additional Assignment Instructions
Detailed instructions will be provided for each individual assignment. They must be uploaded to the appropriate Waterloo LEARN dropbox by noon on the due date. Late assignments will be assessed an automatic penalty of 3% per calendar day if alternative arrangements have not been made.

Citation of sources must conform to The Chicago Manual of Style. See Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertation: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers, 8th edition (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2013), or Chicago Manual of Style Citation Guide.

Instructor Responsibilities
Dr. Penner will lead all class sessions and grade all assignments in the first half of the course leading up to February 15, the due date for her pregnancy. Mr. Buttrey will lead all class sessions and grade all assignments in the second half of the course. Every assignment will be graded according to a rubric designed by both instructors, and your final grade will be decided by both instructors together. Please direct questions about different parts of the course to the relevant instructor.
Readings
Assigned readings for each class are highlighted in the weekly course outline and course bibliography that follows. Beyond the one required text, all can be accessed electronically.

UW Policies on Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity: In order to maintain a culture of academic integrity, members of the University of Waterloo are expected to promote honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. See the UWaterloo Academic Integrity webpage and the Arts Academic Integrity webpage for more information.

Discipline: A student is expected to know what constitutes academic integrity, to avoid committing academic offences, and to take responsibility for his/her actions. A student who is unsure whether an action constitutes an offence, or who needs help in learning how to avoid offences (e.g., plagiarism, cheating) or about “rules” for group work/collaboration should seek guidance from the course professor, academic advisor, or the Undergraduate Associate Dean. When misconduct has been found to have occurred, disciplinary penalties will be imposed under Policy 71 – Student Discipline. For information on categories of offenses and types of penalties, students should refer to Policy 71 - Student Discipline. For typical penalties check Guidelines for the Assessment of Penalties.

Grievance: A student who believes that a decision affecting some aspect of his/her university life has been unfair or unreasonable may have grounds for initiating a grievance. Read Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances, Section 4. When in doubt, please be certain to contact the department’s administrative assistant who will provide further assistance.

Appeals: A decision made or penalty imposed under Policy 70 - Student Petitions and Grievances (other than a petition) or Policy 71 - Student Discipline may be appealed if there is a ground. A student who believes he/she has a ground for an appeal should refer to Policy 72 - Student Appeals.

Accommodation for students with learning differences: The Access Ability Services office, located on the first floor of Needles Hall extension (1401), collaborates with all academic departments to arrange appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities without compromising the academic integrity of the curriculum. If you require academic accommodations to lessen the impact of your disability, please register with the AS office at the beginning of each academic term.

Accommodation for Illness: A medical certificate presented in support of an official petition for relief from normal academic requirements must provide all of the information requested on the “University of Waterloo Verification of Illness” form or it will not be accepted. More information can be obtained from Health Services and the form is available in pdf: https://uwaterloo.ca/health-services/student-medical-clinic/services/verification-illness

The Writing Centre: Writing Centre staff offer one-on-one support in planning assignments and presentations, using and documenting research, organizing and structuring papers, and revising for clarity and coherence. Make an appointment or drop in at the Library for quick questions or feedback. To book a 50-minute appointment and to see drop-in hours, visit www.uwaterloo.ca/writing-centre

Mental Health Support:
All of us need a support system. The faculty and staff in Arts encourage students to seek out mental health supports if they are needed.
